What's Worth Protecting?

Not everyone has a fortune in bonds to store away in a Safe Deposit Box.

But practically everyone has things of great value—things one cannot afford to lose. A Safe Deposit Box is the place for them.

The small cost of a safe deposit box makes its protection more than worth while for your own valuables.

We have just installed another new section. Let us show them to you.

How heavy is the weight of opinion?

YOU can't measure public opinion in pounds, but there is no doubt that it does carry weight. On many occasions it may tip the scales between success and failure.

And when you wear the suit we've just dry cleaned, the weight of opinion is always on your side. Other folks think more of you—you think more of yourself. Which makes two opinions that are worth money to you.

GROWTH

This firm started shipping in a small way in 1916, with Wm. S. Duckwall selling the fruit in the East. Our growth and the volume of our shipments have been gradual but steady.

From a few cars sent to one market, we are now shipping to all parts of the United States, and to a number of foreign countries. Our brand is known in these markets, and our Trade Mark registered. This business is generally done direct, and this system tends each year to increase volume handled in this way, as the result of savings effected by buyers in distant markets.

We are buying for cash. Are you interested? We are prepared to furnish necessary supplies till harvest and buy for cash before picking time.

BIG CROWD SEES TRAINS

STOCK PROFITS SPECIAL ATTRACTS

Treat Lake Ranchers See Demonstration Train of Rail Line Handed by O. A. C. Experts

Union Pacific officials and faculty members of the Oregon Agricultural college who were here Monday with the "Stock Profits Special," which made its initial stop at Hood River, declared that they were heartened by the warm reception from Hood River business folk and orchardists. A large delegation of ranchers were present from Kllickitat county, Washington, many of them having driven from Trout Lake, 30 miles away.

Representation of business folk of the city was 100 per cent, and orchardists were gathered at the demonstration train by the hundreds, although weather was ideal for spraying and other work in fruit tracts.

The personnel of officials with the train were: Union Pacific System—C. C. Gignoux, assistant supervisor of agriculture; W. A. Cundiff, general passenger agent; Dan E. Clark, livestock agent; James Corbett, assistant superintendent and Louis Voser, exhibit superintendent.

Oregon Agricultural College—P. M. Brandt, head of department of dairy husbandry; F. L. Ballard, state county agent leader; N. C. Jamison, extension specialist in dairymen; D. T. Simons, head of the department of veterinary medicine; H. A. Lindgren, extension specialist in animal husbandry; A. W. Oliver, assistant professor of animal husbandry; and J. O. Burtner, college news service.

Miscellaneous—O. M. Plummer, manager of Pacific International Livestock Exposition; J. D. Mickle, state dairy and food commissioner; Geo. F. Peirson, president of Livestock State Bank, Portland; F. L. Westover, northwest representative of American Guernsey Cattle club; Ivan H. Loughary, representing the American Jersey Cattle club; R. E. Everly, representing the American Holstein-Friesian association; George N. Angell, editor of the Oregon Farmer; and Roy Stewart, of the Oregon Journal.

The Hood River Creamery, the directors of which took an active part in the greetings extended the train here, presented the staff of the train with ice cream for luncheon Monday.

GREELEY AGAIN DENIES HOOD TRAMWAY

A policy of "moving cautiously and making sure that we are right before natural conditions are disturbed" caused him to decide again against permitting construction of a cableway to the summit of Mount Hood, Colonel William B. Greeley, United States forester, wrote in a letter received last week by C. M. Granger, district forester in Portland.

This letter reaffirms Colonel Greeley's stand taken in a letter of March 5. An appeal may be taken to the secretary of agriculture by the Cascade Development company, which proposed construction of the lift.

After announcing his first decision on March 5, Colonel Greeley held a public hearing in Portland April 15.

A two and one-half mile inclined cable railway from the end of the automobile highway at Cloud Cap Inn to the highest point on Cooper spur, and an aerial cable from a tower on the spur to another tower on the summit of the peak were proposed.

"There is no doubt," says Colonel Greeley's letter, "that the proposed tram and cableway would attract many visitors to Mount Hood and enable many more people to reach the summit than can do so now.

"On the other hand, there is a strong sentiment against a commercial and mechanical development of this nature on the mountain.

"There can be no absolute determination of the merits of this case. It is a question of judgment as between different forms of public service and different elements of social value.

"I believe it necessary to move slowly and cautiously in entering the more scenic and beautiful areas of the national forests with mechanical forms of transportation when economic resources or the requirements of inter-community traffic do not compel it."

