1—Luke Lea, former senator from Tennessee (right), and his son, Luke Lea, Jr., in prison stripes at Raleigh, N. C., where they are serving sentences for fraud in a bank failure. 2—Mrs. W. E. Ochiltree, president of the American War Mothers, placing a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National cemetery on Mother's Day. 3—Members of the Bonus Army of 1934 in the chow line at their camp at Fort Hunt, Virginia, near Washington

David Lynn, architect (in front), showing to Senators David I. Walsh of Massachusetts and Tom Connally of Texas a model of the Capitol building in Washington as it will appear when it has been enlarged. As can be seen, it is planned to extend the central front portion of the building.

The people of Florida are justly proud of the rapid strides their state is making on the highway that leads back to prosperity. Just so the figures will not be boring, they are presented, with lines and charts, at Coral Gables as shown above.

BIRTH OF ROMANCE
He was spouting with great vigor against corporal punishment for boys, which he declared never did any good. "Take my own case," he exclaimed. "I was never caned but once in my life, and that was for speaking the truth."
"Well," retorted somebody in the audience, "it cured you."—Vart Hem.

Retort Courteous
She had just refused his invitation to ride in his car.
"I have driven that car for seven years, and never had a wreck," he defended warmly.
"You mean," said she, "that you have driven that wreck for seven years, and never had a car."

General Opinion
Percy Pinfeather—You may not think so, but some of the fellows think I've got a rattling good head on me.
Dolly Dill—I dare say you have. I've always considered you more or less rattle-brained.

Often Mentioned
A wife, waiting at her husband's office, began a conversation with the office boy.
"Does he ever talk about the cat, his favorite house pet, down here at the office?" the wife asked.
"Yes—he—does. He calls it battle-axe," the boy replied.

Brought a Lot of Grief
"What invention do you figure is one we best could do without?"
"The fountain pen—without it my name never would have gotten on a lot of dotted lines."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

FROCK FOR LITTLE ONE WILL PLEASE HER, AND MOTHER

PATTERN 9695

A small girl will look very sweet in this little dress. The yoke is scalloped in front and plain in back. There are little bows which tie the sleeves very smartly, and a cunning collar. Her mother can make the dress, omitting the lower part of the sleeves and the collar, as the small sketch shows. Use the pattern to make several different dresses; for example, it's cute made of a cotton print, and equally dainty in one of the pastel shades in plain silk or linen, or dimity.

Pattern 9695 may be ordered only in sizes 2, 4, 6, 8, and 10. Size 4 requires 2 1/4 yards 36-inch fabric and 1/4 yard contrasting.

Complete, diagrammed sew chart included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.

Send your order to Sewing Circle Pattern Department, 232 W. Eighteenth St., New York, N. Y.

NIBSEY

HIS FEE

The teacher heard a child crying, and rushed out to the playground to find the cause of the disturbance.

"What is the trouble?" she asked of little Jimmy, who stood calmly by, eating an orange.

"Billy took Fred's orange," explained the witness.

"And where is the orange?" asked the teacher.

"Oh, I have that," replied Jimmie. "You see, I am the lawyer."—Vancouver Province.

Sh'd Sell Ice to Byrd

Mother—What happened when that high-pressure salesman called today?

Daughter—Oh, I sold him father's old clothes and all the discarded furniture in the attic.—Detroit Free Press.

Hope Springs Eternal

Miss Slimmons—Why, you weighed yourself only an hour ago.

Miss Ada Pose—I know, but I've been fasting ever since and I thought I might have gone off some.

Her Mistake

Mother—And she didn't even consult Bradstreet's when he said he had lost his money?

Edith—Alas, no! With all a pure young girl's faith in her hero, she broke the engagement at once.—Brooklyn Eagle.
