

HORSESHOE NEWS

(By D. W. Hall)

Last Sunday The Dalles cherry-picking baseball team came to Hood River and took a game away from the Hood River baseball aggregation by a score of 5 to 4, much to the disgust of the local batsman.

Delos, The Dalles pitcher, seemed to have the local batsmen in his sack all through the game. First he would throw a ball in the dirt in front of the plate, next he would try to throw one over the back stop, the third ball would probably be three or four feet behind the batter, while the next three would strike the batter out. If Delos "looked" like a pitcher, or "acted" like one, then I look and act like King Albert. However, his results were that of a pitcher, and when the game was over the scorekeeper, which was myself by the way, could find where the Hood River boys made only four hits. Can you imagine that? Four hits? Pffhaw!

In the first inning it looked like the Hood River boys were going to trot all over the cherry pickers and leave nothing showing but the pits. Well, Anderson, who was called to first by Vidman sacrificed him to second, and Garber reached first when The Dalles second baseman played "Hit Jas" with the ball. On the next ball thrown, Anderson slid into third in a cloud of dust, which resembled the scene of Ben Hur's chariot rounding the corner on the home stretch; the base umpire after due deliberation pronounced the sentence: "Safe."

The crowd was a usual hood. Smith then hit, scoring Anderson, while Jennings sacrificed Garber home. The first inning ended 2 to 0.

"Smiling" Tom Scott pitched the first five innings of the game and did a very good class of ball. The team behind him proved very poor support however, when it was in a pinch, and no matter how good the pitching it would be useless when several costly mugs are made in succession.

The spectators enjoyed themselves immensely by having a contest to see which group could reach the hardest. It was indeed thrilling to hear a hearty base boom out whenever a fly was hit: "Asaww he'll draw it!" Or a squeaky steel-chilled "enor break" the audience with: "That big handsome thinks he kin peech. Ha! Ha! Ha!"

The audience got their 50¢ worth of voice culture anyway.

If the Hood River team ever played a game here with the rosters puting for them in every pinch, boot or good play, urging them on, carrying their enthusiasm to every player and keeping him to the same emotional pitch as the crowd, I think the boys would fail.

Next Sunday the boys travel to Goldendale to take on the Hell-Cats on their own stamping grounds.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEWS

(From Apple City Progress)

It has been brought to our attention that one member of the Chamber of Commerce did not know that he was entitled to attend the Chamber of Commerce luncheon on Tuesday. The Forum is only the gathering of membership except the annual meeting. Every member of the Chamber of Commerce is cordially invited to the luncheons, presenting any question he may desire to the Forum. In turn it will be submitted to the board of directors who will act for the chamber. The general public is invited to attend all luncheons.

A. D. Moe gave a very interesting talk at the Chamber of Commerce Forum last Tuesday on his trip over the United States last winter. For those who are unable to make such a trip, a talk by someone like Mr. Moe is the next best. It's much more interesting than reading it in the paper.

With A. L. Anderson, chairman of the Mt. Hood Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, we motored 23 miles up the Mt. Hood Loop last Wednesday evening. At this point the highway has been washed out so the car could not be driven farther. We walked about a mile on the highway, where we ran into snow. We had our skills and skied for about three miles to Bennett Pass where we met the rotary working to clean the road. Good progress was being made. They had come three miles that day but much of the way had been free from snow. At Bennett Pass and for 2 1/2 miles this side they will plow through two to three feet of snow. Barring trouble the road should be opened by the time this is read.

An effort is being made to head the big rotary up the Coopers Spur road to Cloud Cap.

Met last Wednesday and went in a body to visit the Hood River Cannery. Mr. Cloud is a busy man and the cannery is a busy place at this time of year. Many are employed at the cannery but Mr. Cloud advised the committee that the labor problem was the hardest problem he had to deal with in fact he is required to ship a large portion of the berries to Portland because he is unable to secure the necessary help in Hood River. The industrial committee will investigate the labor question in an effort to be of some assistance to Mr. Cloud.

After the rush season Mr. Cloud promised to appear before the Chamber of Commerce Forum and talk on the canning question.

On June 23 delegates of the Pacific Coast Advertising Club will be escorted up Columbia River highway through Hood River Valley and over the Mount Hood Loop, provided same is open to travel) by the Advertising Club of Portland.

W. J. Hoffman, general chairman, in a letter addressed to Leslie Butler, asked if he would arrange for Hood River strawberries to be served the delegates for breakfast at Eagle Creek. The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce voted to cooperate with the Portland club in any way possible.

Passed Along

Once a fisherman was dying in his humble, lowly cot, And the Pastor sat beside him saying things that hit the spot. So that all his little terrors left the dying slumber heart.

And he said: "The journey's lonely, but I'm ready for the start."

"There is just one little matter that is fretting me," he sighed, "And perhaps I'd better tell it ere I cross the Great Divide."

I have got a string of stories I have been saving for him before. Stories of the ones I've captured and the ones that got away.

And I fear that when I tell them they are apt to stretch a mile. And I wonder when I'm wafled to that land that's free from guile.

If they'll let me tell my stories, if I try to tell them straight, Or will the Angels lose their temper then, and chase me thru the gate?"

Then the Pastor sat and pondered, for the question vexed him sore; Never such a weird conundrum had been asked of him before.