Parkdale Festival Called Off

Owing to the limited space on the grade school grounds, the Parkdale Strawberry Festival will not be held this year. The five-acre tract of the high school has been secured to white clover and next year it will be in the pink of condition for the staging of the festival, which as the show people say, "will be bigger and better than ever."

Grade School Track Meet

Entries have been made from every grade school in the county in the annual track meet to be held at Gibson field, athletic grounds of the Hood River high school next Saturday. The high school track team members and their coach, E. O. Garber, will manage the meet.

The meet will start promptly at 10 a. m.

ASSOCIATION DISTRIBUTES $150,000

Checks aggregating $150,000 were forwarded last week to members by the Apple Growers Association on the third cash distribution for the year. A final distribution of an approximate $225,000 will be made later in the season. A January netton reached $315,000, and in March the association mailed checks totaling $185,000 to growers. Advances to growers for harvesting supplies reached $650,000, and another $1,000,000 had been advanced for supplies purchased last season.

This brings the cooperative's totals on the 1926 fruit crop to date to the sum of $2,900,000.

Acree's Cow is Cited

Nehalem Beauty's Treasure, a young Jersey cow, owned and tested by T. H. Acree, has been awarded a silver medal by the American Jersey Cattle club. She was started on this test at the early age of one year and 11 months and she produced 485.12 pounds of butterfat and 8100 pounds of milk. She carried calf for 177 days of the ten months. Treasure is a daughter of the well-known medal of merit, gold, and silver medal cow, Goldie's Nehalem Beauty.

Pomona Grange Next Tuesday

The Pomona Grange will be held at the Odell Grange hall Tuesday, May 3. Dinner will be served at noon. The afternoon will be taken up with a literary and musical program. H. H. Klyb, of the Portland chamber of commerce, will be the principal speaker. There will also be a night session.

Moore Opens City Auto Park

N. H. Moore, former Idahoan, who last fall leased from the city the municipal automobile park, has opened the place for the season, and is catering to motoring tourists and local picnic parties. Mr. Moore has equipped a number of cabins and has otherwise improved the park the past winter.

LOCAL MEN SEE CUTLER MACHINE

M. O. Downing, A. J. Graff, Howard L. Shoemaker and Hayes L. Rickford were in Yalima last week to see a demonstration of the new Cutler apple washing machine. The new machine was used on Winesaps that had been held over from last fall. The fruit, which had been given six cover sprays and a calyx spray, showed an accumulation of .97 before washing. After passing through the bath, which also cleansed the apples of dirt and clinging alfalfa, they showed .0073. Many of the apples were windfalls. They were covered with a winter's accumulation of wax. They came from the bath in a beautiful condition. While some moisture remained on the stem and calyx ends, it was far less than anyone had anticipated, and no one expressed a fear that it would cause trouble. Indeed, boxes of apples that had been through the bath a day or two days previously were opened and inspected. They were found perfectly dry. The new bath machine, according to C. M. Sheppard, local representative of Cutler Bros., will be shown here within the next two weeks. Definite announcement of its coming will be given in The Glacier next week.

HOOD RIVER VS. DUFUR

Ernest C. Smith, accepting the invitation from Mr. Pier on behalf of the city, assured the visitors from Roseburg that Hood River Valley will send not only its marching band but 9,000 (the total population) to join in swelling the enthusiastic crowds of spectators on the street sidewalks of the great park.

Other speakers were: Lowell Nickelsen, representing the drum and bugle corps; Roderick McRae, new manager of the Pacific Power & Light Co. and the newest member of the Guides; Joe D. Thomson, peak of the Guides, was toastmaster.

Clyde Simpson represented the band on the program.

Vocal solos, which won encores, were given by Albert T. Case and Mrs. Norvia C. Coulter. Dinner selections were rendered by the Sunset Entertainers, an eight-piece orchestra directed by Harry E. Fall. Through a regrettable oversight the Hood River Mandolin club's participation was missed by the banqueters.

Mrs. Temple's Telegram Tonight

Talent of the West Side will be seen tonight at Rockford Grange hall in "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," dramatic vehicle for the annual play of the folk of this district. The Rockford play each year creates a valleywide attention. Many folk from the city will motor to the West Side community hall for the event.

400 ODD FELLOWS AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

More than 400 members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs gathered from all mid-Columbia points at the Asbury Methodist church Sunday night to celebrate the 100th birthday anniversary of the fraternal order. A special sermon was delivered by Rev. Henry Young, pastor of the church, who is past grand master of Oregon. The Willamette University Girls' Glee club, which had been here for a recital Saturday night, remained over in order to give special numbers of the Odd Fellow celebration.

