Mary Ann Williams arrived at school Monday morning with a huge white plush Easter rabbit with pink-lined ears and red glass eyes. The bunny was dressed in a purple and yellow suit, carried a cane, wore a yellow hat cocked over one ear.

For several weeks grade 1-A has been working on a Pueblo Indian project. First a background of white clouds and blue sky was worked into an eight-foot poster with chalk. Next cactus plants and sagebrush were cut out and colored. Then the pueblo houses, with their stair-like formation and entrance ladders were drawn in and colored. Ovens for baking bread occupy the foreground of a large house. The poster is completed with a grove of trees, figures of Indians and horses both at work and at play.

Virginia Randolph, formerly of Gascon, is a new member of the fourth grade.

Third and fourth grade boys are becoming real baseball enthusiasts with the coming of spring weather. A team is being formed and practice scheduled for competition within a few weeks.

BONNEVILLE

(By Florence Gudhart)

Guests visiting the eighth grade

the past week were Catherine Williams, sister of Nicholas Williams; Bonnie Williams, cousin of Wilma Waggoner, and Jerry McFadden who was a former student.

Priscilla Blanchard has returned to the third grade after several days' illness.

The Easter egg hunt and party was enjoyed very much by the fifth grade.

The third and fourth grade children are organizing a Junior Audubon society. Much interest is being displayed in the study and protection of birds.

The American Legion is working on a flag pole which the organization is giving to the school. Soon we will be flying "Old Glory." We owe our gratitude to the American Legion which has done so much for the school in the past two years.

Both teams of the Bonneville school were subdued when they tackled the Corbett teams in soft ball. The score resulted for the girls 6 to 12, and for the boys 6 to 8. Next Thursday at 1 p.m. Corbett will again play. We anticipate a reversal of the results.

With only three weeks of school left the first grade children have been counting the number of library books they have read at home this year. Connie Carroll has read the most, 20 books to date.

Marjorie Marvin, Patricia Laxton, Janet Torkelson and Shirley Blanchard returned to the second grade Monday after having been absent because of measles.

The following teachers attended teachers' meeting in Portland Tuesday evening: Mr. Robertson, Mrs. O'Keefe, Miss Merritt and Mrs. Larnum.

Those on the health honor roll in the sixth and seventh grades for the past week were: Billy Fargher, Lois Myers, Junior Horton, Elinor Miller, Wilma Venohr, Virgil Anderson, Jimmy Dow, Ione Goodrich, Olga Bacaloff, Leota Parks, David Noah, Harold Jubie, Harry Smith.

Multnomah county music festival will be held this year at the Russellville school auditorium on Friday, May 1, at 1:30 p.m. All parents are cordially invited to attend. Bonneville will have participants in the primary chorus, intermediate chorus, junior chorus, and chorus of boys' unchanged voices. Anyone interested who has room for transportation of students, please get in touch with the school.
