To Our Country's Defenders

Out ahead—guiding America today—is the light of memory of those who have fought for this country. Their example, their sacrifices, are a beacon on the course of justice, liberty, right government.

As we mark Memorial Day—both the living and the dead of America's wars should inspire us to new ideals to make our country greater.

This institution will not be open Monday, May 30, in observance of Memorial Day.

"And, gentlemen of the jury...."

DID you ever see a lawyer wear overalls while facing a jury? He can't afford to, for he knows that the impression he makes on them has a lot to do with the verdict they bring in.

Every person you meet is a jury of one. And one of the best methods of getting a favorable verdict is to let us dry clean your suits. You will look successful—you will feel successful—you will be successful.

GROWTH

This firm started shipping in a small way in 1916, with Wm. S. Duckwall selling the fruit in the East. Our growth and the volume of our shipments have been gradual but steady.

From a few cars sent to one market, we are now shipping to all parts of the United States, and to a number of foreign countries. Our brand is known in these markets, and our Trade Mark registered. This business is generally done direct, and this system tends each year to increase volume handled in this way, as the result of savings effected by buyers in distant markets.

We are buying for cash. Are you interested? We are prepared to furnish necessary supplies till harvest and buy for cash before picking time.

PROGRAM FOR MEMORIAL DAY

NATION'S HERO DEAD HONORED
Grand Army, Spanish-American War Veterans and Legionnaires to Participate in Parade

(By Rev. Schuyler Pratt)
Memorial Day honor to the comrades of 1890-65 will be signalled in Hood River this year by the active participation of more individuals and organizations than formerly. The number of active comrades decreases, but their recognition and affection increases. The memorial church service will be held at Riverside church, 11 a. m. Sunday, May 28, with the comrades of Canby Post No. 16, G. A. R., and Canby Relief Corps in attendance. The sermon will be preached by Rev. F. Gordon Hart.

Memorial Day, Monday, will find the members of all organizations participating in the exercises, gathering at 8:30 a. m., the Relief Corps at the Hood River bridge for their service in honor of those who died at sea, and others at Fifth and Cascade streets. The beautiful naval ceremony will be conducted by Mrs. Ruth Cross, president of the W. R. C., with the assistance of the officers, Mesdames Ada Tewksberry, senior vice; Julia Coe, junior vice; Alida Shoemaker, chaplain; Iva Scoobe, secretary; Ida J. Witt, treasurer; Pearl Upson, conductor; Eva Ray, assistant conductor; Ella Wood, guard; Belle McCurdy, assistant guard; Corran Stranahan, patriotic instructor; Edith Steinhoff, musician; Cora Pomroy, press correspondent; and Josephine Bucklin, Clara Miller, Mattie Emery, Cora Barton, color bearers. Mrs. Jennie C. Bentley and Mrs. Iva R. Scoobe are past department presidents.

The Sons of Veterans, organized during the year with 15 members, will care for the transportation of the G. A. R. comrades from their homes, in the parade and ceremony at Idlewild cemetery. W. L. Howe is commander; C. U. Dakin, senior vice-commander; J. C. Richards, junior vice commander; W. I. Clark, secretary-treasurer; T. F. Johnson, A. B. Cash and W. W. Foss, council.

The memorial parade will be led by the national colors, followed by the Drum and Bugle Corps, the Firing Squad, and the other members of the American Legion, and the Spanish War Veterans. Then come the Camp Fire Girls, the Boy Scouts, the G. A. R. comrades, the Relief Corps, and the Gold Star mothers, in cars, and the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion.

The line of march will be east on Cascade from Fifth to Fourth, south to Oak, east to Front, south to State streets. There the Relief Corps will be met, following the services at the bridge, and the augmented body will proceed west on State street and by Ninth, Eugene and Twelfth streets to Idlewild cemetery. There the ranks will be opened, for the G. A. R. to lead to the memorial spot.

Following the American Legion luncheon this Friday the committee will visit the cemetery to choose, with the G. A. R. and Relief Corps members, the places for the services. The graves will be marked at that time with the American flags which point the honor to the warriors commemorated. The G. A. R. will hold a final meeting on Saturday evening to complete their arrangements. There are about 64 graves of Civil War comrades, 2 of the Spanish War, and 13 of World War Veterans in the valley.

The Spanish War Veterans have no organization, but will participate, regularly in the fellowship of the Legion. Fielding S. Kelly representing them. Others are Chas. Rathbun, Roy D. Smith, A. W. Isbell, Dave Piles, Geo. Idlewild cemetery. There the ranks Robertson (now of California), Kerri, and Chas. La Rourke and G. R. Frey, who are also World War men.

