BONNEVILLE SCHOOL

The carnival at the Bonneville school was a success, and everyone had an enjoyable time.

The whole carnival was very joyous with the fantastically painted floats coming from the beauty salon, wild shrieks coming from the merry tunnel, and the excitement of opening the packages at the pond.

The gymnasium was prepared to accommodate the hungry crowd, who ate cake, pie, ice cream, coffee and orange juice. Later in the evening Mr. Jeff Olsen auctioned off pies and cakes and conducted the raffle for the aluminum chicken.

The school wishes to extend special thanks to the following, who so generously contributed to the success of the carnival:

Bonneville Mercantile company, the restaurant, Roosevelt hotel, Sherman's inn, Bucher's, Bonny Villa tavern, Roosevelt store, Nudelman clothing store, Sweet inn, Richfield service station, and Mr. Jeff Olsen, all of Bonneville; Epping's Red & White store, Cascade Locks; Hood River Bottling company, Hood River, and Brandes grocery, Portland.

As to the women who helped in the afternoon and in the evening gave so much of their time to the school in putting over the carnival and making it such a success.

Students who entered Bonneville school Monday are Marilyn, eighth grade, from Rose City school, Portland, and Lorraine Edna Webber, fifth and second grades, respectively, from the Lents school, Portland.

As a proof of their ability to cook breakfast the 4-H club boys went on a hike to the foot of Eagle creek and cooked a breakfast consisting of oatmeal, boiled eggs, toast, potatoes and apples. Their next project is preparation of a camp dinner.

LOCKS GRADE SCHOOL

The second grade pupils are studying about the life of the Pilgrims and early settlers. They are making illustrated books.

Some of the children have brought snapshots of their pets which have been mounted and put on display.

The third and fourth grades are progressing with their project on Pilgrims, to be finished for Thanksgiving.

There have been many absences in the first grade the past week because of illness. The house they have been working on is almost finished. The first graders are beginning to decorate their room for Thanksgiving.

LOCKS HIGH SCHOOL

The Cascade Locks basketball team is going to play the C.C.C. team Wednesday night, November 18, at the school gym.

Orendo, the magician, will appear at the Cascade Locks high school gym Tuesday morning at 9 A.M.

The basketball team will play Mosier at the local gym Tuesday, November 24.

The High School Echo will make its appearance Friday, November 21.

CORBETT HIGH SCHOOL

The third issue of the Columbian will be issued this Friday. The juniors expect it to be the best because of the Journalism club recently organized.

No glee club has been held for a month because of the illness of Mr. Blair, the director.

"The Panther's Claw", the senior class play will be presented this Friday, November 20. It is a thrilling mystery-farce. The cast includes: Clifton King, Ted Johnson, Norma Tremaine (king).

Evelyn Fehrenbacher, Elaine Standish (king).

Mary Frommett, Jerry Freeman, Charles Beatie, Jake McCord, Keith Hill, Tony (the hunchback).

Robert Enquist, Hope Fenwick, Ruth Butler, Edith Dale, Hazel Woodie, Tillie Lish, Zola Dayton, The Panther, Ervin Chamberlain, The Spider, Mack Dietrick. The admission is 25 or 35 cents. The play begins at 8:15 P.M.

DOESN'T USE BRAINS

An unsuspecting young fellow who prides himself on his intellect (name withheld by request) got himself into a pretty spot the other morning in Eagle Creek circle.

Ernie Manchester and Jimmy Boesly and a couple of other gentlemen were standing near a truck scratching their heads. They beckoned to our little friend.

"Give us a lift," they asked in guileless voices.

"Sure," he answered, seeing nothing worth bothering about in the truck.

He walked over to them.

"What's coming out of the truck?" he asked, spying a washtub and a few chairs.

"Nothing's coming out, but something's going in," said Jimmy, pointing back between two cabins.

There stood a piano. Our friend found more use for his brawn than for his brains during the scene that ensued.

NOT YET, ANYWAY

Rumors that plans were afoot to have Pittock block offices of the United States engineers moved to the auditorium at Bonneville were discounted by engineer officials at the dam, who said no such move is contemplated, so far as they know, during construction.

Following completion of the dam, establishment of an engineers' district with headquarters at Bonneville is a possibility, in which case offices would undoubtedly be set up here.

HANDRAILS UP

Visitors who get as far as the south end of the spillway dam will feel they are being pretty well treated, as steel handrails above the water intake grating for the fishlock were placed last week, giving the little area of concrete that inviting "stand-and-gaze" look.

Amazing when one stops to think is the decline in this country's death rate from 18.3 per 1000 persons in 1918 to 11.3 per 1000 in 1930. Of the 1918 total, World War dead contributed considerably less than one-half of one person per 1000.
