DODSON

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Sams spent a day in ortland last week with their children. They're still busy finishing up the interior of their home. Mr. Sams is now building a linen closet. Progress on the grounds about the house has stopped because, of the dry season forbidding the burning out of stumps.

Friday evening at wienie roast on the beach at McCord creek picnicked Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Correll, Miss Ida Manning, Dick Shook, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Dyck, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Finch and Miss Edith Peterson of Hood River. When mosquitoes in flocks drove them away at dusk, the party went to Bonneville to dance at the new auditorium.

M. M. McCrady was a business visitor to Portland Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Correll spent Tuesday in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. LaFaye Pace moved Monday to Westport on Grays Harbor, Wash., where Mr. Pace will work for Columbia Construction company's new contract for the construction of the Grays harbor jetties. Mr. Pace was carpenter for Columbia on the dam.

Jim Rich of Bonneville and Joe Morris of Cascade Locks were Sunday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Morris. Joe is Mr. Morris' brother, and has been employed in Goldendale, Wash., for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Gunter and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hollingsworth of Coulee city spent Friday to Sunday at Yachats on the ocean beach. The weather, they say, was too chilly there to go in swimming, although it was 'way up in the 90's here. The Hollingsworths returned to Coulee City Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McShako were visited Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. E. Lloyd of Portland. Mrs. McShako's parents, The McShakos have just returned from a two-week vacation trip to the ocean beaches and points in California. They visited the Oregon caves in the southern part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kimbrough returned from a three-week trip to visit Mrs. Kimbrough's mother, Mrs. Elmina Lockridge, in Craigmont, Idaho. It may have been hot at home when they were gone, they say, but they saw one place, Gifford, Idaho, where the mercury soared to 113 degrees and several other places where it was close to that.

WARRENDALE

The attempt of Miss Betty Harris, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harris, to be a tomboy, ended disastrously Tuesday morning when she tried to climb a tree. A sharp nail cut her hand open, necessitating the doctor taking two stitches.

Mary Cook is recovering from a bad attack of whooping cough.

E. E. Davis was the winner of the electric toaster at the store.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Anderson returned Monday night from a week's visit with Mrs. Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Rasmussen, at Clackamas.

George Houtz went back to work Monday on the highway at Cascade Locks after a severe bout with a throat hemorrhage that set in following a double operation for removal of his tonsils. He is reported to be feeling fairly well.

Mr. and Mrs. Chic Johnson have moved into the new Westerlund house following the return home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren K. Dunn from vacation. The Duns brought their daughter, Jean, home from Los Angeles, where she graduated from high school.

Mr. and Mrs. William Steiner spent Monday in Portland.

E. J. Shield this week began work on his new home in Warrendale addition.

Mrs. H. L. Clifton entertained her brother from Portland Sunday.

Joe Westerlund is busy this week commuting between warrendale and Portland. He's moving his boat-building plant to a new location near the end of the Vancouver bridge in ortland. He has three new orders for boats on his books, one from Jimmy Tucker for a 39-footer.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Wickizer of Portland are visiting their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas James Silvers. The Wickizers were employed by Guy F. Atkinson on Bonny Villa residents, living there when Mr. Wickizer was empany in digging the foundation for the dam powerhouse. Over the weekend the two couples and their children picked berries near Gresham for Mrs. Silvers to can.

L. E. McGinnis is now driving a brand-new Chevrolet master coupe.

STATE FAIR SUPPORT URGED BY GOVERNOR

"From a humble beginning, nearly three quarters of a century ago, each succeeding year the state fair has reflected the advancement of the entire state. It is the one big show window where are displayed the finest products from our herds and flocks, from orchard, field, gardens and industries," Governor Charles H. Martin said in his message in the Oregon state fair premium list this week.

"By keen and pleasant competition producers are encouraged to finer quality and more efficient production. The fair is of equal interest to all consumers. Here may be seen the diversity and abundance of Oregon products. "To the people from other states who may be in Oregon from August 31st to September 7th, we extend a cordial invitation to attend. There could be no more eloquent nor true description of our resources and possibilities than the products assembled for this festive occasion.

"I urge all citizens of Oregon to consider this your state fair. Support it with interest and enthusiasm. Bring your out-of-state guests and reveal to them the endowment we enjoy in being citizens of this great state," the Governor said.

INJURED MAN RECEIVES BETTING POOL MONEY

'Twas declared no contest last week in the pool on guessing the time when the Columbia river would overflow the cofferdam below the powerhouse. Reason: the river didn't rise high enough at its flood crest before standing down.

All good sports, pool members at the suggestion of the pool committee, T. F. Johnson and Otto Lunn, turned the proceeds, $37, over to one of the bettors, Jack E. Ryan, in the hospital recovering from injuries suffered while working for General-Shea.

TRUCKS CRASH, SPILL PIES OVER ROADWAY

Parents around Dodson and Bonny Park Friday wondered why their offspring had tummy aches or couldn't eat their dinners.

But they soon found out the cause. A delivery truck of the Bradley Pie company collided with a Shell oil truck on the Columbia river highway in front of Joe Bucher's Hollywood farm, spilling pies all over the landscape.

Lloyd Thrower of Portland, driver of the pie truck, was scratched on the left arm when his truck left the highway to land 16 feet below the highway in a ditch, upside down. Thrower was attempting to pass the oil truck driven by H. W. Mende of Stevenson, just at the latter started to make a left turn.

HORN CLUB ENLARGES STAFF

Miss Bunny Steutzer, niece of Jack Roth, is the new booth waitress at the Horn club, Cascade Locks. She hails from Portland. Increasing business is the cause of the addition, according to Roth.

STATE FAIR ANNOUNCES $25,000 IN PREMIUMS

Premiums amounting to more than $25,000 are offered by the Oregon State Fair this year. Director Solon T. White announces.

Premium lists for the fair, to be held at Salem, August 31-September 7, were in the mail this week for exhibitors.

In addition to that amount $100 will be paid to the person in charge of each county which exhibits. Entries for the county displays must be made by August 15.

There will also be 4-B club premiums and Future Farmers of America awards, as well as special premium money and prizes.

THOM NEW PIG-WIG MANAGER

Harry Thom, formerly of Vancouver, Wash., is new manager of the Piggly-Wiggly store on the Bonneville dam reservation. Thom, who pronounces it "Tom," arrived Thursday to replace Joe Jefferson, who has been transferred to managership of one of the company's stores in Astoria.

"What a homely girl."
"Hey, that's my sister."
"Boy, she's some swell dancer!"
