COLUMBIA SINKS FIRST UNIT OF ITS HUGE COFFER DAM

Carrying enough lumber to build a fair sized boat, the first of a series of cribs to be used in building the coffer dam across the Columbia was pushed off the bank late Wednesday by the Columbia Construction company.

Launching of the crib, known as No. 1, drew a large crowd of spectators. Photographers, who waited in the afternoon, were disappointed when they failed to get a shot as the game was called on account of darkness.

The crib will occupy a rectangular area and be set down about 100 feet from the pier which the contractor have built out into the river to expedite loading and unloading of heavy timbers and other supplies and equipment. Built of steel plates, it will be 40 feet beneath the water, and will rise into the air 30 feet.

The Columbia Construction company is building 22 of the cribs, a block of which will be 60 feet long. Ways for the launching of the cribs are located on the shore of Bradford Island, directly across the river from North Bonneville. It is next to impossible for the general public to see the site, due to police regulations.

The crib launched Wednesday will go 250,000 board feet of lumber, or enough to build 50 houses, and enough to keep two sawmills busy for two days sawing.

Other cribs will take sufficient lumber to keep several Oregon sawmills working for a full month, and enough steel to procure the entire industry.

WAGLES ENTERTAIN WITH LIVELY SHOW

Wagles and their friends enjoyed a big evening Thursday at their temporary quarters in Merrill's Palace when a large crowd turned out for free entertainment.

The serie is growing, with new members being initiated each week. The order appears to be well on its way to make good the claim that it will have the largest membership in Cascade Locks-Bonneville serie between Portland and Delles.

Last Thursday the serie elected officers for six-month terms. "Jim" Merrill was chosen past worthy president and M. E. Trimble was chosen worthy president after Erickson, who had been nominated, declined to stand for office. Fred Folsom was made vice president, and Vernon G. Henderson, secretary.

Other officers elected were: Ed Johnson, treasurer; William Brink, conductor; M. A. Butterfield, chaplain; John Ingerlund, outer guard; F. B. Patterson, physician; and Dr. Fred Folsom, dentist.

SPECIFICATIONS OUT

Plans and specifications for the civic auditorium on the reservation were given to contractors last week. Bids will be opened the latter part of the month. The government is doing the excavating and will lay the foundation, building, of frame construction, will not be ready for occupancy until after first of the year.

Democrats Carry Dam Area Local Precincts Help Send Group of Bourbons to Salem

Democrats romped through the Bonneville Dam area in Tuesday's election, carrying everything before them in the Cascade Locks precinct, and in the Warrendale-Bonneville precinct.

Charles H. Martin carried both precincts better than two to one; Walter M. Pierce, candidate for congress in the First district, ran away from Jay Upton, republican, in Cascade Locks; and in the Third district, Walter Gleason took the Warrendale-Bonneville precinct from Judge Ekwall.

Greatest surprise was the heavy majority the democrats piled up for candidates for the legislature. In Multnomah county the democrats of Warrendale-Bonneville precinct carried the legislative ticket for both house and senate.

Hood River county Townsman W. H. Carrigan, dem. rep., was elected by M. M. Hill, a republican. This is the probably the first time in history that Hood River has sent a democrat to Salem. Cascade Locks gave Hill a heavy majority over W. H. Carrigan.

Martin surprised friends and foes by carrying the county over Dunn and Zimmerman; and Pierce came out by a heavy vote over Upton.

Best vote getter was George M. Knox, democratic candidate for assessor in Hood River county. He carried Cascade Locks 86 to 17 over Jack Bagley.

NEW COFFEE SHOP OPENED TO PUBLIC

L. M. French expects to have his new coffee shop in the National Commissary block, opposite the reservation gate in Bonneville, open for business Friday, but will not attempt to formally open the restaurant until next Wednesday.

An experienced restaurant man, French has leased space in the new business block for a card room, billiards and a bar. The Wood & Daugherty barber shop occupies one corner of the quarters reserved for the card room.

Wednesday night the bar will be open and the card room will be under way. From 8 to 9 o'clock that night French will serve free beer. Plans are being laid to make something of a gala affair of the grand opening and an invitation to attend is being broadcast to the entire Bonneville Dam area.

The coffee shop is on the corner, but opens into the card room. The billiard room has a fireplace and promises to fill long felt want in the community for a place where the fellows can drop in for a game of pool.

THIRD BUSINESS BLOCK TO RISE IN BONNEVILLE

Work is to be started within a week on the third business block in Bonneville. It will be built by S. E. Henderson, Portland, on the tract of ground immediately west of Tyrrell's Tavern, and will contain five store rooms.

