

COLORED BAND SHOW TO BE AT MERRILL'S

Ell Rice, his orchestra and floor show will be both seen and heard Tuesday night at Merrill's pavilion in Cascade Locks.

The colored band of musicians, singers and dancers comes from headquarters in Minneapolis to present an all-star dance program interspersed with specialty numbers by the band and entertainers. Rice is known for his tenor voice and is said to have a background comparable to the headliners of Broadway.

Rogers and Bennie, tap dancers and buck-and-wing specialists, have appeared on the Orpheum circuit from coast to coast. Miss Cecilia Williams is a vivacious little dancing star from fashionable New York night clubs. Miss Eddie Grumpa is personality girl of the show.

12-ROOM ANNEX BEGUN BY ROOSEVELT HOTEL

Hammers are ringing behind Roosevelt Inn at Bonneville as Contractor Rudie Gantebein and crew of men are beginning construction of a 12-room one-story annex to the hotel.

The new structure is for bachelors only, according to Manager D. R. Scoffern, to provide a place where men may live without being bothered by women and children in close proximity. Work will be completed by August 1.

The annex will form a separate section on higher ground back of the present building. From a porch the entire front 150 feet, guests may overlook Tanner creek and the dam reservation. Showers, running water and a heating plant will be installed, but rates are expected to be slightly lower than for the 34 rooms of the main hotel. Contract price is said to be $1500.

BONNY VILLA

Mr. and Mrs. Warren K. Dunn left last week for a motor tour of California. They plan to visit the exposition at San Diego.

Full of ambition, Bob Allen, Russell Kelly and Jimmy Tanner rose at 2:30 a.m. a week ago, slogged up Eagle creek five miles, returned at noon with 20 trout.

Russell Kelly of Corbett is spending part of his summer vacation from Oregon State college visiting Rolph Enquist, Hal Babbitt and Jimmy Tanner at Bonny Villa tavern. His stay is indefinite.

George Kaas has moved to the coast to work on one of the Oregon highway bridges. Mrs. Kaas expects to join him soon.

Burt Falconer last weekend struggled his way through five miles of heavy snow to go fishing in a high lake on the Washington side, arrived at the lake, tired out from his hike, to find the place jammed with cars—there was a road open, after all. But he didn't give in—he came back with a packed fish basket.

Mrs. S. R. Miller returned Sunday night from a several day visit to her parents in Hood River.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Braund were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ferrington Sunday evening, followed by a theatre party at Bonneville.

Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Jamieson of Weatherly farms, Springdale, visited friends in Bonny Villa Saturday evening, later danced at Merrill's pavilion in Cascade Locks.

Word has been received by Eric Enquist of the death of his mother, Mrs. Sanna Enquist, in Oravais, Finland. She was 83, had not see her son for 31 years.

Jimmy Tanner and Bill Wallace Saturday-nighted in Portland, returned Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter McElroy drove to Hood River Wednesday evening, to The Dalles Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Aultman were visited last week by their niece, Miss Jeanie Thompson, of Portland. The Aultmans left Saturday for a several-weeks' vacation.

Drawn by the inimitable artist, Hal Babbitt, a map of Bonny Villa now hangs on the tavern wall. The map shows the location of every house in the addition, even depicts several residents in characteristic poses.

"King Kong." Dave Johnson's dog, was seriously injured Saturday evening when truck by a car on the highway. The dog, yelping, crawled in a culvert under the highway, refused to emerge although Carl McGinnis spent four hours calling, whistling, (yes, even cussing). Johnson appeared on the scene at 1 a.m., called once, and Kong came right to his master. Kong is reported doing as well as can be expected, although still in a serious condition.

W. Schwerdfager rented an apartment this week.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Johns spent the weekend in Portland visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hyde.

Mr. and Mrs. Sud Winslow returned Friday from their vacation in Carmel-by-the-Sea, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Miller and family of three children moved Friday to West Virginia, where Mr. Miller was hurriedly called to work on another construction job.

Carl McGinnis, Rolph Enquist, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Swanson were among those present Sunday afternoon and evening at Viking park on the Sandy river for the annual picnic of the League of Swedish Societies.

Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Howard let last week for a month's vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Goodrich returned last week from a 16-day vacation spent in Boise, Idaho, and Baker, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Franks left Friday for Spokane to spend their vacation.

Mrs. Ed Turrish and Mrs. Walter McElroy motored to Portland Saturday for the afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Phillips' three-year-old son, Richard, spent Tuesday evening with his parents in their new home. Richard lives in Portland, the late hours of Theatre Manager Phillips' business not permitting him to bring his son here permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Turrish hope to move early next week into their new home at Wee Cove, being built for them by Jack Sawyer. The house is up on the hill, off by itself, and commands a sweeping view of the entire dam and of the Columbia river.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Weller and Hal Babbitt left at 4 a.m. Wednesday to spend three or four days vacation along the Oregon coast beaches.

Rolph Enquist expects to launch his speedy motor boat this weekend. The motor, a model "A", arrived early this week, is being installed now.

Bill Sosotte of the University of California at Berkeley is visiting Carl McGinnis this week.

Mrs. Dave Johnson left Tuesday for an indefinite visit with friends in Pendleton.

FIRE PERMITS BECOME NECESSITY ON JULY 1

Permits to build campfire within national forest land must be obtained beginning Monday, July 1, District Ranger Roy L. Weeman announced yesterday.

Fire permits may be obtained without cost from Columbia George or Eagle Creek ranger stations, from guard stations, rangers, patrollers or lookouts. Failure to obtain permit before building a fire is a misdemeanor, subjecting the violator to a fine.

Bankruptcy Petition Filed
A petition for bankruptcy was filed last week in Portland by Raymond S. Checketts, carpenter at Bonneville. Liabilities were listed at $2822, assets at $150.
