

Fabric Accent on Pretty Woolens

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

SUIT yourself this spring — it's quite the smartest thing to do. To state it more emphatically, a suit or "compose" ensemble tailored of handsome woolen weave is a fashion "must" this spring. You are not the type to wear a suit? Before you jump at conclusions see the endless variety of suits in the spring style parade.

There's a whole family-tree of suits in the fashion picture, related as far as the perfectly stunning woolens that fashion them, yet entirely different in the final analysis of color moods, silhouette and general style. If you are too heavy at the waistline to wear one of the trim little man-tailored short-jacket suits, there is a consolation prize awaiting you in the picturesque cape- and -skirt models tailored of some one or other of the gorgeous tropical woolens that make color glory and novel weave their theme. Such a costume is pictured to the left in the illustration. This is a Bruyere ensemble of a nubby gray and green mixed summer tweed.

The classic tailleur developed in men's wear suitings is an outstanding fashion, with definite preference for the single breasted type with its flattering sweep of long lapels. Both hard and soft finished worsteds are used in these suits, with sharkskins, herringbone weaves, distinct checks, chevrons, serge types, monotone and chalk stripe flannels and wool gabardine all important.

Men's checked worsted is the practical fabric for the good looking spring suit to the right in the picture. It has a classic single-breasted three-button jacket with traditional flap pockets and a slim straight skirt. The back panel of the jacket and the skirt are correspondingly slashed at the sides.

The new mixed or compose ensembles are appearing with coats in contrasting color and fabric. The "baby reefer" of fingertip length with double-breasted closing and man-tailored styling of lapels and pockets is frequently seen in covert cloth, or in wool gabardine, in beige, tan, navy or gray worn over tailored suits or with the one-piece dress of contrasting woolen. A reefer coat of the sort described centers the group shown. It is tailored of a very fine wool gabardine. Note especially its new length. The latest "baby" swagger coats also adopt this new length, also a hip-length.

The newest tweeds (in the lead for travel and country wear) are in rich deep colorings accented with flecks and nubs of contrasting shades. There are also many soft lovely tweeds in natural and pastel colors with over-patterning in bright color. Casual assemblings are smart in informal suits, the skirts frequently being in monotone or flecked tweeds and the jackets in gun club patternings, hound's tooth or shepherd checks or conservative glen plaids.

Faille and Bengaline Are Played Up for Spring Wear

Ribbed fabrics—faille and bengaline—are played up in collections for spring in an important way, used for entire costumes, jackets and blouses, also employed as trimmings—collars, cuffs, vests and plastrons.

Velled fashions continue to be featured, with chiffon or marquise posed over printed frocks, both afternoon and evening, and then sometimes the sheer fabric takes the form of a redingote, open from waistline to hemline.

Decorative edges at hemlines of jackets and also of skirts are highly regarded, with shallow pleated edges approved, with scalloped outlines, fagoted bands, and braid, all giving a dressmaker look to costumes.

Fashion Notes

The tube-shaped skirt for daytime is universally adopted.

Helium is the spring fashion name for oyster-white tone.

The popular thin smock is certainly a joy for the housewife.

Babylike rompers are shown for beach wear by some French designers.

Tiny flower turbans and gay belts will touch up your dark dress costume.

Everything for daytime in Nettie Rosenstein's spring line has boxy shoulders.

A modernized directoire influence appears in some of the new evening gowns.

White plique plays a leading role in trimming on spring clothes as well as hats.

Hip-length flowing jackets, with all the fullness in the back, are worn this season.

An enormous velvet bow worn on the left shoulder is used to trim a graceful satin evening gown.

Petticoats made of bright prints on a dark crepe ground are smart to wear beneath your dark tailored suit.

New Petit Point Luggage Recalls Old Carpet Bags

Reminiscent of the carpet bag our forefathers carried are the modern pieces of petit point luggage.

These bags, fashioned from petit point and leather, are right enough to please the airplane traveler and handsome enough to delight the most fastidious. Incidentally, a petit point make-up and overnight case harmonizes nicely with any other type of luggage.

You might keep this in mind the next time you start out to buy gifts.

My Neighbor Says:

Fresh fruit or fruit juices, mixed with sufficient confectioner's sugar to stiffen, make a delicious covering for white or yellow cake. A little lemon juice added to the frosting improves the flavor.

When soft cheese is to be creamed work it with a spatula or wooden spoon as you would shortening.

Keep cloths used for polishing furniture in a covered tin or galvanized iron pail. Cloths saturated with polishing liquids, stored away in closets, often cause spontaneous combustion.

Brands His Bees

A beekeeper at Whitton, New South Wales, brands his bees. His statement to this effect was met with such a chorus of disbelief that he exhibited a honey display and a frame of bees. The queen bee was branded on the thorax with a numbered metal disk.
