

CASCADE LOCKS

By FAYE DOUVILLE

F. Autrieth brought his family here from Salem and they now occupy an apartment in the C. E. Broliar home.

Wallace Anderson's family from Portland are now occupying a new home on Rapids View Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Dingman, former cooks of the Dew Drop Inn have transferred their services to the Cooks Tavern in Bonneville.

The Henderson home in Hyde Park is ready for occupancy this week.

Everill Broliar, last year's graduate, is employed by the News-Telegram as agent in the Bonneville Dam district.

To be sure that the water in the high school is pure, a sample has been sent to be analyzed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Merrill were Portland visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Perras, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sundsten and Helyn Merrill were Portland visitors Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Harrison and Addison Harrison were Portland visitors Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Harrison, Helen Christianson, Gibson Harrison, Elma Glazier and Nick Harrison were visitors at the Ice Caves Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Glazier were Portland visitors Tuesday.

Carl Reuterskiold, George Malory, Cecil Morrison, Handsome Morrison, Bob Moore and Curt Burgen spent Tuesday morning fishing in the rapids. A slight catastrophe occurred when the raft capsized and deposited Mr. Morrison in the water. (No fish were caught).

Fred Gray, local angler, caught a 48 pound Chinook Salmon Saturday.

Thilma Lovell, Happy Morris and Mrs. G. Lovell were visitors in Hood River last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cox and two daughters have returned to their home at Walla Walla, Wn. after spending a month with Mrs. Cox's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tharp at the Bridge of the Gods."

Ray H. Smith, of the Columbia Construction company, and family are now occupying the new 3-room house which was recently completed by Jack Eimer in the Hyde Park district.

Jens Herman, steam fitter at the dam, and Mrs. Herman are new residents in Cascade Locks. They are living in the new house which August Peterson has just finished on his property just west of The Chronicle office.

Erick W. Erickson, who recently purchased the Christenson property on Fifth street, is building a basement under the house.

Mrs. W. C. Anderson arrived in Cascade Locks Sunday to join her husband, who is president of the Central Lumber company. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and children are now occupying the new home just completed on the property immediately up the hill from the Catholic church property.

Walter Nelson, of the Lakeside market, went down the Willamette valley Tuesday to look over the hop crop. He went out of Cascade Locks like a flash. We don't pretend to know why.

Julius Carlson has sold his property immediately back of the Lakeside Market to P. A. Twitchell, a Portland contractor and builder, who proposes to remodel the house and put in some cottages. The property, 200 feet in depth, runs through from Sixth street to Seventh and fronts on both thoroughfares. Carlson and his mother will move into the house immediately south of the R. E. Andrews & company store. He has owned this house for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Matthewson, who has been living on the Julius Carlson property, are moving down to Dodson temporarily.

They have purchased an auto trailer, which they propose to move up to Cascade Locks.

State President D. D. Hale addressed a group of Eagles at the Bridge of the Gods hotel Thursday night. The Eagles are said to be preparing to open club rooms in the hotel. When the lodge in the Bonneville dam area is organized, members in the district holding membership in the Portland lodge or elsewhere may transfer to the local lodge.

NOTICE—If persons who took finger rings from my home will return them, no mention will be made of names.—Mrs. Tom Stubblefield.

We are inaugurating our Cash and Carry System. We will be the only store of this type in the Bonneville Dam district. Our delivery service has been discontinued for the reason that we could not give our many customers the prices they are accustomed to in the city. We maintain one price to all, with no credit losses and delivery service charges added in that price.

FREE BUS TICKETS

will be cheerfully given to those people who ride the bus and buy a $2.00 purchase of groceries. As we state above, our prices have all been cut approximately 8 per cent.
