CASCADE LOCKS By FAYE DOUVILLE

Dr. Fred Folsom and Louie Folsom had as weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fawcett, Miss Ada Boizera, Frank Tatham, Miss Alice Bell and William Bell, all of Portland.

Salmon are running again in the Columbia and a number of good catches have been reported within the past few days. Steelheads are appearing in limited number. But fishing is reported to be reasonably good on both sides of the river.

J. C. Roth, Mrs. Sylvia Spicer and son Billy, Wesley and 'Scotty,' the town's popular piano player, drove around the Mt. Hood loop Sunday. They reported a pleasant trip despite the heat and hot wind which annoyed them on much of the trip.

Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Wells spent Saturday and Sunday in the Mt. Adams country, up back of Carson. They report the road as being dusty but passable. Boys from the triple "C" camps are working on the road in that district and will have it in good condition by next spring. The doctor returned home with a fine mess of trout.

The Moore garage is fast becoming about the busiest spot in town, and the boys out there, after complaining all spring because there was no business are now complaining because they can't find time to sleep. Much of the business is coming from wrecks on the highway. Early Sunday morning they had to go out beyond Wyeth and untangle a Buick, a Chevrolet and a Nash which were rolled up together beside the highway. Two of the cars were from The Dalles. No one was seriously hurt.

VETERANS WILL SPONSOR BOUTS AMONG BOXERS

Series of Eliminations Start in Search for Champion of Bonneville Area.

A series of amateur boxing bouts will be held on the reservation at the dam under auspices of Veterans of Foreign Wars for the purpose of uncovering the champion of the Bonneville Dam area.

Entries are open to all men in the district, on both sides of the river from Wyeth to Multnomah Falls. Elimination contests will begin within a week or two, with trophies for prizes. Boxers desiring to enter their names have been invited to get in touch with Commander Hayes, at the government employment office, or if unable to see him personally mail in their names.

Weather permitting, the bouts will be held on one of the tennis courts at the dam near the administration building. Date of the first bouts will be announced within the next few days.

It is reported that there are quite a number of good boxers in the district, and now that the weather is becoming cooler it is expected that boxing and wrestling will claim considerable attention among the men employed on the dam.

Lloyd Cardwell were known about Caldwell, Idaho, as top hands on a cow ranch. Then they got to fooling around with the fiddle and in line drifted over to Portland, where they took to playing over the radio. Thousands of people came to know them and Mrs. Farmer and Mrs. Cardwell are the Sagebrush Wranglers. Now they are making their home in Cascade Locks, playing for dances when opportunity offers, and playing between spells at the Dew Drop Inn, where they dish up some lively music in the evening for guests who drift in and out of the restaurant.

Miss Lucile Cummins, Portland pianist and teacher, is opening a Piano studio at the home of Mrs. Lovell in this city and will be glad to arrange for lesson dates with pupils of either advanced or beginner stage. Schedule for Cascade Locks and Bonneville dates for Miss Cummins will be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. Throssell and baby daughter, Mrs. Jane Collins and Mrs. Mae Butcher, all of Roy, Wash., stopped in Cascade Locks last Friday to visit their cousin, Jack McCrary.

Will Stage Another Dance.

Dam Site Post No. 3051, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold another dance at the Bridge of the Gods hotel Wednesday night of next week. The veterans gave a dance two weeks ago at the Gods hotel, and it attracted a large crowd and everyone reported a pleasant evening.

As in the past, the organization will start the evening off with a keg of free beer, donated by Tyrell's Tavern at Bonneville.

The veterans have been steadily increasing their membership and hope to have 100 enrolled before the end of the month. This will make it one of the strong posts of the state.

BONNEVILLE

By Aino Ferrington

At the recent American Legion state convention held in Astoria, the Bonneville post won the Jim Kelly trophy, a silver cup, for the best float entered in the parade. The float was a miniature dam.

Mrs. D. J. Root has just undergone an operation on her leg.

The holidays brought many visitors to the Bonneville dam. Sunday there were 2100 and Monday 2200 people were on the view point.

The Columbia Construction company gave an invitational dinner Thursday evening to celebrate the completion of their new mess hall.

The National Commissary company unloaded a boat load of groceries at Bonneville Monday.

The Bonneville Women's Community club will meet Thursday, September 13, at the Community hall. There will be an election of officers for the ensuing year. This year they hope to have work covering educational, social and civic conditions of the Bonneville community, and direct a program of activities along these lines. All women living in this territory are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Westerlund have returned from a trip to Eugene and the coast. They are now at home in Bonneville.

Mrs. Everett Govan's mother, Mrs. Cody of California, is visiting her daughter on the island.

Mrs. Jesse Bales, who was taken to the Emanuel hospital in Portland a week ago, has undergone an operation.

Miss Hildee Westerlund is now working at the Bonneville depot, assisting Mrs. Collins.

An initiation for the Veterans of Foreign Wars was held last week, the following new members being added: H. L. Hart, J. F. Jenkins, D. E. Ellis, E. J. Fennell, H. W. Croxton, H. D. Avrin and M. J. Marsh.

The school board will hold its monthly meeting at the Community house Wednesday night. Probabilities are that it will reach a definite understanding on the school bus situation. Owing to the fact that the board will be using the Community house, the Veterans of Foreign Wars have postponed their regular meeting until September 18.

The George Waale company has practically completed the group of homes which has been under construction for the Columbia Construction company on the east end of Bradford island. The fortunate members of the Columbia Construction company's staff who fell heir to the houses are now moving in and establishing themselves. There are now more than 20 homes on the island, including those occupied by members of the staff of the Atkinson company.

The contractor on the deep well has practically completed his work. There is ample water.
