

WARRENDALE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clifton, popular Warrendale residents, have moved to North Bonneville in order to be closer to Mr. Clifton's work.

Mr. and Mrs. William Steiner were Portland visitors Saturday night.

Also motoring to the city during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Canto, who had his teeth extracted, and Joe Westerlund.

George Houtz's father, from Montana, is spending a month at Warrendale.

Now that it has been disclosed that many residents think Mrs. Lee Jaborra's big Afredale is homely, the popular lady is not so sure. However, all agree the dog is pretty darn good.

Mr. and Mrs. E. May spent the week-end in Portland where the former's brother is seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tiller visited with friends at Scappoose Saturday and Sunday.

Busy on Foundation
Workmen are busy with a will on the foundation for the Idw fellows' new building and are pouring cement. The foundation must be built up about three feet, due to the need of placing the front of the building on a level with the new highway grade. The lodge does not propose to put in a basement.

GALA COSTUME PARTY ENDS DANCE SERIES

The engineers brought their La-tourell tavern dancing series to a successful close Friday night with a costume party that provided a continuous round of entertainment for more than 50 couples.

Prizes for the best costumes were awarded to Don Orput, for his clever portraiture of the glorified bum, an outfit that was "made" by the addition of a pocket watch more the size of the average alarm clock; and to Henry Mason, who was given the women's prize for his stylish lavender frock.

Eagles' Activities

The largest crowd ever to attend a social function in the Locks, 300 couples, jammed Merrill's pavilion to capacity Saturday night for the dance. Music was provided by the Fernettes, girls' band from Portland. Proceeds will go toward the purchase of uniforms for the new drill team.

D. D. Hale, state president, spoke at the regular meeting of the Bonneville-Cascade Locks chapter last week on what the state legislature is doing along the lines of the Eagles' program.

The local chapter is attempting, through the University of Oregon medical school, to have some young doctor open a practice in the Locks. The recent departure of the doctor in North Bonneville is the immediate cause for action.

Perry Kitzmiller, chairman of the board of trustees, has attended recent meetings of the Hood River, Portland, Gresham and Stevenson chapters, hoping to gain ideas useful to the local chapter.

for completion of the buildings on March 20 and May 1, respectively.

The second stage of the auditorium work which is the building of the seating space and auditorium proper was gotten under way.

All the finishing work, which includes partitioning, remains to be done in the spacious auditorium, but only the painting and placing of doors is left undone in the new executive office.

In the meantime, the government completed installation of its steam heating plant in the basement of the auditorium and of its pipe line to the smaller building, turning on the heat in preliminary tests.

Definite announcement as to which departments would occupy the administration building was made in all but one instance. Those already decided upon are the information booth, government police headquarters, public relations department office and "Spillway" reservation newspaper.

In addition there will be a large display room, with a large model of the completed dam and pictures of the actual work for public inspection.

NEW ADMINISTRATION BUILDING READY SOON

With only a week of finishing work remaining to be done in the new administration building, the A. S. Hansen company, of Seattle, concentrated its workmen on completing the civic auditorium last week. The $57,500 contract calls

Baseball is being introduced in Soviet Russia. Now if Moscow refuses to recall its Communists we can retaliate by flooding Russia with some of our blind umpires.

At the Theatre

Again featuring a wide variety of the best pictures of the year, the Roosevelt theatre will present during the next week one of the finest films, both for children and adults, ever made, "Treasure Island." Following this the popular Parker theatre has billed "Bill Rogers' success, "Judge Priest."

Tonight, Thursday, patrons will have their last opportunity to see Zane Grey's well-known story, "Thundering Herd," featuring Randolph Scott. Sunday brings the famous Robert Louis Stevenson pirate play for a three-day run. On Thursday the true-life Rogers will present Irvin K. Cobb's stirring story of the south.

Stevenson's "Treasure Island" has been read by millions. The way in which Wallace Berry, as Long John Silver, leads his motley crew against daring Jackie Cooper will stir every heart. And Lancelotti's portrayal of Billy Bones is his outstanding success of the year. To miss the picture is truly to miss the most vividly real pirate picture ever filmed.

HUNDREDS DANCE TO SEATTLE ORCHESTRA

People from as far west as Corbett and east as Hood River, drawn from all walks of life, representing the younger and older generation, packed Jim Merrill's pavilion to capacity Wednesday night as they danced or listened to the rhythm of the finest band ever to play in the district—Merle Carlson, of Seattle's Olympia hotel.

Of the more than 250 couples who partook in the four-hour show, very few showed signs of intoxication. Even a wandering state police officer branded the dance as the finest ever held here. But that was common knowledge, just ask anyone. Merle Carlson can play here every week, yes sir!
