

LOCKS CITIZENS CLEAN UP CITY IN FIRST DRIVE

Cascade Locks is taking on a polish this week that it has lacked for a good many years.

It's Cleanup Week, set aside by the city council. Residents started even before the official day, Monday, to clear out or burn up rubbish on their property. Complete removal of all trash, rubbish and slashings within the city limits is expected to mean fewer fires for the volunteer fire department to contend with.

District Ranger Roy L. Weeman of Columbia Gorge district ranger station reminds the city that, should a blaze during the coming fire season get away from the volunteer fire department and threaten the national forest, the forest service will take control, put on crews of CCC workers for as long as necessary and the city will have to foot the bill at 25 cents per hour per man. A thorough cleanup, he says, will tend greatly to lessen this menace to the city's finances.

Cleanup week officially ends Sunday, so the city's residents will have several days more to clear out their property. The council reminds citizens that garbage must not be dumped except in the designated spot, six-tenths mile from the highway up Herman road, near the airport.

Mayor Charles Nelson this week is cataloging the Cascade Locks municipal cemetery and directing cleaning operations there. Descendants of those buried there are being contacted for small contribution to repair the grounds and construct a short road. A cemetery fund is expected to be included in the city's budget beginning this fall, was left out of the present budget because it was not discovered that the cemetery was city property.

Dam World Fair Meeting Called

With a general invitation extended to the public the East Side Commercial club of Portland anticipates a capacity attendance to its "kick-off" meeting Monday at the Portland WOW auditorium, Southeast Sixth at Alder, 8 p.m. for the world's electrical exposition in 1938 to celebrate completion of Bonneville dam.

"We extend invitations to all organizations throughout the Columbia empire to be present at this meeting," said W. W. Tyler, executive secretary of the club.

"This meeting is intended to get the movement under way. Opinions on how to proceed will be called for. The public is invited to learn of the possibilities and the worth of this movement."

"World's fairs are a proven success. A golden harvest has come to cities that have had the courage to hold them."

LEGION GIVES SCHOOL 65-FOOT FLAGSTAFF

A 65-foot flagpole is being set in place this week at Bonneville grade school, the gift of Bonneville post No. 88 of the American Legion.

The post's concrete base was finished the first of the week. When completed, the pole will be presented to the school with appropriate ceremony. A bronze plaque, to be hung inside the schoolhouse, will memorialize the gift.

DEER DROWNS IN RIVER

State highway police last week took charge of the body of a deer that had apparently been chased into the Columbia river near Warrendale by a pack of dogs and drowned.

ARCHIE COOK TO OPEN UPSTAIRS DINING ROOM

Tyrrell's tavern upstairs dining room, famed each summer for many years for its Columbia river baked salmon, chicken and steak dinners, will be opened between May 1 and 15, Archie Cook announced this week.

The dining room, completely modernized and refinished last summer, is known to travelers throughout the country for its fine food and that policy will be maintained, Cook said. Exact date of opening will be announced later in The Chronicle.

Bonneville

U. S. Guard N. W. "Andy" Andrews is a real fisherman. Over the weekend he fished the waters of Eagle creek—the one back of Estacada, not the one in the dam area—for three days and each day caught the limit of three beauties.

U. S. Guard Charley Bellarts thought his back was getting a bit sore Tuesday morning, so he had Dr. St. Pierre take a look at it. The Doc found a red spot, extracted a wood tick from it. Bellarts doesn't know how he got the tick but says the season for them is on now and other people will probably be getting them, too.

Pranksters are the boys in the USED concrete lab at North Bonneville. Art Young, lab assistant, rose from his chair, tried to pull on his suede jacket which had been draped over the back of the chair. But he found one sleeve firmly anchored to the chair leg with several fathoms of strong bailing wire. He knew that no one else would do such a thing, maybe, except Burrell Young, USED concrete inspector but no relation of Art's. So he locked Burrell's private desk drawer and hid the key where it could easily be found. Burrell searched, found the key but couldn't open the drawer. The reason—Art had nailed it shut from under the desk, to go him one better.

All engineers and persons interested in engineering are being invited by Oregon State college at Corvallis to attend the annual Engineers' day, May 5 and 6 on the college campus. A round of engineering exhibits and entertainment is planned.

Duncan Greg of Columbia Construction company got away from the job this weekend for the first time in a year. He went to Seattle to see the University of Washington's crews beat the tar out of his old Alma Mater, the University of California where he put in six years learning to be an engineer.

