SCHOOL NEWS

HIGH SCHOOL

A meeting was held Monday by the student council, to set aside dates for the remaining spring activities. April 26 was the date decided upon for the annual basketball banquet, with Albert Jenkins and Howard Harrison in charge; Annual Dress-up day and carnival, May 3, in charge of Lois Merrill; Clean-up day, May 10, in charge of Harold Jenkins; and School Picnic, May 17, in charge of Dave Johnson.

Baccalaureate services for the graduating class are to be held Sunday evening, May 19, in the Methodist church, with Mrs. Rosa Philippi of Portland delivering the sermon. Commencement exercises Monday evening, May 20, in the high school auditorium, details to be given later.

GRADE SCHOOL

The grade school baseball team will play Bonneville Friday. Piper and Chet Woodward will make up the local battery.

Betty Burt, of the eighth grade took a part in the high school play, held Friday.

Robert Boleyn has withdrawn from school and has moved with his parents to Portland.

Betty Burt gave an ice cream and cake party to pupils of the seventh and eighth grades this week in celebration of her 14th birthday.

Elsie Harris, Betty Burt and Pat Ryan have been appointed as a committee to decide class colors and the class flower for the eighth grade graduation exercises.

John Carlson, Beverly Morrow, and Eileen Sprague are out of school with the measles.

Jean Orvis was among those pupils who were neither absent nor tardy for the month ending March 22.

Eldon Nelson won the month's current event contest for the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades.

Beverly Beaton, a first grade student, has moved to California.

John Thomas Woodward had the misfortune to break his front teeth on the drinking fountain Friday.

BOUT BETWEEN WOMEN FEATURES MAT CARD

Continuing his policy of bringing top-notch shows to wrestling fans in the dam district, despite disappointing turn-outs, Promoter Jim Merrill announced that Wildcat Johnson, Canadian middleweight champion, would meet Farmer Stewart, rough Salt Lake youngster, in the main event of Thursday night's pavilion card.

Johnson scored a win over tough Eddie McMillen last week, breaking three of the latter's ribs in doing so. Though out of the fray for at least two weeks, McMillen, Denver titlist, swears revenge, and should get a good start on it Thursday night, as he will referee the card.

The semi-windup brings a newcomer, Indian Ackly, of Alaska, up against Merrill's most popular grappler, Tony Daro of Gresham. Daro has always been the favorite of the fans for his willing desire to mix, but will meet a real rival in the newcomer.

As a special exhibition Merrill has procured Mrs. Babe Johnson, wife of the rough champion, for a three-round match with Chief Little Wolf's daughter, who also hails from the far north. Last week Babe drew with Tex Hager, but the fans clamored for a bout between two women. This match should "steal the show."

BONNY PARK

The first painted home in Bonny Park is owned by the Harry Mathewsons.

M. A. Bousha, of Warrendale, is building an expensive trailer house in the Bonny Park garage. Leo Ostrander is doing the carpenter work.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lash, and also the Ted Johnsons, motored to Portland last week, the former on Wednesday, the latter on Friday.

Orville Finch, of Seattle, is spending a week with his sister, Mrs. D. H. Dyck. Another sister, Mrs. Orlan Gunter, lives next door.

Wives of two of Bonny Park's government guard trio, inspected the policemen's new garden, which is now completely excavated and walled in, while visiting at the dam Sunday. The wives were Mrs. Bonny Whitsett and Mrs. George Harris, both of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. McLeod, of the Locks, were Sunday guests at the Jim Lash home.

O. C. Correll's sister, from eastern Oregon, spent the week-end in Bonny Park.

Clyde Kimbraugh possesses one of the neatest yards and homes in the district, critics declare.

Eagles' Activities

One of the most interesting meetings of the Locks-Bonneville Eagles aerie was held last week. Stevenson officers, headed by Worthy President Benson, put on initiation work for a class composed of Leon Sarber, U. S. E. D.; Hy Frager, Community Center; and Carl Epping, Locks Red and White store owner.

The much talked of "Eagle Booster" stickers arrived at the lodge for this meeting and were sold to members. The stickers which have gummed surface, are for use of business houses managed by Eagles and car owners. Besides the legend "Boosters," the address and number of the aerie, which in this case is "Cascade Locks-Bonneville, No. 2186."

The regular Northwest district convention has been announced for Hood River, May 12. This district includes all aeries from Astoria to The Dalles, on the Columbia, and also Oregon City, Tillamook, Portland, McMinnville and Gresham. The program for that day will be worked out by the host aerie, and officers will put on initiatory work for candidates from all aeries.

Prizes for the eagle bringing in most new members has been announced by Worthy State President D. D. Hall. Jack Callander has been appointed to head the drive in this aerie.

Nominations of officers for chairs for next year will be made at the last meeting held in April. Election will be held in May, installation in June.

ANOTHER STOP STREET

Over-looked last week was the fact that the reservation is the proud possessor of two stop streets. The newest discovery is located where the road from the government's warehouse, garage, police barracks, photography lab and messhall, intersects with the main thoroughfare, the road running past the administration building. The other is the intersection of the island road and the thoroughfare to the administration building.
