

Cliff Designs Belt That Is "Escape-Proof"
 Clemens, Mich. — If any prisoner escapes from Deputy Sheriff Schram it is reasonably certain he must be a magician.
 Schram has designed an "escape-proof" belt. Made of heavy metal, the belt has a large metal ring attached to the front of it. It is placed on the prisoner and handcuffs are then put through the ring and locked on his wrists, making it impossible for him to move his hands.
 The belt will be adopted for use by the Macomb county sheriff's department.

Warrendale

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Whorlow visited Mrs. Whorlow's father in Olympia, Wash. Memorial Day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kimsey spent Memorial Day at Long Beach, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Klingbiel were fishing in East Lake last week-end, returning with a dozen good-sized trout.

Chet Ross and Bob White are leaving Saturday on vacation, with the expectation of reeling in a few fish before they return.

Dr. Roderick St. Peter pulled a fast one the other day when he drove to Portland and locked up his car while he was without a key. The door handle had to be forced before he could drive back.

Fred McGee transportation superintendent and president of the Bonneville Izaak Walton league, is away for two weeks' vacation. He hopes to do a little fishing during his time away from the job.

Mr. and Mrs. William Steiner left Monday for a trip to Marshfield, Or. and returned Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Klein and the J. L. Hardestys spent Sunday at the automobile races in Gresham.

RIVER BOAT BOWS TO FAST CURRENT

Current in the rampaging Columbia proved too swift for the United States engineers' boat Bonneville, towing a barge upriver Tuesday, and the crew was forced to tie her up at Sheridan's point when they were unable to make the "hump" just above here.

The barge is being taken upstream to move a catpillar from a basin-clearing job at Stevenson to another boat into towing service tomorrow and even then they anticipate a tough pull against the current.

FRANCHISE PASSED TO SECOND READING

Mrs. Vera A. Sprague, city treasurer, gave out a notice that funds are on hand to pay warrants No. 77 to 107 inclusive, dated April 4 to May 25, 1936. Interest will stop as of June 5.

The city recorder announced that 23 dog licenses have been sold to date for the current year.

Mrs. A. Alger requested that the council, as per agreement, tap the new water system main with a one-inch pipe for household's use "by the big fir tree near the corner." Councilman Millsap said the matter would be taken care of.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:05 P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Gaudin left Wednesday morning for California, where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Luther recently moved to Warrendale addition from North Bonneville.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kendler spent the Memorial Day weekend with Mrs. Kendler's parents at Umatilla.

Zioncheck Draws Ye Ed's Comment

Lest slanderous whisperings gain currency and reflect unwarranted discredit on the publication staff of the Dam Chronicle, we wish to state in public print, plain for all to see, our connection with and attitude toward the activities of the gentleman from Washington, Marion A. Zioncheck.

True, both the publisher and the editor of this newspaper attended the same institution of higher learning as the Seattle solon, True, the publisher was a classmate and friend of Zioncheck's. But is this sufficient reason, kind reader, for impeaching the motives and enacting if two struggling young journalists? We feel that it is not.

There is, of course, a measure of obloquy attached to the mere fact that one has trod the same walks and sat in the same seats as the evorting congressman. But surely that little might be forgiven.

Regarding the recent erratic behavior of the Puget Sound politico, several diagnoses spring to mind.

One, as broadly hinted in headlines this week, is that the poor fellow is actually a bit off. Assertion of such a fact is libelous and we hesitate to make it.

A second is that he is actually extremely clever, and is out for all the publicity he can get. But asserting that a politician is clever is like saying a leopard has spots. Sure, he's clever.

A third diagnosis, and that one seems a bit more probable than the others, is that the worthy representative has been walking around in an alcoholic stupor for the past few months. He certainly forfeits the right to make an indignant defense against this accusation when he insists on serving drinks to everyone within sight whenever there is the slightest hubbub—and where Zioncheck is, there also is hubbub.

Many persons have said the best way to cure Zioncheck is to keep him off the front page. But they are not afraid of Zion-

Merrill's, Inc. Bills Dancers

Jim Merrill and Bobby Reed were happy when they returned from their weekly trek to Portland Tuesday.

They had something that showmen are eternally seeking — something new for their beloved customers.

This time it's a dance team which Jim says beats anything he's ever seen. Del-Mar and Renita, they call themselves—a guy and a gal, in case the names don't give it away—and they're plenty good, according to eyewitnesses. The gal—we'll take a chance on Renita—does little stunts like bending over backwards, grabbing her ankles, and putting on a tap dance. The guy can keep right up with her, even if he's not quite so limber.

Then there's a singer who can put it over—Harry Riggs to you. Jim says he's got the stuff.

Add a big dash of Bobby Reed himself, and what have you? A first-rate floor show and dance program.

They'll be doing their stuff Sunday night between 8:30 and 12 P. M. at Merrill's Columbia Gardens here in Cascade Locks, and there'll be plenty of dancing for those who want to put on their own floor show. Saturday night's bill will feature Bobby Reed and Johnny Walker's orchestra in a straight dance program.
