

England's Great Liner From the Air

An aerial view of the Queen Mary, the new British superliner, being escorted by tugs down the Clyde river to Greenock. Afterwards the great ship was given a test at sea which proved successful.

Sunday Is the Day of Days for This Family

Here is a real Sunday family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fay of Dedham, Mass., and their six children. Mother and father met on a Sunday, were engaged on a Sunday and married on a Sunday. Their first born arrived on Sunday. Four more children arrived, and all on Sunday. The only newcomer to break the precedent was baby William—just a Thursday boy in a Sunday family.

Tupelo Smashed by a Deadly Tornado

View in Tupelo, Miss., after the tornado that practically ruined the little city and killed nearly 200 of its inhabitants. The same storm swept across six southern states and the death list reached almost 400.

It Takes All This to Weigh an Atom

Prof. Kenneth T. Bainbridge of the physics department of Harvard university with apparatus which he is using to compare the weights of atoms. The apparatus is known as a "mass spectograph," and is also used in studying isotopes and atomic nuclei.

Federal Housing Clinic in Chicago

The Federal Housing administration is trying out a new idea in Chicago, an insured mortgage clinic to help prospective home buyers in making a choice. Model houses are shown the buyers, builders and loaners and are explained by FHA officials.

School for New Deal Wives in Washington

Here is the "campaign class" for wives of Democratic senators and representatives in session at the Woman's National Democratic club in Washington. Mrs. Louise Lazell is lecturing on the topic, "The New Farm Act and the Background of the Little Pigs."