

ENGINEERS NOW CLEARING LAND ON LAKE SHORE

Clearing of land which will be flooded after the dam is completed and the lake is formed has been started by army engineers at a point a mile or two above Wyeth under direction of Capt. C. M. Myers.

W. W. Laxton, assistant engineer, is in charge of field work. He has a crew of 20 men cutting trees and clearing brush. Additional men will be put to work if the government is able to get permission of land owners to clear property before settlement is made for ground which will be covered with water. Bulk of the men will come from Hood River, and all workers will be hired through the Hood River reemployment office.

The pool in the river, to be formed by high water back of the dam, will have a surface elevation of 72 feet above sea level. This is going to bring the water level up to the edge of the railroad embankment from Cascade Locks to The Dalles. The water will "drown out" all low ground, even at Hood River. In one spot, near Starvation creek, where the highway dips, the water will cross the road, making it necessary for the government to put in a fill. All sandy beaches and pasture lands will be inundated. The airport, three miles east of Cascade Locks, will be under water.

According to plans entertained by the army engineers the government is prepared to give wood away to people who will haul it off the land. Details of handling the distribution of the wood have not been worked out.

P. T. A. MEETING

There will be an important meeting of the executive board of the Cascade Locks Parent-Teacher association Monday afternoon, October 7, at 1:30, at the home of Mrs. M. L. Morgan. All board members are being urged to attend.

RAINFALL WAS LIGHT

Rainfall in the Bonneville Dam district was lighter than usual in September, temperatures were above normal and the sun did full duty most of the month. September, year ago, the district got more than two inches of rain. Last month Cascade Locks got an inch, Bonneville, an inch-and-a-quarter.

WARRENDALE

Mrs. Allan Tilley left for a two months visit with her parents in Erie, Penn., last week.

Mrs. B. F. Carter, Mrs. Roy Cook and Mrs. F. W. Crocker spent Wednesday morning in seeing the country from the hiker's viewpoint. First they hiked up to Dry creek falls near Cascade Locks and then not satisfied they hiked up the Herman creek trail behind the Columbia gorge ranger station, from where they obtained a wonderful view of the gorge. This next week, 'tis said, they are planning on going up the Tanner Butte trail to Wauna Point, from where they can look directly down on the Bonneville project.

Mrs. R. Stark spent the past week in Portland with her sister while her son had his tonsils removed.

Mrs. Mary Chatterton, who has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. T. B. Beck, for the past two weeks left this week for Bremerton, where she will visit her parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Keene, before returning to her home in Oak Park, Ill.

In honor of the birthday of F. W. Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crocker, his parents, entertained him and Mrs. Crocker and Portland friends at a birthday dinner at the senior Crocker's home in Portland Sunday.

Mr and Mrs. J. C. Kimsey returned Friday after enjoying a three day vacation at Long Beach, Washington. They spent as much time as they could out clamming and crabbing. A good mess to bring home with them was their reward.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Fraley of Dufur, visited Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Farger, while enroute to Portland. The Fargers formerly lived in Dufur.

A. E. Johnson has just completed a set of concrete steps of Mr. Johnson's own design. With these completed the landscaping of their place is nearly completed in front.

Mrs. Galen Fancher of Cascade Locks and Mrs. R. Q. Coleman motored into Portland Thursday night for the monthly meeting of the 8 and 49. Mrs. Fancher was one of the hostesses for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Cook were dinner guests Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Klingbiel. Mrs. Klingbiel served the salad she had won that day as a door prize at the Oregonian cooking school in Bonneville.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Klingbiel were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Coleman Saturday night.

TIES BEING LAID FOR NEW RAILROAD LINE

Ballasting of the Union Pacific's new roadbed west of Bonny Villa to the deep cut at View point has been started by the contractors and laying of steel is to get under way this month.

Ties for the new line are being hauled down from the plant at The Dalles and placed in position. Steel rails are in the yard at Bonneville.

It has been rumored that the army engineers propose to route highway traffic over the completed grade from Bonneville, east through the new tunnel and over the Eagle creek bridge, while the highway tunnel west of Eagle creek is under construction. Engineers say the rumor is without foundation of fact, and point to the impracticability of such a plan by calling attention to weeks of work remaining to be done on the View point cut.

PORTLAND MEN ASK PERMISSION TO RUN BARGE LINE ON RIVER

First move in what promises to be a battle for control of the Columbia river after Bonneville dam is completed was made late last week when the Inland Navigation company, of Portland, which has filed an application for barge service on the upper river and the Snake with the Inland Waterways corporation.

Headed by R. S. Whaley, president, and H. A. Dent, vice president, the company says it is prepared to build a fleet of barges which will ply the Columbia, east to Lewiston, on the Snake.

"The first ship will be 250 feet long and draw as much water as possible in the two rivers," Jack Hyneman, general manager, told Portland newspaper men. "We expect to begin regular service in the spring."

At the Theatre

Humor of all types and varieties is in store for the moviegoers this week at the Roosevelt theater in Bonneville. Dramatic humor, sophisticated humor, and just plain old fashioned humor with some slapstick thrown in for good measure.

Laurel and Hardy appear Friday and Saturday in "Bonnie Scotland", which is perhaps their best picture since they started working as a team. Laurel, as Stanley McLaurel, is notified that he is mentioned in the will of a wealthy uncle in Scotland. So accompanied by his grandiose friend, Oliver Hardy, he arrives in the heatherland to take over the magnificent estate of the late relative. But the estate so far as Stan is concerned consists of some valueless heirlooms. After this disillusionment, the pair becomes involved in a hilarious situation which ends with them being recruited in the Scottish Highlanders and assigned for foreign duty in India in His Majesty's Service. From this point on the two attired in kilts, romp through a series of exciting adventures. The entire family will enjoy this comedy. It is the first time in some time that the Roosevelt theater has had a film on Friday and Saturday nights that we could wholeheartedly recommend for the children of the district.

William Powell plays one of the most engaging roles in many a moon, and at the same time introduces Luise Rainer, a flashing new personality to the American screen as his leading lady, in "Escapade", gay Continental cocktail drama playing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. It is the story of an artist whose flirtations land him into trouble with the jealous husband of a former sweetheart, and a romance with a demure girl whom he chooses for an alibi in the mix-up over the painting of a married woman, which accidentally got into print.

Through unusual dramatic twists, comedy, drama, romance, and music, are all blended into an evening of enjoyable entertainment.

"No More Ladies", Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new Joan Crawford picture co-starring Robert Montgomery, one of the finest pictures these two stars have ever made, shows Wednesday and Thursday.

An uproarious comedy with strong underlying drama of the tactics used by a modern woman to hold the husband she loves, features an exceptionally brilliant cast including: Charles Ruggles, Franchot Tone, Edna May Oliver, Gail Patrick, and Reginald Denny.

Those booked for the remainder of the month include: "The Man on the Flying Trapeze", "The Raven", "Goin' to Town", "She", and "Love Me Forever."
