At the Theatre

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday brings Richard Arlen, Virginia Bruce, Alice Brady and Bruce Cabot in "Let 'Em Have It."

The story, which introduces Arlen, Stephens and Jones as three fearless young Federal sleuths, was written by Joseph Moncure March and Elmer Harris. Virginia Bruce is seen as a wealthy society girl whose chauffeur, Joe Keefer (Bruce Cabot), engineers an attempt to kidnap her. The three buddies frustrate the attempt and a romance develops between Arlen and the girl. Keefer is paroled and swiftly becomes the country's most dangerous public enemy. The Federal forces bend every effort to track him down and, after a series of the most breath-taking adventures ever screened, the buddies get their man and his mob and "Let 'Em Have It." Sam Wood directed the film, which is released through United Artists.

Two adventure tales and a story of the United States Naval Academy are on tap this week at the Roosevelt theatre.

The "Count of Monte Cristo", starring Robert Donat and Elissa Landi shows Friday and Saturday.

The thrilling story of Edmond Dantes, the young Frenchman, torn from his sweetheart's arms by his enemies and unjustly imprisoned and left to rot in the grim Chateau d'If, is made to order for Donat, and Elissa Landi is ideally cast as the girl, Mercedes. How, when Dantes has lost hope of ever seeing daylight again, the sage, old Abbe Faria who occupies the next cell, tells him of a secret treasure buried on the island of Monte Cristo, and educates him so that when he finally escapes he may face the world a superman; how Dantes escapes, following the good Abbe's death, locates the treasure, and returns, a fabulously wealthy man, to visit a slow and sweet revenge on each of the three enemies responsible for his misery, is perhaps too well-known to require re-telling here.

Wednesday and Thursday "Annapolis Farewell" starring Richard Cromwell, Rosaline Keith, Tom Brown and Sir Guy Standing, in the greatest navy picture ever filmed, is shown on the screen.