AUXILIARY WOMEN WILL SELL POPPIES

May 28 is the National Poppy Day for the American Legion Auxiliary. The Hood River Unit is selling poppies on that date. Be prepared to buy your poppy and then remember to wear it on Memorial Day. Buy it to give assistance to the disabled buddy, who is still living the war. Wear it in loving memory of those who gave their lives. Poppies are being sold by the millions all over this nation on that date. These poppies are made by the disabled buddy. The profits go 100 per cent to rehabilitation and child welfare work.

The local group is conducting the sale with the aid of a group of Camp Fire girls. Mrs. John McLean is general chairman for the poppy day. Mrs. O. J. Banks has charge of the sales for the day. The Hood River Drug Co. is sales headquarters. The merchants are cooperating with the Unit in using the poppies for their Memorial Day windows. Poppy wreaths will be placed, by the Auxiliary, on the graves of the ex-service men.

In Flanders Land, where countless
And you, who go
About your play, so careless of the day,
Can hardly know,
The blaze of glory that they shed,
On our brave dead
Who silent lie, beneath a foreign sky.

To-day, in reverence you wear
A poppy fair,
Crosses stand—
So silent stand;
They will not sleep, nor we forgive,
If those who live,
Neglect to wear a crimson poppy fair,
And breathe a prayer.

NEW SKAGGS SAFEWAY STORE TO OPEN

The new Skaggs Safeway store will be opened Saturday. Crews of men have been busy all week, arranging tons of high quality grocery goods on shelves. The new store, occupying the east end of the Mt. Hood Motor Co. building, is one of the neatest and most conveniently arranged in the city. Chas. L. McCubbin has arrived here and will be manager of the new store, the number of which is 497 of the Pacific northwest unit. The Skaggs chain now has, however, upward of 1,000 stores. They cover California and extend as far east as Nebraska.

"We extend a cordial invitation to all the people of the Hood River trade territory to visit our store next Saturday and get acquainted," said Mr. McCubbin. "We will inaugurate our business by offering the highest quality, nationally advertised grocery merchandise at the best possible prices that can be made. The Skaggs stores pride themselves on service and quality. Our goods go forth to our customers under a guarantee. Henceforth every dollar we sell will be just like opening day. We will try and make the dollars of Mt. Hood folk by the biggest possible dollar's worth."

"We are here in Hood River to make our home. We are Hood River folk with the interests of Hood River at heart, and we want to get acquainted with Hood River people."

District Manager Tucker, of Portland, and Country Supervisor Berry will be here at the store for the opening.

SHERIFF WOOD IS WELL KNOWN HERE

Sheriff Lester M. Wood, of Clark county, Washington, who was shot and killed Sunday afternoon in a battle with alleged moonshiners 25 miles north of Vancouver, was well known here. Sheriff Wood was a nephew of the late J. M. Wood, local merchant, and had visited Hood River frequently. First news of the tragedy was carried to his aunt, Mrs. J. M. Wood, Monday by the Glacier. The news of his death came as a severe shock as it did to E. C. Ziegler, former Vancouver banker, who recently removed to a valley orchard place. Mrs. Ziegler paid a high tribute to Sheriff Wood, saying:

"I have never known a young man of finer qualities. I was an intimate friend of Sheriff Wood, and before his election to office was frequently with him and his father, W. S. Wood, when the latter conducted auction sales. The death of the young sheriff must be a terrible shock to the people of Clark county."

Sheriff Wood, who was elected last fall the first time he had ever taken any part in politics, assumed office January 10 and has since been conducting a ruthless war on liquor violators.

The sheriff's office has for some time had a hunt on for a still, declared to have been operated at the head of the Dole valley by the Baker gang. On Saturday deputy sheriffs seized a lead of 30 gallons of moonshine and arrested Douglas L. Lowery, who is held in jail at Vancouver. The sheriff felt certain the liquor came from the Baker still, and accordingly Sunday morning he dispatched Deputies Johnson, Kemp and Jones out to raid the place.

Lester M. Wood, 33, was born and reared in Clark county, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Wood, pioneers of that region. The father has been a farmer and is now engaged in the furniture business at Vancouver and is a widely known auctioneer.

The son graduated from the Vancouver high school and has been engaged in business with his father. He took an active part in church work and was superintendent of the First Baptist church Sunday school. He had never been in politics until last year, when he was induced to make the race for sheriff, owing to the dissension in the Republican party. As a result he won easily.

Besides his parents the sheriff leaves his widow and four young sons, the oldest about ten years.

Nels Nelson, manager of the Oregon Lumber company's branch at Baker, was here last week visiting friends.

