

WE URGE YOU

in the interests of a Greater Cascade Locks to VOTE YES

in the election June 11 on the incorporation of Cascade Locks

In order to build a substantial home, a foundation must be laid; in order to build a well organized and regulated community, it is also necessary to have a foundation.

An incorporated municipality is that foundation. It will be run by you---the people of Cascade Locks.

Under an incorporated Cascade Locks, every registered voter will have a say in his behalf. Local affairs will be conducted locally, by residents, not as at present under the overlordship of one or two individuals residing in Portlad. Police power will be a full-time job right here with the city limits, instead of a hurried dash of an outsider from Hood River.

Taxes will be increased---yes. But not to the extent several of those opposed to incorporation claim. We urge you to check with Geo. Knox, county assessor at Hood River, to receive an approximate assessment on your property.

We all want a clean, well regulated town at minimum expense. It is to this end that we are interested in this step.
