CASCADE LOCKS NEWS

Hank Rosenback skippered the engineers' launch, Sandy, this week, the launch, Bonneville, having gone to Portland for an overhauling. Glenn Farrington, who operates the Sandy, has gone on a five-day vacation.

Mrs. Selma Gram of The Dalles and her brother, A. E. Vanstrom spent Memorial day with their sister, Mrs. Manda Collins. Both are old-time residents and their visit was really a trip home.

Mr. and Mrs. August Peterson visited Portland over Memorial day.

Mrs. Carl Livingston and daughter, Jean, visited Mrs. Livingston last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Smith and son, former Locks residents, now of Linton, visited the cemetery Memorial day with several friends from Linton.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Chapman and two cousins, from Illinois, visited Mr. Chapman's brother, C. C. Chapman, over Memorial day. Roy Chapman comes from Portland where he's with Upjohn Drug company.

S. O. Clodfelter's 63rd birthday last week saw the gathering of his children, grandchildren and friends from eastern Oregon. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Donald Clodfelter, Harland Clodfelter, Miss Verna Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Borstel and Junior, Jackie, Carol-Jean, and Joan, Mr. and Mrs. Russell, Mr. Ramsay.

Mrs. Grace Scott was a visitor to Portland Saturday.

Mrs. Erland Rosenback was a Portland visitor last week.

Raymond Harrington, up from San Pedro, where he is on duty with the army, has returned to California, after having spent three weeks in Cascade Locks as the guest of friends and relatives. He is a son of Mrs. Ed Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Myers, and daughter, Carol, Mrs. A. Myers, Miss Edda Iverson, all of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. O. Badder and children Norman and Vincent, from The Dalles, visited at the Sprague home Memorial day.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Olin of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Clark of Longview and children, Wilma and Dicky, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Olin of Cascade Locks, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Sprague, Thursday.

Mrs. John Hatton of Carver has been visiting with her son, E. M. Hatton during the past week.

A full-grown cougar, five to six feet long, was what H. C. Odell saw in his back yard Wednesday morning as he was eating breakfast. The cougar nosed around, sniffed, left for the timber without doing any damage. Charles Olin, in one of whose cabins Odell lives, is planning a hunt for the beast before he gets a chance to do any more marauding.

H. C. Odell was joined last week by his wife and children, Richard and Billie, who came from Kelso as soon as school was out to make their home at the Locks. They are living in one of Olin's cabins.

Sim James and daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spangler, returned Tuesday from five days spent at the ocean beach. They brought back six to seven gallons of shelled clams, a number of flounder, all caught by themselves.

Horn club will complete its remodeling next week, partitioning off from the bar for booths and tables seating 14 and installation of a family entrance.

Peter Shields, by guessing closest of anyone present, the number of pieces of candy in a jar at Carl Epping's grocery Saturday, won a sack of flour. Two or three others guessed closer, were not awarded the prize because they were not present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Scott entertained Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bowen, Mr. Scott's sister from Aberdeen, Wash., over Memorial day.

Mr. and Mrs. Thad Glazier and son, Howard, motored to Portland on business Saturday.

Mrs. Fred Anderson is home again after a visit Tuesday to the hospital in Portland where the casts from her legs, broken in an automobile accident several months ago, were removed. She won't be able to try walking for several weeks yet.

H. C. Brown's father from Scappoose visited him Memorial day.

Mrs. Manda Collins expects to be made very happy within the next few days when the telephone company installs her long-awaited new switchboard to replace the present one, said to have been in service since the beginning of the century. With it will come new wiring, a motor-dynamo to replace the hand crank for ringing bells.

Several large volcanic boulders, weighing from one to three or more tons each, were pulled out of the new highway right-of-way Saturday by road crews, who towed them behind bulldozer and truck through the business district to shove them off the road near the power company office. Several other boulders, weighing about 25 tons, are too large to pull, will have to be leveled off.

Roger J. Neiss, USED safety engineer and art editor of Courier, first Portland district safety magazine, is now living at the Oregon-Washington fox farm.

The West Coast Power company has stuccoed and painted its plant out by Herman creek. Attention has been given the lawn, too. The work on the building improves the appearance of the property materially. It has helped the appearance of the forest service property, as well.

Boys from the triple "C" camp down by Multnomah falls are giving the state highway department a hand in cutting away brush and trimming up trees along the state road east of Herman creek to Wyeth. Cutting away of the brush permits motorists to obtain a view of the river. People accustomed to driving the highway will be pleased with the work, for they can now escape the sensation of driving between two rows of hedge.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Batzner entertained Mr. and Mrs. Bill Batzner of Nehalem and Will Shangle of Portland at their home Sunday. The Batzners are brothers, their wives, sisters.

Shirley Woodward of Cascade Locks has been visiting with some friends at Sherwood, Oregon the past week. She returned home Monday.

Miss Guyla Galasheff leaves Sunday for summer work at Oregon Normal school at Monmouth. Her sister, Antoinette, is home from teaching school at Ione.

The telephone construction crew, stationed at the Locks for a month to move poles off the new highway right-of-way, packed its bags this week, is expected back sometime to move poles between here and Tanner creek when the surveys on the new highway are completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Keele, and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Miller picnicked on the government reservation Island Sunday.

Howard Gates spent the weekend in Portland.

L. H. Livingston, whose foot was crushed by the highway crew's power shovel, May 26, is recovering in Good Samaritan hospital, Portland, after amputation of all five toes. Four toes were removed the day after the accident, the big toe Friday. Mrs.

Grace Scott of We-Ask-U-Inn, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Livingston, his son and wife of Portland, visited him over the weekend. Mr. Livingston, 68 years old, was flagman on the crew, slipped his foot under the moving shovel's steel pillar track when dodging the speeding cars approaching the job. He is expected to be able to leave the hospital in about a month.
