To Open Shop.

Pearl Steel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kaiser, is putting up a building 36x10 on the Thad Glazier property, next door to the Cascade Bargain House, which she will occupy as a ladies' dress shop. She has had considerable experience in handling this type of merchandise and is of the opinion that the district offers an excellent field for ladies ready to wear apparel.

Free Pie Servers.

We take pleasure in acknowledging receipt of an attractive pie server from the Edawrds Furniture company of Portland. The company, one of the oldest and best known furniture houses in the Pacific northwest, is offering pie servers as gifts to residents of the Bonneville dam area who visit the store when in Portland. As they say, come in and get a pie server and get acquainted. They are free.

Steal World War Plaque

Salt Lake City.—Vandals stole the inscription plaque from a monument honoring Utah soldiers who gave their lives in the World war. Inscribed on the plaque was "From the living to the dead:—"

Bonneville School Notes

The fifth, seventh and eighth grades have organized a student body with the following officers: President, John Teerink; vice-president; secretary, Marjorie Stevens; monitors, Norman and Bobby Sherman.

The total attendance of these three grades at the present time is 33. Douglas Aue, Rosie Ceciliani and Annie Ceciliani, recently registered, brings it to this total.

Our bus service is now in full swing, picking up children as far down the river as Dodson and up the river to Eagle creek. Arrangements have also been made to pick up the children on the island.

Prospects are looking good for basketball this year, with plenty of material coming in. Miss Gula Galasheff and Charles A. Robertson will handle physical education.

He's Just a Spare Tire, Mr. Garner Confesses

New York.—John M. Garner admits that the job of being Vice President of the United States is unimportant.

Writing in the American Magazine, Garner calls the Vice Presidency "a fifth wheel job—the spare tire on our national automobile."

"There is little more than routine to the job," he writes, "and little enough of that. It is a virtually obscure post. I don't get much mail. I never see any job hunters."

House Falls on Him; Big Toe Is Bruised

Oklahoma City.—Charging that a house fell on him, causing fallen arches, W. O. Hall has filed suit for $2,500 damages against the city of Britton. His petition related that a small shack owned by the city fell upon him from above, pinned him against an iron post, broke his arches, and "bruised and injured a great toe."

MAN KILLED FOR DECEIVING SPOUSE

Father-in-Law Takes Law Into Own Hands.

Paris.—"The unwritten law" is the defense evoked by a wealthy Belgian merchant who tracked and killed his son-in-law here, after a long and relentless hunt.

The son-in-law was Albert Van de Vorst, who in 1922, when twenty-one, married Jeanne Lussair, seventeen. Soon after, however, he returned to the women whom he had found amusing before his marriage.

When his wife complained, he arranged with his twin brother to replace him. They resembled each other so nearly that at first the young wife did not realize the deception. When she discovered it she left her husband and went with her twin children to her parents to live.

One of the twins died and De Vorst blamed the father-in-law and his wife's mother. This proved the final straw, and the young woman began suit for divorce. Legal decisions were in her favor and she was given custody of the surviving child.

De Vorst asked her to come back to him, she refused, he shot her, fled, was arrested, and condemned to 20 years' penal servitude. Pressure exerted by his family caused him to be let out after seven years.

At his trial in Antwerp, De Vorst escaped three times from attempts of his father-in-law, Jules Lussair, to kill him. Always armed with two guns and a dagger, Lussair waited. When De Vorst was let out of prison he fled to France. Lussair followed him, learning that he had become engaged to a wealthy widow, Mme. Ehrmann.

Lussair waited, learning that the couple, who were to be married in June, were away. When they came back, Lussair was waiting.

He shot De Vorst four times, killing him immediately.

Tar Has Girl in Seven Ports; Proposes to All

London.—The naval town of Plymouth is chuckling and a sailor of the U. S. S. Wyoming who lives up to the old maritime tradition of "a girl in every port" is undoubtedly feeling sheepish as a result of the discovery of seven postcards in the letter box of a local shop, which is next door to the post office.

They were addressed to seven different girls, two in New York, one in San Francisco, one in Los Angeles, one in Hawaii, still another in Newfoundland, and finally, one in Mexico City.

To all the girls the sailor said he was looking forward to marrying them. To at least three he wrote, "I never think of any other girl but you."

A Little Nonsense

SCHOOL TEACHERS ARE WELCOMED BY PARENTS AT PUBLIC RECEPTION

One of the most enjoyable meetings of the Cascade Locks Parent-Teacher club was held in the high school auditorium last Friday night.

The program, in charge of Mrs. Maude Broliar and Mrs. Grace Ellies, was directed by Frank Hall as master of ceremonies. Numbers on the program were: Accordion solos by Angelo Immordini; vocal solo, Ralph McGowan; duet by Howard and Nell Rae Broliar; soft shoe dancers, a duet of attractive girls directed by Mrs. McGowan; an old fashioned stunt by Mrs. C. A. Broliar and Howard and ell Rae Broliar.

Following the program Mr. Hall introduced the teachers and the rest of the evening was spent in dancing to the music of Monte Gay and his orchestra. Punch and wafers were served from a booth by the club officials, who are to be greatly commended for the excellent beginning of what promises to be a four-star year in school affairs.

New Magazines and Racks.

An interesting addition to the equipment of the assembly room was made last week by a gay green magazine rack which will be kept full of current magazines to be used in connection with the subjects studied next year. The school has subscribed to about $15 worth of excellent magazines, which include the National Geographic, Popular Mechanics, The Golden Book, American Boy, American Girl and Current History, as well as many others.

Trip to Hood River.

Members of the high school English classes took a trip to Hood River on the school bus Wednesday evening of this week to attend the picture "Treasure Island." The book is one included on the student reading list and is quite a favorite. The students were accompanied by Misses Stewart, Eddy, Lacy and Walker.

HONOR ROLL

Gold star attendance pupils in the Cascade Locks schools, given for perfect attendance each four weeks, number 43 boys and 34 girls, a total of 77. Tardiness kept most students off the perfect list.

Fifty-six pupils in the grade school have been neither absent nor tardy to date.

"THE PRINCE OF LIARS" TO BE PRESENTED SOON CAST BEEN SELECTED

"The Prince of Liars," a three-act farce written by Sidney Grundy, will the senior play for this fall, according to Supt. Henderson, who will direct the dramatics this year.

The cast is composed of: Howard Harrison as Arthur Humming-top; Al Jenkins as Ralph Omerod, artist; Dave OJohnson as Joshua Gildbrand, the showman; Von Fuger as Dobson, nosey butler; Lois Merrill as Mrs. Humming-top; Faye Douville as Mrs. Gillebrand, the motehr-in-law; Helen Glazier as Rosa Columbiar, the gutta-percha girl; Peggy Peacock as Daisy Maitland, the ward of Arthur; Jane Geitner as Barbara, the lady's maid.

Business manager of the show will be Robert Douville; advertising manager, Ralph McGowan, and Geraldine Rankin, property manager. The play will be staged sometime in November.

Boys' Athletics.

Official basketball practice began last week and will be held four or more times a week during the season.

New athletic equipment was ordered last Monday from Mike Moran of the Meier & Frank company. Seven new balls, ping pong sets and new suits were included on the list. The hoopsters will appear in all orange suits rather than the usual blue and gold of former years.

Plans are being made for a basketball tournament this year which will include teams from high schools of 150 or less. Such a tournament will be to the advantage of the Cascade Locks team, as it usually plays with teams from much larger schools.

Nathelea Standish, an eighth grade pupil, has moved to Coulee dam where her father will be employed.