Grand Master V. T. Jackson, of Roseburg, and Miss Dora Sexton, grand president of the Rebekah Assembly, of The Dalles, were here for the birthday party.

LARCH MOUNTAIN TRIP APPEALING

Twelve Crag Rats and friends, who on Sunday left Multnomah Falls at midnight and ascended over the winding trail to Larch mountain to see the sun rise over Mt. Hood are staging the praises of the scenic hike. The recreationists were under the leadership of Fred W. Donnerberg, scenic photographer, who has visited most of the remote wild and scenic places of the mid-Columbia.

"I have never seen the Larch mountain trail more appealing than at the present time," said Mr. Donnerberg. The upper reaches Sunday were covered with lots of snow, but the blanket was in perfect condition for hiking, and the party declared the hike one of the most pleasant ever undertaken.

A. E. Anderson said the Larch mountain is so appealing that plans will be made for a repeat excursion there at an early date.

The following made the hike: Miss Mary Radcliff, Miss Irene Fosstelle, Miss Fern Greenwood, Miss Florence Greenes, Miss Barbara McDonald, Lewis Hart, A. E. Anderson, Walter J. Koehn, Arne Fukari, Arne Annah, A. McD. Gladwin and Fred W. Donnerberg.

WEISDANGER TO GIVE TALK TONIGHT

Albert Weisdanger, chief ranger of the Eagle Creek Forest Service station, will deliver an address this evening at Library hall here, telling how the service maintains its corps of trained men at all points in national forests to prevent summer fires. Mr. Weisdanger will illustrate his lecture with a motion picture reel and with stereopticon views.

Hood River Crag Rats, mountaineering organization similar to the Mammas, are sponsoring the appearance of Mr. Weisdanger. The Crag Rats will cooperate with the forestry service in the prevention of forest fires the coming summer.

FREY OPENS FINE NEW SERVICE STATION

C. A. Frey has opened to the public a fine, new service station at the corner of Twelfth and May streets. The new building, including rest rooms for men and women, is of frame construction, the exterior finished with felt stone.

Mr. Frey, who will be in charge of the station himself, is handling the sheet line. He has stocked a full line of oils and accessories. He is constructing a washrack for the use of his patrons who desire to clean their own cars. A crankcase service will be provided.

Mr. Frey will handle the Badger line of tires.

MANY AT END DINNER DANCE

ROSE FESTIVAL INVITATION GIVEN

Pier and Grace Tallier and Sam Hoover Represent Hood River

At one of the most enthusiastic community gatherings ever held in Hood River, the City of Apples Monday night pledged its utmost support to the "Big Sister" Portland at the 1927 Rose Festival. Sponsored by the chamber of commerce, the Hood River Guides, the valley's uniformed hospitality and booster organization, the Hood River Crag Rats, mountaineering body, the American Legion drum and bugle corps and the Knights of Pythias band, with the wives and sweethearts of members, gathered at a dinner dance at the dining room of the Mt. Hood hotel. The dinner was served by the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion. About 175 were present.

Sylvester C. Pier, one of the directors of the Rose Festival association, brought to Hood River a formal invitation to participate in the Rose Festival. He declared that the annual festa of the City of Roses has grown into a statewide event. He cited the working and planning necessary to bring to an auspicious perfection the great celebration.

The Rose festival actually arrived, according to Mr. Pier, when plans were set into effect for the presentation of the "Rosearia," depicting the development throughout the ages of the rose, the flower of Oregon's metropolis. With the construction of the new Multnomah field stadium and the addition of many improvements, Mr. Pier said, the "Rosearia" of this year will be far superior to that of 1925.

Richard J. Grace, Portland architect and technical director of the Rose festival, told of the magnitude of the great pageant and the volume of material needed in its production. New features for the 1927 pageant, he declared, are too many to be mentioned, and he declared that a staff of trained men and women is now busy engaged in the most elaborate preparations in the history of a Portland Rose festival.

The chamber of commerce was represented by Truman Butler, who voiced the praise of the community for the efforts being put forth by the four organizations, which will send 100 men to Portland in a musical and marching body.

Ernest C. Smith, accepting the invitation from Mr. Pier on behalf of the city, assured the visitors from Roseburg that Hood River Valley will send not only its marching band but 9,000 (the total population) to join in swelling the enthusiastic crowds of spectators on the street sidewalks of the great park.
