

Yale Scientists Weigh Atom Nucleus

Dr. Ernest Pollard, left, and Dr. Charles Brasefield, research workers at Yale university, who weighed the nucleus of a sulphur atom by bombarding sulphur with an electric charge of 10,000 volts. They reached a figure of 31.9818, which is the nearest exact weight of a nucleus of a sulphur atom yet recorded.

Griffith Takes a Young Bride

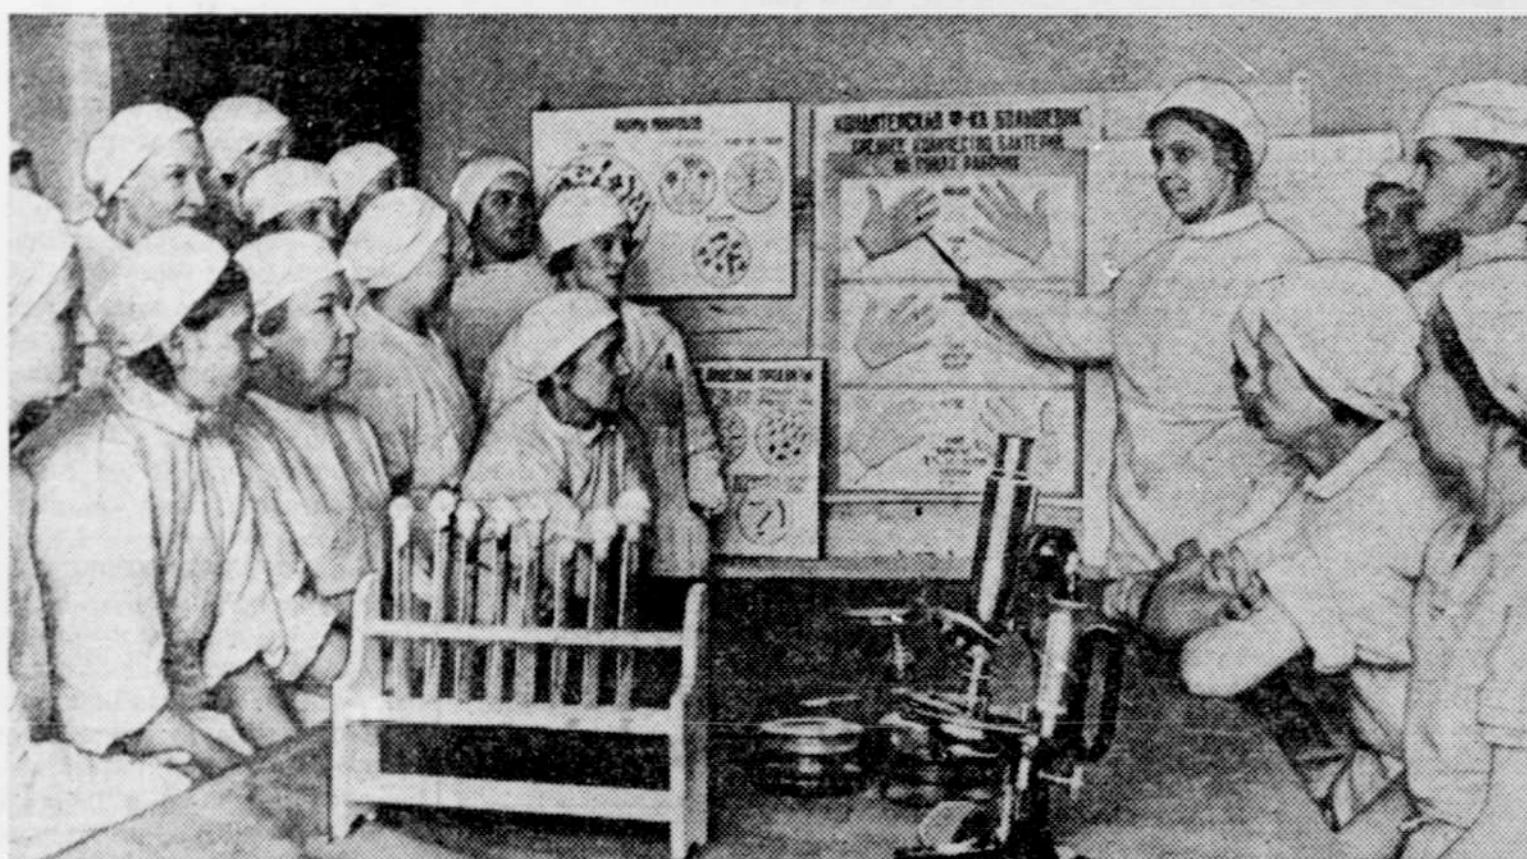

David Wark Griffith, fifty-six, veteran movie producer, with his bride, the former Miss Evelyn Marjorie Baldwin of New York, aged twenty-six, photographed at the wedding supper in Louisville, Ky.

America's Only First Place Medal

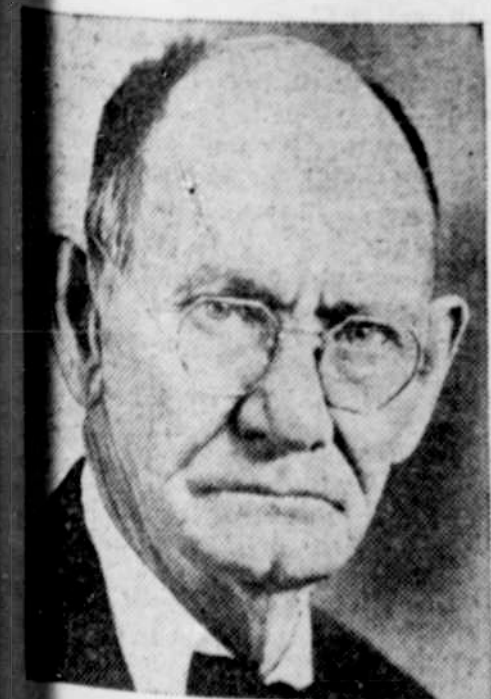

Here is a close-up of the lone first-place gold medal that was won by the American team in the recent winter Olympic games at Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Bavaria. The prize was won by Alan M. Washbond and Ivan Brown, our two-man bobsled team.

Sanitation in the Soviet Food Industry

Sanitation is of extreme importance in the food industry in the Soviet Union. The progress made in sanitation and hygienic working conditions in the food products plants has resulted in a decided rise in the quality of the products. Here a bacteriologist of the Bolshevik confectionery factory is illustrating the progress made through personal cleanliness. By means of a graph she is showing what that means to the consumer.

OPPOSES ROBINSON

Thornesberry A. Gray of Batesville, Ark., former representative in the Arkansas legislature, who has announced that he will enter the 1936 primary as an opponent of Senator Joseph T. Robinson. Mr. Gray states that he is a foe of the New Deal, but is an earnest supporter of the principles of the Democratic

Miners of Mexico March on the Capital

Employees of a big mine at Guanajuato, Mexico, struck for higher pay and then marched on foot nearly 300 miles to Mexico City to demand assistance from President Cardenas and other government officials. The photograph

FROM GALAPAGOS

Dr. Raymond Lee Ditmars, authority on reptiles, inspects one of the ten Iguana land lizards from Galapagos Islands soon after the arrival of the lizards at the Bronx park zoo. These lizards are the first of their kind ever to arrive in New York city in healthy condition. It is hoped they will be zoo attractions.