WHEN AMERICA SINGS

A wise man once said that no nation which did not sing could ever be truly happy. This is another way of saying that only those people who lift their voices in song know the joy of living.

The wise man's words were echoed recently in Variety, popular news weekly of the stage. It called attention to the fact that quartets and choral societies were becoming popular again. And a radio speaker, remarking some days ago on the story in Variety, told his audience that here was the most significant fact observed in connection with the depression and recovery from the financial chaos into which the United States was plunged nearly six years ago.

"When America begins to sing there is no stopping it," he said.

Into that one sentence the voice on the radio packed more truth than has been uttered by all the economists and statesmen since the United States began the long pull back to recovery. The pioneers whipped their hardships with song; and the American Expeditionary Force sang its way across France and up through Luxemburg and into Germany.

LUMBER TARIFF

With the signing of the new trade treaty which permits Canadian mills to dump lumber into the American market President Roosevelt appears to have stirred up a hornet's nest. And with the storm raging in the Pacific northwest genial "Jim" Farley, postmaster-general and custodian of our mails, is scheduled to speak in Portland Saturday. What the boss of the democratic party hears while in Oregon will no doubt make his ears burn, and indeed, it will make his hair curl.

No satisfactory excuse has been advanced for the signing of the new trade treaty. The pact does not make reason, especially in the Bonneville Dam Area, where hundreds upon hundreds of lumber workers have been employed upon relief work. It is not improbable that the President feels it is the part of wisdom to keep one section of the country upon dole while aiding another—and more thickly populated section—to enjoy increased prosperity.

Lumbermen are making much fuss and business throughout the Pacific northwest is concerned over the leveling of tariff barriers, but the lumber industry survived an era of duty-free lumber prior to the Roosevelt administration and mills will continue to operate. Greatest suffers will be mill employees, for the duty is being lifted at a time when labor is beginning to earn a decent wage again. And it is from labor, rather than from mill owners and agriculture, that the President may encounter the strongest opposition. Labor can use the boycott effectively if it chooses to act, and with public opinion solidly behind it labor may be expected to throw down the gauntlet.

TIME YOU OLD GIPSY MAN

by RALPH HODGSON
Time, you old gipsy man,
Will you not stay,
Put up your caravan
Just for one day?

All things I'll give you
Will you be my guest,
Bells for your jennet
Of silver the best,
Goldsmiths shall beat you
A great golden ring,
Peacocks shall bow to you
Little boys sing,
Oh, and sweet girls will Festoon you with May
Time, you old gipsy,
Why hasten away?

Last week in Babylon,
Last week in Rome,
Morning in the crush
Under Paul's dome;
Under Paul's dial
You tighten your rein—
Only a moment,
And off once again;
Off to some city
Now blind in the womb,
Off to another
Ere that's in the tomb.

Time, you old gipsy man,
Will you not stay,
Put up your caravan
Just for a day?

WHY WORRY?

I wonder why folk worry. There are only two reasons for worry.

Either you are successful, or you are not successful. If you are successful, there is no reason for worry. If you are not successful, there are only two reasons for worry.

Your health is either good, or you are sick. If your health is good, there is no reason for worry. If you are sick, there are only two reasons for worry.

You are either going to get well, or you are going to die. If you are going to get well, there is no reason for worry. If you are going to die, there are only two reasons for worry.

You are either going to heaven, or you are not going to heaven. And if you are going to heaven, there is no reason for worry. If you are going to hell, you will be so busy shaking hands with your old friends, that you won't have time to worry.

SO WHY WORRY?

Wonder is involuntary praise.—Young.

EAGLES PLAN ANOTHER DANCE AT CRAIGMONT

The Eagles are holding the second of their monthly dances for this season at the Craigmont Hotel, Tuesday, November 26.

As an added attraction this time a plate lunch and coffee will be given with every paid admission. The admission price even with this added attraction has not been raised for gents and in the case of women it is only 25 cents.

A live turkey will be given away as door prize. During the four days before the dance this turkey will be on display in front of various business houses in the district.

STATE BUILDS FENCE

The state highway department this week completed construction of a five-foot wire fence around the top of the fill on Eagle Creek heights. The C.C.C. boys from Wyeth will paint the posts. The work of putting the fence up was completed Saturday.

He: When I talk people listen with their mouths open.

She: Oh, are you a dentist?

At the Theatre

Three varied and outstanding pictures are on the program for the Roosevelt Theatre in Bonneville this week.

Spencer Tracy's most recent picture, "The Murder Man," in which he stars with lovely Virginia Bruce, featured Friday and Saturday at the Roosevelt. Although he is noted for powerful screen characterizations, Tracy never has had a more vivid role than in this picture. He plays a star reporter of a New York newspaper and is dubbed "The Murder Man" because of his success in solving mysterious crimes. Becoming involved in a murder case, Tracy aids the police in finding the true criminal, with disastrous results to himself. With the stars is a strong cast headed by Lionel Atwill, Harvey Stephens and Robert Barrat. The production was directed by Tim Whelan.

Fresh laurels were heaped on the heads of Fredric March and Charles Laughton showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, as co-stars of Darryl Zanuck's stirring production of Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables."

A truly great picture, handsomely mounted and flawlessly directed by Richard Boleslawski, this latest 20th Century production follows the eventful life of Jean Valjean, who suffered five years of torture in the galleys of a French prison ship for stealing a loaf of bread and found his whole life darkened by the shadow of the Law, in the person of Javert, a fanatical detective who has dedicated himself to carrying out that Law to the letter.

"Les Miserables" is magnificent entertainment, full of the color and passion of the novel which millions have read and will enjoy the privilege of seeing so brilliantly transcribed to the screen.

Wednesday and Thursday Wallace Berry and Jackie Cooper are shown in "O'Shaughnessy's Boy" which is certain to be more than a favorite with the children of the area.

For their brilliant performances in "The Champ" and "Treasure Island," Wally and Jackie have been rewarded with their greatest film. They score a new dramatic triumph under the Big Top—Wally as "Windy," famous animal trainer, and Jackie, as his son.

As "Windy," happy-go-lucky, swaggering animal trainer, who faced a ferocious tiger and frantic elephant for the love of his son, "Stubby," Beery has one of the finest roles of his long and illustrious screen career.