Henderson, who has had property interests at Boulder Dam, bought the tract of ground from the state fish commission. He is said to have paid $5,000 for the tract.

The ground, almost triangular in shape, lies opposite the road which leads down to the fish hatchery, and west from the gasoline pumps which Archie Cook has installed, back toward Tanner creek. It faces on the state highway.

Nature of the new business houses which are being opened in the business block has not been revealed by Mr. Henderson.

The building will face 130 feet along the highway and run back to a depth of 80 feet, but the new owner is putting a steam shovel on the job, preparatory to digging out the ground to a depth of 250 feet.

The fish commission has owned the ground for years. It offered it to the highest bidder nearly a month ago, and sold to Henderson after sealed bids were opened in Portland, October 31. Five other

RALPH MATTLEY IS CALLED BY DEATH

Last Thursday Ralph Mattley, 23, carried on his trade, met his customers in his Rapids barber shop. Monday he lay dead in a Portland hospital, victim of pneumonia.

For several days he had complained of not feeling well, but continued to work until Thursday night, when he went home sick. Friday morning he was hurried to the hospital after it was learned that his lungs were congested.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning from the Finley undertaking parlors in Portland. Interment was in Riverview cemetery.

Popular, energetic and ambitious, Mattley came to Cascade Locks four months ago to take over management of the barber shop in the Rapids club. He was affable, took an active interest in community affairs and made friends easily. Everyone in town appeared to like him and he developed a good business.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mattley, he was born and raised in Portland, where his father runs a barber shop. Besides his parents he is survived by a small son, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Nelson, of Portland; and a step-sister, Louise Pewther.

BIG CROWD AT DRAWING

Fortunate ticket holders at the drawing held Saturday night by the Eimer Electric & Variety store were:

P. McLeod, automatic iron; Mrs. Charles Rosenback, toaster and a lamp; Mason Schlossen, electric heater; D. McKennon, coffee maker.

The drawing attracted a large crowd. It followed a 10-day sale, which the store inaugurated after moving into new quarters.

FIRST GROUP OF STORES AT DAM. OPEN TO PUBLIC

The new business block just completed on the highway opposite the police gate in Bonneville is finished and the tenants are all moved in and getting opened for business.

L. M. French, who operates restaurants in Portland, has leased the corner room and has opened a restaurant, card room, billiard parlor and bar. Guy Wood and Vern Daugherty will operate the barber shop in the card room.

The space next door to the card room has been taken by the Bonneville Commissary. It is stocking dry goods, shoes, meats and groceries. Irvin Casey is in charge of the grocery and meat department and Frank Sholkooff and Charles Bromberg are handling the dry goods and shoes.

Ted Zenier, druggist, has opened his drug store, next door to the commissary and is now filling prescriptions. The drug store will make the second in the district. Zenier has put in a soda fountain and will carry a complete stock of sundries and toiletries. He has sufficient room to give him one of the nicest drug stores on the highway.

The telephone company will occupy the last room in the block. It is expected to have the Bonneville exchange installed, but has been delayed because of need for all members of the crew on repair work down at the coast, where a storm wrecked many of it lines.

French will have a formal opening Friday, when he will throw his coffee shop and recreation center open to the public. Vyvyan Breneman, of the Eagle Lodge, will have charge of the coffee shop. She will be assisted by Myrtle Daniels, of Cascade Locks. George Jorgensen of Portland, will be in charge of the card room.

ENGINEERS TO USE FORDS

The government has purchased a dozen Ford sedans for use of the engineers at the dam. The purchase order included two trucks and two tractors, bringing total number of machines purchased up to 16. The bulk of the order was placed with Armentrout-Wicke Motor company, the small end of it with the Francis Motor Car company.

BONNEVILLE DRAWS A NEW POSTMASTER

Henry Edlund, Portland, has been named postmaster for Bonneville by Postmaster General Farley. Whether the postoffice has been made a third class office appears uncertain, but reports are that the change has occurred since the appointment was made without the customary competitive examination.

The new postmaster will move the office from the railroad station where it has been located for years to the Piggly Wiggly store in the community center near the National Commissary camp.

Dope was a few weeks ago that the appointment would fall to Mrs. Westerlund, and The Chronicle repeated the story, all of which goes to prove how easily it is to guess wrong.

Edlund has been in Bonneville, acquainting himself with conditions. In the new postoffice he proposes to install enough boxes to accommodate the public.
