

Chickamauga Lock Opened in Tennessee Valley

Citizens of Chattanooga, and surrounding area recently witnessed the initial opening of the navigation lock of Chickamauga dam by the Tennessee Valley Authority. The dam is now under construction. At normal level the lake that will be impounded by the dam will cover approximately 32,000 acres. It is located about seven miles from Chattanooga. The actual opening of the lock is pictured here.

"Puppy Love" Uncovers Old Art

Forgotten pictures, gathering dust for years in an old attic, brought the hope of new life to Mrs. Alida Clark, seventy-nine years old, of Maywood, Ill., a suburb of Chicago. She swapped one of the pictures with Arthur Lloyd, Jr., of Oak Park, an antique dealer, for a cocker spaniel, shown in the picture here. When the dealer cleaned it up he was told by an art authority that it was the work of an old French master, Jean Baptiste Greuze.

It's Good-by to Wash Day "Blues"

Time and labor saving gadgets are increasingly helping to banish the blues from the housewife's wash day. Arlene Causey shows how easy it is to hang up clothes with the aid of a new canvas clothes basket suspended on the clothes line wound on a new automatic self-tightening reel. The devices were on display at the recent Summer International Home-furnishing Markets at the Merchandise Mart in Chicago.

Soviets Establish Post on Top of the World

This photograph, brought back by returning members of the Soviet aerial expedition to the North pole, shows the camp established at the pole by the expedition. Parts of the planes, first to land on top of the world, may be seen in background. Four members of the expedition will remain at the pole for a year, studying conditions and atmospheric phenomena. It is planned to establish a base there for a regular Soviet air service between Moscow and the United States.