Yet the courage of conviction moved him soon to a reply, And he wished to fill the fisher with fair visions of the sky.

"You can doubtless tell fish stories," said the clergyman aloud, "But I'd stretch them very little if I'd Jonah's in the crowd."

The Hospital Committee of the Chamber met Thursday noon. A report was submitted to the effect that the hospital was full and that patients were being turned away. The committee feels there is a very urgent need for a new hospital and different propositions for getting a new hospital are being taken up and considered. Two more possible contributions of considerable amounts were reported, which is evidence of a growing interest and a desire for a new community hospital.

The following proposition will be submitted to the National Perishable Freight Committee by the International Apple Shippers Association: "When Back-Haul Involves 250 miles or less, no extra charge; when Back-Haul Involves more than 250 miles an extra charge will be assessed on the basis of 20% of the stated refrigeration charge applicable from the re-consignment point to ultimate destination."

The change if made will result in a benefit to Hood River growers. Telegraphic notice has been received by the Hood River Traffic Association from Senator Charles L. McNary of a public hearing to be held in Washington June 20th on the pending investigation of costs of the production of cherries. This meeting is the result of an application by cherry growers for a tariff on cherries resulting from competition caused by imported maraschino cherries.

When the merchants of Hood River were advised of the general plan for the Annual Legion Climb a general expression of approval and desire to help put it across was expressed. Business men agreed to help raise a fund to be used as cash prizes for different events to be staged. Prizes to be offered include several for the kiddies who enter in the Kids' Pet Parade Friday. Every kid is to receive something. With the money which is expected to be raised sufficient prizes can be offered to make it worth every kid's effort to enter the parade and win. Prizes for ski jumping and running on the mountain will attract national figures. Business men are asked by the committee in charge to be ready Tuesday morning with their small donation.

As chairman of the Legion Annual Climb we were invited to appear at the Rotary lunch at the Columbia Gorge hotel and give them a general idea of the plan for the Climb this year. The Rotary was invited to take some part. A committee composed of W. A. Hoekett, N. C. Conter and Walter Hoekert was appointed to cooperate.

Robert Parker Miles Gives Famous Lecture at Chautauque.

"Tallow Dips" the platform classic which will be given at the coming Chautauque by Dr. Robert Parker Miles is one of the most famous, if not the most famous lecture being given by any living man. Probably the late Russell H. Conwell's "Acres of Diamonds" is better known, but it is doubtful if any other speaker of modern times has had a wider audience than Dr. Miles with his famous "Tallow Dips."

Twenty years ago Arthur Brisbane, New York journalist, said to Robert Parker Miles, then pastor of the Ravenswood Presbyterian Church: "Give up your pastorate. Become religious editor for the New York Journal. Here's a real field for you, a ministry—with action!"

Later James Whitcomb Riley wrote a poem in which he made the following statement: "So we hazard the conjecture, That the best of a good lecture may best be made if measured of by 'Miles' title as special editor-in-chief and investigator for the New York Journal was not an empty one, for he was given absolute freedom in his battle for righteousness."

He whipped the American Tobacco Company to a standstill in a vigorous campaign against the sale of cigarettes to minors—and President James M. Cox, County Jail, traffic, checked white slavery, morally renovated the notoriously lude cent theatres of the day, and waged a relentless warfare against gambling. His investigations, personally and his powerful speech, made even more forcible by the cartoons of the late Homer Davenport, with whom he worked, will ever be a monument to the life and works of Robert Parker Miles.

His ministry, however, did not stop with his New York newspaper work. So great was his success in reaching men's hearts that he was sent on two tours around the world, and on these trips he gained admittance to, and had long talks with Gladstone, Balfour, Bismarck, Leo XIII, President Carnot, King Edward, Kaiser Wilhelm, and others, most of whom are now gathered to the grey shadows.

Christian Bible School Notes

The Vacation Bible school is going strong. The interest is very good and the attendance has exceeded all expectations. Fifty-three were enrolled the first week and more will join the second week. It is under the able direction of Mrs. Sutton, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Livingston, Rev. Schuyler Pratt, Lois Livingston, Mrs. Dovey, Mrs. Clymer, Gertrude Goin, Alpha Hathorn, Maxine Cash, Helen Hays and Ethel Dixon, and is divided into four departments. There is still a need for more workers, and any assistance will be gladly received.

The children's program at the church June 12 was well attended and each number of the program was enjoyed by all and showed hard work and perseverance by Mrs. J. I. Blagg and her committee. Nearly every pupil in the Bible school except the senior classes had some part. The offering was liberal and will be sent at once to help in repairing the steamboat Oregon.

The Loyal Bereans at their class meeting Tuesday evening made their plans and appointed a committee to entertain the Conference of Workers at the church Monday evening, June 27. Question for June 19: How does Zeitgeist affect our Bible school?

Naked Swimmers Fined

Swimming without bathing suits in a pond just off the Columbia River highway west of the city proved expensive for M. S. Munroe, 23, and Wm. Mason, 19, Portland youths, who were arrested Wednesday of last week and assessed a $50 fine each by Justice of the Peace Blagg. The men, who were taken into justice court through complaint of orchardists whose homes are along the highway, pleaded guilty to a formal charge of indecent exposure.

The fine assessed by Justice Blagg was the minimum under the law. The men were allowed to go free after two days in jail. Their previous record was good.
