

BONNEVILLE

Mrs. Loueta Caldwell, of La Grille, visited with Mrs. Ferguson last week, repaying the visit of the latter to the Eastern Oregon city recently.

Two Japanese civilian engineers, one from Portland, the other from Tokio, were taken on a tour of the dam project Thursday by Frank C. Linton. The visitors said very little about the work.

Mrs. John J. Cavagnaro, of San Francisco, paid a short visit with her husband, who is a Pacific Coast Steel company superintendent, in Bonneville recently.

Seventeen members of the American Society of Automotive Engineers, now holding a convention in Portland, were guests of the United States Engineers Thursday. They were taken on a tour of the project by Clyde Kambrough, of the drafting department.

Miss Dorothy Hannif, for almost a year the Bonneville day telephone operator, has returned to her home in Portland. She will be replaced by Miss Lucille McCulloch, a former operator here.

What is so fine as a new car? Nothing, declares Lieutenant William Poulson, of the government police force. And when you have as nice a new car as Bill does, then nothing is.

Nearly 50 members of the Young Democrats club visited at the dam Sunday, generally disrupting the quietness with their gay songs and cheers. They drove out to the project after their annual convention in Portland came to a close.

Seven members of the Bonneville Women's Gym class niked up the Horsetail Falls trail Monday, returning down the Oneonta gorge. Those hiking, despite the poor weather, were Mrs. Stanley Wells, Mrs. James Bell, Mrs. Lamasters, Mrs. Fred McGee, Mrs. Colby Myers, Mrs. Sawyer and Mrs. Stanley Levack.

Mrs. Ben Torpen's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Stevens, of Portland, and a friend, Mary Coon, visited Sunday on the reservation.

Officer Morris Bocock, of the government police, returned to duties, after a week's vacation in Portland.

Scoutmaster Don Dorris and 15 members of his Salem troop number 12, were guests of Harrell Kanzler, a former troop member, last week. The boys were taken on a tour of the dam and then feted by Mrs. Walter Kanzler, mother of Harrell, in her Columbia colony home on Bradford island.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Miller were called to Portland Saturday night, where the former's mother suffered a hip injury in a bad fall.

Mrs. Irma Redmond, of the Roosevelt hotel, spent Monday and Tuesday at her home in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rigler were hosts to the W. W. Laxtons, the L. W. Millers and the Jack Miles Saturday night, for an informal dinner party.

Dr. and Mrs. S. E. Wells caught a nice mess of trout in one of the small streams which drain into the Mashougal river near the headwaters Sunday, on the opening day in Washington.

Two other reservation fishermen, Lieutenant Colby Myers and Leo Miller, tried their luck in the Columbia Sunday, but boat trouble and a high wind made fishing impossible.

Mrs. William Fudge, Mrs. H. P. Davis, Mrs. George Havas and Mrs. Walter Kanzler, of Columbia's Bradford Island homes, will be hostesses to the Stevenson Woman's club, of which the are members, this week at the regular meeting in the Sampson hotel, Stevenson.

Mrs. Albert Bauer, Mrs. Colby Myers and Mrs. Stanley Wells accompanied Mrs. Stanley Levack to Portland on a shopping trip Friday.

Mrs. C. A. Saunders, of the Locks, presented a fine piano recital to members of the Bonneville Woman's club Thursday at the regular bi-monthly meeting. The turn-out was disappointing, probably due to the fine weather, which gave the ladies a chance to accomplish much of their spring house cleaning.

Miss Veatch, of Portland, spoke before the club on starting a kindergarten and nursery school on the reservation. The organization also presented the Community church with ferns, jardinières and stands for permanent decoration use.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert LePere and Mrs. Dave M. Marvin were Portland visitors Monday, as were Mrs. Albert Bauer and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Goff.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boyer and Mr. and Mrs. DeBost were guests at the Stanley Wells' residence on the reservation Saturday night.

It is reported that a doe and a fawn still remain on Bradford island, part of last year's large herd. The pair always remain at the east end of the island, however, and must have stayed there the year round, despite the construction work going on nearby. Last year the deer became so tame that they were frequently seen in the streets of the Columbia colony.

Herb Cox, former Coast ball-player, of Portland, visited with his old manager of Pendleton and Marshfield semi-pro teams, Bill McGarrigle, in Nudelman Brothers' Bonneville store Monday.

TELEPHONES FIRE AID
During the depression, telephones were removed from many farm homes. In a recent statement by State Fire Marshal Lynn J. Butcher of Nebraska, he cited the fact that in 1933, farm fire losses in the state totaled more than $300,000, and attributed the increase over 1932 chiefly to the removal of telephones from farms.

BONNEVILLE SCHOOL NEWS

Miss Marjorie Stevens, who returned to school last week after a week's illness, wishes to express her regrets for not being able to play at the Stevenson operetta and the Locks high play.

Those who have been neither absent nor tardy in the last period are: Seventh-eighth grade, Bernard McCandless, Eugene Myers, Billy Morris, Florence Gudhart, Barbara Beck, LaVerne Markwart, Wilma Waggoner, Howard Rigler, Norman Sherman, Ruth Faubion and Jerry McFadden.

Fifth-sixth, Wallace Laxton, Jacqueline Lloyd, Lois Myers, Donald McFadden, Russell Kelsey, Claude McCandless, David Noah, Clark Slattery, Jack Wilson, Vito Masso and Edith Shinn.

Third-fourth, Richard Teerink, Jean Howard, Betty Forsberg, Jesse Masso, Richard Carter, James McVeigh, Albert Willey, Elizabeth Miller and June Checketts.

Lois Linton has returned to school after a week's illness. Fonia Blower, however, is still absent.

The grade school was swelled by two last week with the addition of James Robnett, of the third grade, and his sister, Patsy, of the second grade, who are now living at Eagle Creek.

Due to restricted practice time, the upper grade alone will represent Bonneville at the Spring Music Festival, to be held Friday, April 26, at Russelville. Those taking part will be Ione Goodrich, Rita Carron, Edith Shinn, Marjorie Stevens, Millicent Boyle, Jean Venohr, LaVerne Markwart and Florence Gudhart. The junior chorus will sing two numbers "Sing When You Are Happy" and "Gondoliera."

Marjorie Stevens will be participating for the second consecutive year, playing a violin in the county orchestra. Parents planning to attend the event are requested to notify the school, as it may be necessary to provide transportation for some of the children.

The seventh-eighth grade dramatic class completed its year's work last week with the presentation of a one-act comedy "Not Quite Such a Goose." Stage man-
