THERE IS A DIFFERENCE

..... if you were a judge of milk cows, and if you had the time, you might drive about the County and choose a source of milk supply for your family. Dairy science recognizes a difference in breed and health of herds and the effect it has upon the milk they produce. Arden Protected Milk comes from selected herds of cattle. The selection is made by well qualified dairy experts who give their full time to this work. We give you this added service at no increase in cost. It is one more reason you should use
