C. F. Sundy sold his cow to E. L. Bleckel.

Mrs. Violet Cramblets returned last week from a several-day visit to The Dalles. Her ankle, sprained while attending a baseball game at Cascade Locks, is almost well.

Alec Bradburn is harvesting strawberries.

I. R. Petite, formerly of Umatilla, now assistant keeper at the airport, is living near the power company's plant at Herman creek.

DESTINY

On his desk stood an empty ink bottle;

The ink had evaporated.
His chair was thick with dust;
His pipe lay on the floor—broken.
On the hearth were cold ashes.
Time has no mercy;
I was too late.

—Jay Van Nice.

BONNEVILLE

H. E. Golden fished Tanner creek last week, brought back 21 beauties, all trout.

Louis Melvin is spending this week on vacation in Portland.

A. P. George, his house painting finished, is now starting excavation for a basement under it.

Ernie Powell's cocky fox terrier and Archie Cook's equally-cocky Boston bull, after playing together for weeks, fiercely battled each other Sunday, were parted by their owners, the fight ending in a draw. Both dogs are of canine aristocracy, sporting long pedigrees.

O. T. Gibson of Orino, Bell & Malcom, left last week for a business and pleasure trip to Garrison, Mont., is expected to return this week.

Union Pacific's motor bus, due at Bonneville from Portland at 7:22 Monday morning with its usual jam of dam employees, burned out a valve while passing Bonny Villa, coasted across Tanner creek bridge to Bonneville, was laid up all day for repairs on the spot.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sawyer were visited Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. E. S. LaCombe of Odell; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chapman and son and daughter of Portland; Mrs. Ida Locke of Corvallis.

Miss Arlene Sawyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sawyer, is home for the summer from her studies at Oregon State college. Her parents drove to Portland to bring her to Bonneville.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. George were visited Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Malm of St. Paul, Minn., Mrs. George's sister, Miss Florence Schilling, and Frank Mickel of Portland. The party made a tour of the dam reservation, thought the new auditorium beautiful, the dam work stupendous.

J. T. Templeton is still confined to his bed at home in Portland as the result of a fall while working on the dam six weeks ago.

Mrs. Robert Mears was among those who attended the Rose Festival.

A. V. Bebeau's left eye is swathed in white bandage this week as the result of being hit by a flying splinter of steel last week while working as machinist for Columbia. His eyesight is not believed injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cook were visited Sunday by Mr. Cook's mother, Mrs. Katie A. Cook, and his uncle, John McCue, both of Portland. The Cooks and visitors drove to Government Springs, Wash., to find the hotel just finishing burning down.

Jim George spent the weekend in Portland.

Ray Marsh drove to Kennewick, Wash., to spend the weekend at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sawyer drove in Portland Sunday to meet their daughter, Arlene, who will be home from Oregon State for the summer.

Frank Darling, formerly in the Pittock block in Portland, is new barber at French's.

At the Theatre

Old Lady Luck smiles at Leo Carrillo in "The Winning Ticket," Thursday and Friday at the Roosevelt theatre on the Bonneville dam reservation, and her smile is worth $150,000 for the little piece of sweepstakes pasteboard. But Lady Luck not only smiled, she laughed right in his face—he lost the ticket, Louise Fazenda and Ted Healy combine to make the picture one of the season's laugh riots.

A drama of tangled identity is "Alias Mary Dow," starring Sally Eilers, showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Society debutante or dance hall girl—she had her choice between the two worlds, and dared to impersonate a girl missing 20 years. She gave up her own identity as the little waitress to save the life of a woman she did not know. Noted for her work in Bad Girl, which won the 1932 Academy award, Miss Eilers surpasses it in this picture.

An old maid school 'marm' is always one jump ahead of her nearest rival, a hard-boiled police inspector, when it comes to solving baffling crimes in the mystery-thriller, "Murder on a Honeymoon," featuring Edna May Oliver and James Gleason, showing Wednesday and Thursday. When a man dies mysteriously on a seaplane between Los Angeles and Catalina island, Hildegard Withers (Miss Oliver) knows it is murder and proves it. Inspector Piper (Mr. Gleason) comes in second.

FIRE PERMITS ASKED

Although permits to build campfires in Mt. Hood national forest will not be required until July 1, campers are requested by District Ranger Roy L. Weeman of Columbia Gorge station to obtain them from forest rangers whenever possible. Purpose is to reduce the fire hazard by letting the forestry service know where danger points are.

CCC'S MAY ARRIVE

Indications that the CCC camp at Wyeth may open soon are seen in the arrival Saturday at Columbia Gorge ranger station of a truckload of supplies consigned to the camp, idle since last summer. A number of letters for CCC boys have arrived at the ranger station, but no date has yet been announced for the opening of the camp.
