BONNEVILLE

The Bonneville dam guest house was the scene of a hilarious "no-host" bridge party Wednesday night. The success of the gathering prompted the suggestion that it be made a weekly meeting. With this in view the devotees of "low bridge" decided to call themselves the Culvert club.

Among the feminine heads of the Columbia Construction company houses on Bradford Island who had their first chance to get to Portland in two weeks, when the weather cleared sufficiently late last week, were Mrs. H. P. Davis and Mrs. D. B. Shiek, on Thursday; and Mrs. D. C. Peacock, Mrs. S. S. Inch, Mrs. A. R. Olds and Mrs. Stanley Kanzler, on Friday.

Illness of her baby child forced Mrs. J. S. Gorlinski to travel to Portland last week.

The government guest house on the reservation now boasts a social register, which was formally initiated last week by the Culvert club.

Mrs. Eda Massie, who has visited with her daughter, Mrs. Leo M. Miller, on the reservation since Christmas, left Monday for Yakima.

Mrs. Jack Miles was hostess at the regular meeting of the Bonneville Women's Bridge club Tuesday, entertaining Mrs. Ben Torpen, Mrs. W. W. Laxton, Mrs. Leo W. Miller, Mrs. F. Henney, Mrs. Horace Skinner, Mrs. George Linton, Mrs. Frank Linton, Mrs. Goff, Mrs. H. Mason, Mrs. James Bell, Mrs. Otto C. Hartman and Mrs. H. MacC. Rigler. The first three mentioned gained first, second and third prizes, respectively.

Charles Cigler, of the Columbia Construction company, and family, departed last week for San Francisco, where Cigler has accepted a position on the Golden Gate bridge.

Mrs. Dorothy Blower, of the Columbia houses on the island, visited with her parents in Portland over the week-end.

The visit of Mrs. Otto C. Hartman, to Portland last week was the fore-runner of similar journeys by many of the wives of the engineers who live on the reservation.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Shiek, who arrived ten days ago, are the latest additions to the Columbia Construction company's community on Bradford Island. Shiek is a superintendent of crib construction, and came here from Oakland.

Sixty-five legionnaires and averservice men attended the "smoker" held by the Bonneville American Legion Post No. 88, Wednesday night at French's. Held in connection with a membership drive, ten new members were signed. It was rumored that all present heartily enjoyed the impromptu entertainment and "refreshments."

C. P. Bedford, superintendent for Columbia Construction company, suffered a broken left heel when he slipped while inspecting the cribs Sunday. Mr. Bradford will be confined to crutches for at least a week, it is believed.

BONNY PARK

C. A. Robertson, principal of the Bonneville grade school, journeyed to Portland last week through the snow to buy a pair of skis, but upon his arrival home, he could find neither a suitable hill or enough snow.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Lash, of Warrendale, visited with the William Sharp's Sunday at Dodson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Johnson were the guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. Mathew, in Portland last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen, of the Enquis, addition in Bonnyville, were house guests of the Harry Mathewson's over the week-end. Also present for the Sunday dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Merrill, of Cascade Locks, Joe Bucher, of the Hollywood

Dairy, was a Portland visitor Thursday.

L. T. Toner, dam inspector, resumed work last week after having a troublesome tooth extracted. Tooth trouble also called to Mrs. W. H. Mathewson, forcing her to go to Cascade Locks Friday to have it pulled.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Pace and daughters, Dorothy and Virginia, have taken up residence in one of the homes on the Hollywood Dairy ranch.

HERMAN CREEK

Residents of Penn's cabins were frequent Cascade Locks, Hood River and Portland visitors last week. Those who made trips, some on pleasure and others on business, included Mrs. Roy Cook, Mrs. Glenn Johnson, Mrs. C. T. Moyer, Mrs. J. M. Rider, Mrs. Greer, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Cook, and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Steele.

K. J. Johnson journeyed to Seattle to see his fiancée over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Critchfield were business visitors in Portland Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Olsen and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hogenson and Mrs. W. J. Carlson, were in Portland last week.

Mrs. J. C. Underwood attended the funeral of a near friend in Portland Monday.

Don Gardiner, of the Critchfield cabins, was the recipient of a cowboy suit from his parents on his birthday Sunday.

C. T. Moyer, of Penn's, was ill several days last week after having four teeth extracted.

The George Thomas' were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Banks and son, Buddy, of Oswego, Sunday, at their home near Herman Creek.

The hunt for a name for the district near Carlson's Red and White store continued at a merry pace last week. Though many suggestions were offered, no suitable one has yet been found. Interested residents are requested to leave contributions at the store.

Mrs. Helen Peters, of Seattle, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Moyer last week at their home in Penn's cabins.

Mrs. E. Hanford has returned to her home in the Carlson tract, following an appendicitis operation in Portland.

Mrs. George Nelson entertained her sister and two daughters, of Portland, at her home in the Herman Creek fish hatchery Sunday.

Jack Rider, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rider, of Penn's, has taken up boxing in addition to track, at Modesto junior college in California. Mrs. Rider disclosed.

Leonard Wang, son of the Columbia Gorge forest ranger, Alfred Wang, stationed at Herman Creek, who returned from a Hood River hospital last week after having an abscessed ear lanced, will be forced to again enter the institution, this time for an operation to remove his tonsils and adenoids.

Fred Fenton was a Portland visitor over the week-end.

Mr. Runar Hendrix has had her mother, Mrs. Davies, and sister, from Spokane, visiting with her for the past week.

POWER MAN LOCATES IN NASSHAHN ESTATE

A three week's search for a suitable office in which to place their new efficiency man, Ralph J. Williams, came to an end last week when the West Coast Power company announced that J. E. Laber had leased it the W. A. Nassahn property.

The new office will be used for the payment of light bills and the clearing point for wire trouble between Herman Creek and Dodson. Williams' first move was to place a second fuse box on the toll bridge, which will ring an alarm in his home whenever the power is falling. Other plans for faster and better service have been formulated.

BONNEVILLE BRIDGERS TO PLAY IN TOURNEY

Present at the weekly meeting of the Men's Bridge club Thursday night in the guest house were: Leo M. Miller, Ben Torpen, Howard MacC. Rigler, Horace Skinner, Frank Linton, Albert Bauer, E. C. White, Harold Kitchen, Jack Miles, W. W. Laxton, F. Henney and Ted Johnson.

Miller and Linton won first north and south honors, and Skinner and Laxton copped east and west ribbons. The next meeting will be held Friday night, it was announced, when the members will compete in the opening round of the fourth World Bridge Olympic.

Fifty different countries, represented by more than 200,000 players, will start the contest simultaneously, with two platinum trophies, valued at $10,000 each as the prize. In addition, costly replicas and silver trophies, 360 in all, will be given to champions of every country, state and province.

Sixteen prepared hands, selected by the great players of the country, none of which are trick hands, containing intricate problems or freak distribution, will be played.

RUNABOUT ALMOST READY

A 32-foot runabout, to be used by the dam engineers and inspectors, was reported near completion at the Erickson and Klepp factory near Rainier, last week. The craft will be powered with 2 75-horsepower gasoline motors, and will seat 12 passengers, running at a top speed of 20 miles per hour.
