OUR PROGRAM

1. Develop a fire protection system.
2. Create a water district and develop lands between Craigmont hotel and Herman creek.
3. Install street lights.
4. Lay down sidewalks—even though they are wooden sidewalks.
5. Urge the federal government to purchase the toll bridge and make it a free bridge.
6. Launch a campaign to make the lake back of the dam the most popular resort on the West Coast.

Bonny Villa

Jimmy Tanner and Russell Kelly spent the weekend in Longview, Wash., where they visited close friends. They stayed at the Monticello hotel.

Shorty Bickel has been seen muttering to himself these past two or three weeks. A vast amount of gumshoe work elicited the information that he's peeved at the weather. He went back east some time ago, only to find extreme cold there. So he packed up and returned to what he thought would be Oregon's damp but warmish winter. Day after he got home, the whole district froze up, snow fell and ice coated everything. Naturally, Shorty was peeved.

The boys at the tavern are at it again. Not content with his two previous attempts, Jimmy Tanner is again trying to raise a mustache. Rolph Enquist appeared in public Saturday evening with a few blonde hairs straggling across his upper lip and latest advices report him on the verge of shaving it off.

Shirley and Jack Schulenberg, children of Mr. and Mrs. H. Schulenberg, are recovering from attacks of the measles.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Letlow and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ismay both moved out of their Bonny Villa cabins last week, neglecting the formality of paying their rent, according to Eric Enquist, owner of the cabins. The two couples are believed to have gone to North Bonneville, Wash.

Mrs. H. Schulenberg went to Portland Thursday to visit her father, John Henry, ill in a Portland hospital.

Louie Jossund was taken to Portland last week to the hospital with a bad case of pneumonia.

C. R. Grim is back at work after a week's bout with stomach influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Jones spent Monday in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Grim drove Sunday to Oak Grove to visit Mrs. Flora Kilgore, an old neighbor of theirs who is so seriously ill that she is not expected to live.

The Rev. Stanley Trefren has returned to his home after spending several weeks in Portland at the home of Samuel Lancaster fighting off a severe attack of mumps. The Rev. Trefren is still confined to his bed and unable to do church work.

Mrs. Fred Wirth and son, Ernest, who now live in Portland, visited old friends and neighbors at Bonny Villa Sunday.

Mrs. O. V. Christianson spent Saturday in Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Christianson drove to The Dalles Sunday.

Jim Bowen is confined to his bed this week with influenza.

Mrs. Joe McCandless has returned to Bonny Villa after spending over a month in a Portland hospital with an infected shoulder. She is staying at the Ashley Myers home.

Mrs. Ray Wilson and son, Scotty, have returned from a visit of several months in California.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Miller left early last week to visit Mr. Miller's father in Hood River. The elder Mr. Miller is seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Braund were hosts Friday evening to an informal gathering of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Ferrington, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Rintoul spent the weekend in Portland.

Glenn Ferrington is recovering from the effects of having two teeth pulled in Portland last Wednesday. A secondary hemorrhage developed after the teeth were out which caused him to lose approximately a quart of blood and necessitating his return to the dentist for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Swanson spent the weekend in Portland.

John Tucker has returned to his work for General-Shea after recovering from an accident in which his eye was struck by flying, red-hot welding metal.

Chic Johnson of Spillway fame celebrated his 31st birthday anniversary this week with a dinner and bridge party Monday evening at his home at Bonneville. Guests were Charles Jones and Leonard Burdick. Mrs. Johnson baked a special cake, hoped to keep the party a secret, but it leaked out. Chic's birthday was Tuesday.

Bowling along the highway near Multnomah falls Monday evening, Jimmy Tanner and Russell Kelly hit a boulder that had fallen into the road as a result of the thaw. Two tires were blown and the boys were in a bit of a quandry, since they had only one spare. Kelly, due at work at midnight at the dam, hooked rides on to Bonneville, while Commodore Hershel Shreve and Rolph Enquist, who had been throwing the oar in front of the tavern fireplace, rushed to the rescue with an extra tire.

