MORAN HAPPY

Frank Moran of Moran's tavern and service station felt pretty happy this week over publicity he received in the Richfield Reporter program. Monday night the announcer told of a letter the Richfield company received from a tourist who had obtained a good deal of courteous free service in contrast to rather brief treatment at other places in the course of his journey.

Simplified spelling is not alone a movement of the mentally lazy, but has been advocated by most eminent scholars, including Dr. Samuel Johnson and Noah Webster.

Household Questions

Paper white narcissi planted in a bowl containing pebbles and water will last from November to March if bulbs are renewed as those in bloom fade out.

Leftover boiled rice served with cream, sugar and topped with jelly usually appeals to the children for lunch dessert. It's very nourishing, too.

Have you ever thought of using cotton tweed for the curtains in a man's or boy's room? You have no idea how smart they are. In one room white cotton tweed is used for glass curtains while gray cotton tweed forms the draperies. These are trimmed with large white balls hung on three-inch cords, which dangle along the edge and form a double border. Each ball is about five inches from the other.

Use scissors for cutting up leftover fish, meat or fowl. This also applies to leftover vegetables.

If you want to modernize an old paper parchment shade make slashes in the top about an inch deep and run grosgrain ribbon through them, tying in a small bow with long ends at one side. Brown, dark blue or black ribbon is very smart on a white or cream shade. You could do this with inexpensive paper shades.

COURSES POPULAR

English, archaeology and short story writing are the most sought after study courses in Bonneville. Librarian Charles "Chick" Johnson reports. The Bonneville library, through the Multnomah county library association, offers bibliographies and book service for any course of reading a person may wish to follow.

Next to these three subjects rank concrete work, gold mining, geology and radio. A person need only to fill out an application blank at the library, and designate what books he would like to receive after the bibliography is sent out. Books are supplied him as fast as he can take them.

HATTSON WIN

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Hattson turned the Columbia Rebekah lodge net party in the I.O.O.F. hall Wednesday night into a family affair as they both won top prizes.

The Rebekahs plan to put on a series of such parties during the winter. A projected trip to Stevens to meet with Rebekahs there was postponed last night due to lack of transportation.

BOAT HULL SAVED

Quick work in partially submerging Hank Rosenback's power boat, the "Leona", save it from possible total destruction last week when it caught fire in the river near Cascade Locks. As it was, the cabin burned, but the rest of the boat was fished under water and saved from flames.

that the meeting was one of the most worthwhile the P.T.A. has had.
