

DODSON

Bonnie Park residents are rejoicing. The roofs of the six cabins fronting on the highway and owned by R. T. Jacobs of Portland were shingled last week. The famed winds of the Columbia gorge proved too much for their former tar paper covering, letting in the rain. As a result, residents scurried around with tin cans and buckets to catch the drips. But now they're happy, for no matter how hard it rains, no water can get past the new shingles.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Beatie and family spent a night in Portland last week.

Dick Correll is recovering from the results of smashing his toe while at work last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Johnson were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bly of Warrendale Saturday evening. The Johnsons were visitors to Portland Saturday.

Mrs. John Karg spent Friday and Saturday shopping in Portland.

The West Coast Power company has finished installation of a larger transformer at Dodson to take care of the load imposed by a greater number of connections. The old transformer had proved incapable of handling the heavy load. Improvement in power service is already seen.

Mrs. John Karg and Mrs. Ed. Davis drove to Portland Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. McCurdy installed a new diesel oil burner in their cookstove Sunday. "Mac" went to Portland Monday on business.

BONNY VILLA

Carl Swanson is still convalescing from an injured knee, suffered the day after Christmas while at work as powderman for Columbia Construction company. He expects to return to work soon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Rintoul spent Saturday evening in Portland.

"The Wind," a poem by Mrs. G. E. Ferrington, appeared in last Sunday's issue of The Oregon Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Schwerdtfeger spent the weekend in Portland.

Bill Doty has moved from his Bonny Villa cabin to Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ferrington of Portland visited the Glenn Ferringtons Sunday.

Mrs. Ed Scheuflee is recovering in a Portland hospital from a serious major operation. Mrs. V. L. Garner of Eagle creek visited her Saturday as she came out of the ether and reports Mrs. Scheuflee seems to be making a rapid recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Braund entertained Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Nichols and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Ferrington with a party Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Jones were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Earl McGinnis. The turkey was delicious, they both declare.

Jimmy Tanner is said to be trying to rival Hy Frager, remembered as the former Community center chef. Tanner is raising a crop of blonde down on his upper lip. Well defined rumor states that when it gets long enough, he will use an eyebrow pencil to make it black, use wax to make it stiff.

The air near the John Tucker residence was a bit bluish this week. Mr. Tucker was busy overhauling his automobile, a job that requires a considerable amount of vocal labor.

Howard Stobey celebrated his birthday Saturday evening with a party at his home. Present were Mrs. Stobey, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Braund, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Miller, Mrs. Verne Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Erdman are new residents near the tavern. They are from Portland.

Mr. and Buck Hicks have just purchased a new Chrysler sedan. Bob Kelly spent Monday in Portland.

C. R. Grimm and son, Robert, and John Tucker drove to Portland Friday night to hear Admiral Byrd tell of his achievements at the South Pole.

Rolph Enquist attended a dance at Cedarville Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller spent Thursday in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Crow are building an addition onto their home. Rumor says Mrs. Crow is not averse to handling a hammer and saw if her husband's carpentry doesn't suit her.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jarl of Ridge Timber visited Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Grimm Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Jones are expecting the visit of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson and son, Richard, and Miss Dorothy Johnson, all of Wheaton, Minn. Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Johnson are Mrs. Jones' parents. The group was in Los Angeles the first of the week and is expected to come to Bonneville immediately.

Mrs. Charles A. Johnson, mother of "Chic" Johnson of Spillway fame, is visiting her son and daughter-in-law. She plans to return to her home in Salt Lake City in about three weeks.

The Rev. and Mrs. Stanley Trefren were hosts several days the end of last week to the Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Fisher, missionaries from the interior of China, where the Rev. Trefren's sister, Doris, is now stationed. Mr. Trefren accompanied the visitors along the Columbia river highway to point out the sights on their return to Portland Monday afternoon.

To tea Tuesday afternoon at Mrs. Oskar Ecklund's home came Mrs. Leo Price, Mrs. C. C. Olmstead, Mrs. W. S. Hicks. The ladies made baskets in preparation for the Cascade Locks Eagles' basket social Friday night at the Craigmont Inn at the Locks.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Phillips were disagreeably surprised when they returned from their work at the Roosevelt theatre week ago Sunday to find the massive top of a huge fir tree had smashed thru their clothesline and picnic table right beside their home. It made Phillips more than a bit angry, because he spent weeks building the table last summer. Now he has to build another. The high wind was responsible for the falling of the tree, about 18 inches in diameter.

Mrs. Joe McCandless is reported to be recovering in a Portland hospital from an attack of septic sore throat. Mr. McCandless, in the hospital with the same ailment, was in a critical condition Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Myers took the McCandless' two sons, Bernard and Claude, into Portland Tuesday afternoon to see their parents.

W. S. Hicks joined the Bonneville post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at their meeting Monday.

MORGAN EXPANDS STATION

M. L. Morgan Wednesday morning began construction of a grease rack and mechanic's shop beside his Standard service station in Cascade Locks. When it is completed he will be able to offer complete superservice to his customers. Included is a fire station to house the Lock's new fire truck.
