

Bonneville

Wallace Laxton is planning to take in Territorial Day at Oregon City this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sawyer and their daughter Arlene shoved off for Portland Thursday after several functions had been given in their honor in this neighborhood. Mrs. F. L. McGee entertained for Mrs. Sawyer and Arlene at her home last week, with a "cootie" party. The Sawyers dined at the Clyde Hubbard home Monday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Emil Parmentier of Eagle Creek were also guests, and Mrs. Hubbard and Mrs. McGee took lunch at the Sawyers' home Wednesday.

Jack McEachern has bought the Sawyer home in Cook's addition. Mr. Sawyer plans to do contracting work in Portland.

Three grandchildren of the Bibeaus are visiting them here.

Jack Lowell was in Bonneville last week to dispose of his house here.

Miss Gail Gipson is spending the week with her aunt and uncle in Centralia, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gipson, their daughter Gail and Mr. Gipson's brother from Centralia drove to eastern Oregon last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Asher of Pomona, Calif., visited in the dam area last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Keane of West Timber, their daughter and two grandchildren had their first view of the dam Sunday, although Mr. Keane used to ride his bicycle up the railroad right-of-way from Portland to Bonneville when he was a boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bobo drove to Portland Wednesday afternoon.

Gertrude Moore, night operator at Bonneville, was on vacation last week, returning Sunday.

Lucille McCulloch, telephone operator here, spent the week-end in Hood River.

Mrs. Blanche North, Bonneville postmaster, is adding a room to her house in Cook's addition.

Mrs. Harry Davis' mother and aunt, Mrs. J. C. Coniff and Mrs. Daisy White of Reno, Nev., are visiting Mrs. Davis for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kanzler spent their vacation in Spokane.

Irving Hall, adjutant of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Bonneville, went on leave Sunday. With Mrs. Hall he drove to Helena, Mont., their home town.

Fred Davis of the Columbit Construction company is on his vacation and will return August 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter McElroy drove to Gresham for the horse races Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Goetz from Portland and Mrs. Joyce Grant and George Lightowler from Oregon City visited the O. H. Johns Sunday.

Oriental races are no more pure than their European contemporaries. Manchu and Filipino blood is generally mixed with native stock in Japan, and most Chinese boast some Manchu or Tatar blood.

The chemical formula for the substance in a tooth-brush handle and a rayon dress is the same—both are a form of cellulose.

ENGINEERS SHELLAC COLUMBIA

Columbia Construction company's soft-ball team made an inauspicious debut last Thursday when the U. S. engineers' crack outfit took them down the line, 13 to 2, on the diamond at Cascade Locks. Roland Miller and Jimmy Reimer held the Columbia batsmen in check while their mates played errorless ball. Joe Kroll and Ray Woodman were touched for 13 hits by the engineers.

Players for the engineers were Meyer, Hering, Moreland, Reimer, Miller, Van Cleve, Neiss, Baldwin, Thompson, Sporsen and Burleack. Columbians were Weaver, Kroll, Lemon, Myer, Clifford, Woodman, Sagar, Ansley, Gregg, Edstrom, Kendon and Woodell.

Eagle Creek

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Snider and Patsy were huckleberrying up Indian mountain Sunday. Mrs. Snider put up some of the huckleberries this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hall have left for Helena, Mont., to be gone at least a month.

Marsh Russell caught the limit up Eagle creek recently, hiking up about eight miles where he said the fish were pretty thick.

Bing, German shepherd dog belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Haven Nutting, got a snootful of porcupine quills Sunday while his owners were away, and wandered down on the reservation looking for his master. A man who found him there took him to the hospital, where Dr. Moore gave him ether and took the quills out. Bing submitted docilely to the operation but won't go near the hospital now.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hickok visited Mrs. Hickok's mother in Hood River Sunday afternoon.

CARS COLLIDE

Mr. Cleghorn, insurance agent who formerly had an office at the Bonneville center, was driver of a car which was struck from one side by a California vehicle Wednesday morning as Mr. Cleghorn attempted to turn into the Thomas Braund driveway in Bonny Villa. The California car's left fender was dented and Cleghorn's rear hubcap was damaged, but otherwise the vehicles were unharmed. Witnesses said the California car was traveling too fast after Mr. Cleghorn signaled, although the Californian said Mr. Cleghorn indicated a left turn and then turned right.

CRANE OKED

Nothing but one skid of the whirly crane which plunged into the Columbia river from its platform on the north bank in May was visible when water was pumped out from within the north cofferdam last week, the rest of the crane being buried deep in mud.

Much of the loose material this week was excavated away from around the crane, which will be hauled out and rehabilitated as soon as it is free from encumbrance. Columbia Construction company officials say cleaning, sanding and painting will put it in fine shape, as all the machinery was removed before it toppled into the river.

EASTERN OREGON 4-H'ERS GET HONORS

Four-H boys and girls of Oregon will fill to the crowding point four livestock barns at the Diamond Jubilee Oregon State Fair in Salem, September 7 to 13. Above is the 4-H Holstein blue ribbon herd shown by Union county club members at the 1935 fair, when 731 4-H animals were exhibited.

DALLES PAGEANT IS PRETENTIOUS AFFAIR

"131 Years in The Dalles", historical pageant to be presented in The Dalles during The Old Fort Indian Follies on September 3 and 4, will be one of the most pretentious events for any community to sponsor in this section of the Columbia, according to advance information from The Dalles Legion post.

The pageant presented by the American Legion post of The Dalles will be staged by a cast of 125. The historical setting of the pageant will start with the coming of Lewis and Clark in 1805. It will depict the days of the military reservation at The Dalles and the picturesque times of the mining and stock raising era. The final scenes will be prophetic, citing the latent resources which will be awakened by the Bonneville dam and the Columbia river development.

EPHING GETS NEW TRUCK

Carl Epping's delivery truck at tempted to crawl under the rear end of a larger truck on the highway late Monday afternoon with disastrous results. The radiator and headlights were smashed, fenders crumpled, and water jacket connection with the radiator snapped off. The car was taken to Morgan's garage for reconditioning.

The ever-present silver lining behind the dark clouds made its appearance when Epping decided to purchase a new truck from Conter motor company of Hood River. The truck was delivered Tuesday morning and Epping's service went on without serious interruption.

MRS. HOLUB DIES

Mrs. Jack Holub, wife of the General-Shea company employee, died late last week in Akron, Ohio, the Holub's old home town. Jack Holub and their children were in Akron with her at the time of her death.
