BONNA VILLA

Guests of the C. R. Grimm's Sunday at Bonny Villa included three Portland families, Mr. and Mrs.
Claire Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs.
Edward Sherman and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. F. Munson and children, also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lark, of Rich Timber.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. of Springdale, were dinner guests of the G. H. Ferrington's Sunday.

The living quarters of the youthful proprietors of the Bonny Villa tavern, Hal Babbitt and Rolf Enquist, were completed last week. The single room is equipped with ultra-modern furnishings and is very doughty.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Islay, of Cascade Locks, have taken up residence in a cabin at Bonny Villa.

Rolf Enquist visited with his parents at their home in Springdale over the week-end. In the meantime, his father, Eric, is attending the state legislature at Salem.

Seven children were present at the ninth birthday of Dorothy Duncan at her home in Bonnevue last week. Those attending were Margaret Miller, Catheline Waring, Jean and Wilma Venhor, Dixie Goodrich, Betty Phelps and Eva May Jones.

Lieutenant and Mrs. William R.
Poulson entertained at six o'clock dinner Thursday, the following being present: Mr. and Mrs. Morris Holt, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Root, of Portland; and Mrs. C. Black and daughter, Delores.

F. Matlock and family have taken over the Bonny Villa cabin formerly occupied by the H. J. Mc-Clellan's, who have moved to Grand Coulee.

Mrs. Dave Johnson is spending the week in Portland caring for Mr. Johnson's mother, who is suffering from a paralytic stroke.

Miss Rita Denton, of Portland, is spending the week with her father in Bonny Villa.

Mrs. E. Wolf was hostess to the Bonny Villa women's pinochle club Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Root, of Portland, were business visitors in Bonneville Thursday. Root is associated with the Guy P. Atkinson Construction company and formerly lived on Bradford Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Young, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Eldrige, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Buscher and Mrs.
Wilkerson, all of Portland, were luncheon guests of the Ed Turrish's last week, at their home in Bonnevue.

Mrs. A. J. Moore is seriously ill with a severe cold, and Mrs. Richard Knapp was reported to also be on the slightly sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan McCarty, Kellogg, Idaho, hotel owners, were guests of Hal Babbitt at the Bonny Villa tavern last week.

Ellen Dipperry, sister of T. B.
Dipperry, returned to her Portland home last week, after an extended visit in Bonnevue.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Holt and the C.
Black's enjoyed an evening of cards Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lush and Roy Jr., were Portland visitors last week. Russell Gage spent the week-end at the Morris Holt Bonnevue residence.

BEAUTIFYING ENTRANCE ENGINEERS TO START

With the return of pleasant weather the United States engineers are getting set to begin filling and landscaping the ground east of the present entrance to the reservation and north of the state highway.

Thousands of yards of dirt and rock will be dumped to make necessary fills and bring the ground up to grade. After the filling and grading is done the government will commence building permanent roads. The roads will include the new permanent highway which will lead from the state road down into the reservation.

EAGLE CREEK

Injuries and illness struck at Eagle Creek last week, Ray Chick-aree suffering body bruises when backed into by a truck at the dam, Harold Bean bed-ridden by a severe cold that threatens to turn into pneumonia and Al Jensen being treated for an eye injury, suffered when struck by a piece of flying steel.

Eagle Creek's iron man, Fred Cot, who did not miss a shift though he lost a finger in an accident recently.

George Burgess has moved to the reservation, to take over newly-obtained duties in the government marsh.

William Paul is commuting from Hood River daily, his wife now living there.

John Ingerland and daughter, Betty, though recuperating from the flu, accompanied by Mrs. Ingerland, visited with Mr. and Mrs.

Hugo Johnson at Bridal Veil over the week-end.

Motorcycle Delivery anyplace in the Bonneville Dam area. Cascade Drug Co. Phone 321.

J. C. Johnson was an all-week visitor in Portland. Gene Cahill did one-seventh as well, spending Saturday in the metropolis. Mr.
Day spent the week-end with his family in White Salmon.

The home of Tom Cornell was reported near completion last week. Mrs. Cornell, a Portlander, will take up residence there within the near future.

Eagle Creek boasts a new kind of liquor store. High among the trees back of the lodge hang two empty bottles, evidence of Al Jensen's and Tom Sadler's impulsive afternoon.

The Lakeside Market offers free daily delivery to the Bonneville Dam area. Phone 17.

A false fire alarm, arising from the smoke made by a train, brought one of Eagle Creek's star citizens rushing from his bed in the wee hours of one morning last week.

TO PRESENT PLAYS

Going ahead with leaps and bounds with its preliminary work, the newly-formed dam area drama club, "Masque and Buskin" completed three important decisions at its Wednesday night meeting in the high school.

The first of these was to select three one-act plays, to be presented sometime in March. Richard Morris was elected to direct one of these, and part of his cast chosen. The other leaders will be chosen at the next meeting, set for February 20.