CLOUD CAP INN PLAN MATURES

CHAMBER FORUM HEADQUARTERS
New Unit of Mountain Hostels Will Cost $64,000—Crags Rate $10 a Week—Highest Grade

Members of the chamber of commerce at a forum luncheon at the Columbia Gorge hotel Tuesday were given an assurance by Dorsey B. Smith, manager of the Cloud Cap Inn company that work on the new hostelry would be started by the middle of June. Excavation will probably start before the snow is clear of the Coopers Spur lateral road between Homestead and Cloud Cap, Mr. Smith stated.

Mr. Smith announced that plans and specifications for the new Cloud Cap Inn have been materially modified. Whereas it was originally proposed that no work would begin and no money would be paid in until the sum of $100,000 was assured, Mr. Smith said that it is now proposed to construct a first unit of the hostelry that will cost only $64,000. Whereas the original plans called for a two-story structure, the proposed new unit will be only one story, a low, rambling structure, which will rise about 30 feet south of the old inn. Mr. Smith said that the kitchen and dining room would be rushed to completion first, in order that accommodations may be afforded this summer. The 16 bedrooms, part of the first unit, will be completed this fall. The old inn's lodging accommodations will be utilized this year. Each two rooms of the new unit will have a bathroom.

Mr. Smith declared that the hostelry as planned will pay its way. In five years' time, he predicted, with assurance, Cloud Cap Inn stock will be paying a good dividend. Indeed, he declared that the investment will pay for itself from the beginning.

Mr. Smith, who is president of the Portland Rotary club, said he had missed a meeting of that organization for the first time in two years, just to get here to address the Hood River folk on Cloud Cap Inn and to express his appreciation of the efforts of the Crags Rate in getting the Union Pacific officials to the hostelry last week.

He praised the writer of the story in the current issue of the Apple City Progress, declaring the story was correct, except in minor instances. Mr. Smith added to the fund of reminiscences of that famous jaunt up the mountain through a heavy snowstorm last week. He declared that the weather would have to be blamed for whatever failure may be attributed to the venture.

Mr. Smith predicted that eventually the Union Pacific system will take over Cloud Cap Inn and utilize it to attract tourists traveling to the Pacific northwest.

The new manager of Cloud Cap, who was introduced by Leslie Butler, the latter declaring him to know more about Mount Hood than anyone in Hood River, said that inquiries already coming in from eastern tourist agencies insure a patronage that will keep the new hostelry crowded. He read a part of a letter from a visitor who was in the Pacific Coast scenic communities last year and who declared the two-hour ride up over the Columbia River highway and to Cloud Cap Inn even more interesting than trips to Bryce canyon, Zion and Yosemite and Crater Lake national parks.

CAPTAIN NELSON RECALLS 1894 FLOOD

Captain Charles Nelson, retired Columbia River transportation man, who now resides at Cascade Locks, recalled the freshest of 1894 while here Saturday. At that time Captain Nelson was a member of the crew of the Regulator, which was on the mid-Columbia bar run, while the Dalles City plied between Cascade Locks and Portland.

"We landed during that flood at the foot of First street, right at the Mt. Hood hotel," Mr. Nelson said. "The high water put the O. R. & N. Co. out of commission, and we had to handle the mails and passengers of the rail line. We were put to it in getting the Hood River strawberry crop to market, or rather that part of it made possible for us to haul."

"I'll never forget my first meeting with the late C. A. Bell. He had a fine strawberry crop. He had sold some of the berries for Rocky mountain delivery. The price was good. We went to carry the fruit to the Dalles, where it was picked up by wagons and taken on above Celilo. Mr. Bell had all arrangements completed. Two wagons were ready at the river. But his drivers did not know the country, and instead of getting to Celilo they became lost down in Grass Valley."

Captain Nelson came here primarily to attend the Friday evening frolic of the Elks lodge.

Pythian Notes
It is planned to visit the Pythian home in Vancouver, Wash., in a caravan on June 23. The band will go at this time and give the guests there one of the musical treats of the year. Every message that has come from the home is "When is the Hood River band coming down?" A large crowd is expected and a picnic dinner will be held on the home grounds. Each group going is asked to take their basket lunch along. Coffee will be provided at the home. The committee on arrangements is composed of A. K. Stranahan, L. M. Baldwin and Percy Bucklin, who will arrange for transportation and the program.

Tuesday, May 31, the Esquire rank will be exemplified and a lunch will be served after the work. A good turnout is planned for.

Carpenters and decorators were busy over the week end laying new base and otherwise improving the First National barber shop of L. S. Boyd.