Postmaster Henry Edlund and Mrs. Edlund expect to leave today for the state convention of the Young Democrats in Salem, today and tomorrow.

Mrs. Katie A. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deines and family of Portland spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cook of Tyrrell's tavern. Mrs. Katie Cook is Mr. Cook's mother and Mrs. Deines his sister. The party toured the dam.

U. S. Guard Herschel Shreve spent Monday night at North Bonneville giving American Red Cross first aid instruction to Boy Scout troop 349 under the leadership of Scoutmaster Wiley, Columbia Construction company saw filer. Eagle Scout Wheeler of Portland visited the troop. Shreve expects to return in a week or so to give further instruction in resuscitation work.

LOCKS CHURCH SERVICES

"The Great Commission" will be the subject of the Rev. L. G. Weaver's Sunday morning sermon at the Cascade Locks community church. The Rev. H. C. Clark of Hood River will be present at the morning service to administer communion. "If" will be the subject of the evening sermon. Beth Manchester and William Morgan will lead the Young Citizens' league services at 7 p.m.

MAY SURVEY MARKET OF BONNEVILLE POWER

A strong recommendation that congress appropriate at this session $250,000 to finance five surveys on market possibilities of Bonneville power was forwarded today by Governor Martin to President Roosevelt. Oregon's congressional delegation and others in Washington, D. C., it was announced by Ormond R. Bean, chairman of the Oregon state planning board.

The five surveys, covering investigation of mineral deposits, possibilities of establishing heavy industries, interconnection with other power systems, use of electricity for pumping in irrigation and drainage, and use of electricity for highway lighting, were all recommended by the advisory power committee of the planning board in a report issued recently.

LOCKS CALLS $2,000 WARRANTS SATURDAY

Holders of Cascade Locks city warrants dated up to April 1, 1936, may get their money and interest to Saturday by calling Mrs. Vera Sprague, city treasurer.

The warrants, totalling approximately $2,000, are being redeemed from the $2,000.56 in taxes turned over last week to the city by the county treasurer. Interest will stop Saturday.

Bob Stevenson was scheduled to leave Wednesday for Vancouver, B. C., to visit friends. He plans to return the first of the week.

Riprap Defeats River's Erosion

The Columbia river's threat to wash away the Union Pacific railroad's main line at the upstream end of the navigation lock seemed conquered over the weekend by Orino Birkemeier & Saremal, relocation contractors.

From a shovel in Lancaster point cut sufficient rock riprap was dumped into the weak spots to stave off the undermining effect of the current that now flows through Bradford slough and batters against both the embankment and the upper concrete mooring wall. The fear of engineers last Wednesday and Thursday that the wall's foundations might seriously be weakened has considerably abated.

OUTSTANDING PUPILS TO RECEIVE LEGION AWARDS

Bonneville grade school pupils are looking forward to the annual presentation of the American Legion awards to the graduating boy and girl judged best all-around pupil of the year.

The awards will be given at the graduating exercises May 11 by Commander Fred Abbott of Bonneville dam post No. 88. The award will consist of a bronze plaque, lapel pin and certificate.

Judges of the contest will be principal C. A. Robertson and the teaching staff of the grade school. Pupils will be rated in the following points: honor, courage, scholarship, service, leadership.

KOSDERKA SEES COUGAR WHEN LOST IN WOODS

Bert Kosderka, Columbia Construction company workman, had one of the biggest thrills of his life week ago Friday.

Kosderka left the Wee Cove home of his sister, Mrs. W. M. Stevens, just before dinner to take a walk to the top of the bluffs, intending to return shortly. Darkness fell, he scrambled on, caught in cliffs and dense underbrush. After hours of wandering, he was resting on a log when he looked up and there, silhouetted against the dark sky, was a cougar, watching him with switching tail.

The cougar, he says, seemed as frightened as he. Kosderka plunged on through the brush, finally came on a trail which brought him down Eagle creek, emerging on the Columbia river highway at 4:30 a.m., four miles from his starting point.

FLEGEL, RICH OPEN UP IN NORTH BONNEVILLE

Paul Flegel and Jim Rich, proprietors of the Richfield super service station at Bonneville, are announcing the opening of Flegel & Rich station No. 2 next week in north Bonneville.

The new station is completely equipped, with modern computing gasoline pumps, grease hoist and lubrication shed, and modern rest rooms. Flegel will be in charge of the branch, with Rich remaining at Bonneville. Each will have an assistant, to be announced next week.