SORRY, OUR ERROR

When the Chronicle several weeks ago stated that the Portland city council had first accepted an invitation to luncheon with the Cascade of luncheon with the U. S. engineers at the dam, the Chronicle was in error. The invitation was politely refused by the Portland council which had previously accepted the offer of the engineers.

REBEKAHS HOLD SOCIAL MEETING AT MORGAN'S

Rebekahs gathered last Wednesday afternoon for a social meeting at the home of Mrs. M. L. Morgan in Cascade Locks.

Mrs. R. J. Wuner gave a short but interesting talk on George Washington. Further plans for a district convention in Hood River this month were discussed.

Present were Mrs. Frank Hall, Mrs. Sue Woodward, Mrs. L. L. Sprague, Mrs. Silver Perras, Mrs. Charles Nelson, Mrs. Wuner and Mrs. Moran.

RUNER HENDRICKS GETS NEW OFFICE POSITION

In recognition of the work he had been doing the past several years for the P. J. McGowan Co. at Dodson, Runer Hendricks this week accepted a position as bookkeeper for the New England Fish company at their cannery at Pillar rock, one-half hour by boat from Astoria.

Hendricks, who was born on Bradford Island, has followed river fishing all of his life. For the past six months he has been helping brother Roy on the Independent ferry between Bonneville and North Bonneville. In the fishing season he has been bookkeeper for the McGowan company. At his new position he will have a year around job.

The Pillar rock plant can only be reached by steamer from Astoria.

Mrs. Hendricks was the guest of honor at several parties in the Dodson district before their departure Tuesday for their new home.

SWITCH BIDS CALLED

U. S. engineers are calling for bids for a 2,400-volt metal-clad switch gear for the powerhouse station service system. Proposals will be opened March 13 in the Pittock block, Portland.

TANKER CAUSES LAUGH

It sounds like something out of Ripley, but a gasoline tank truck and trailer belonging to the Red Arrow line ran out of gas one day last week near Columbia Gorge district ranger station east of Cascade Locks. A hurry call brought M. L. Morgan of Morgan's service station at the Locks to the rescue. The tanker was westbound for Portland, cargoless.

NATURAL GAS: The result of meeting between a man with a pocket radio and a golfer who has made a hole-in-one.

A foreman had just fired a mule loafing while not watched, "Is he ing you because, when I'm gone you're the laziest man on the job?"

Don't laugh at the man who walks down the street talking to himself. He may be a married man and that is his only chance.

They call Washington the seat of our government, guess he'd be the mill, because that is the place to register your kicks.

THE WAY IT WORKS

Conservative: "So you believe dividing everything up, do you?"
Socialist: "Yes."
Conservative: "Would you be willing to give me half your cow?"
Socialist: "Yes, most certainly."
Conservative: "Would you give half your chickens?"
Socialist: "No. That's different."
Conservative: "What's the difference?"
Socialist: "Why I've got chickens and I ain't got no cows."

POME

The bear went over the mountain to see what he could see. He saw 187 sign boards, 17 auto camps, 56 filling stations, 76 lunch stands, 11 garages and 11987 unshaven tourists. Was all that he could see.

And Dumb Gertie thinks her Arc was Noah's wife.

MIRROR: A useful article which often tends to reduce content.

There is said to be no truth in the story that Sandy McCall made of one of his triplets, and pasted them in the hum, three in a row.

At the Baptist church last day they were singing: "Will Be Any Stars in My Crown?" The Methodist they were singing: "No, Not One," and at the Christian they were singing: "That Will Be Glory For Me."

Banker (Calling up a customer): "Do you know your account is drawn $11?"

Customer: "Say, Mr. Banker, up a month ago, how did I do then? I'll hold the wire."

Banker, returning: "Your balance of $465."

Customer: "Well, did I do up?"
