Goes to Canal Zone

Oliver Cockrell, who has had charge of the personnel and civil service department of the Bonneville Dam, will leave the first of next week on a visit to his folks at Lexington, Kentucky, and will sail November 2 from San Francisco for Corazal, Canal Zone, where he will have a similar position to that he has held here. He has made many friends here, and they all regret his approaching departure.

Dancing Class

Mrs. Russell, of Eagle Creek, has started and is conducting a ballroom dancing class at the Bonneville Auditorium. The group, which is composed of many high school students of Bonneville, meets every Tuesday evening. The purpose of the club is to supply entertainment for the young people of Bonneville.

P.-T. A. Card Party

The Parent-Teachers' Association received a large response to its advance notices of its card party, given in the Civic Auditorium Friday night. Committees expected only about 75, but were swamped with many more than a hundred. The association members raised plenty of money for their cause—money for the new school lunch room.

Attend Opening Game

Among the young people who attended the opening football game in Portland Friday night were: Gloria Bradley, Johnny Teerink, Jack Hill, Dixie Goodrich, Sally McMullen, Arlys Redman, and Virginia Drus. The girls were driven to Portland by Mr. Goodrich, of Columbia Vista Lodge, and father of one of the girls, who also attended the game.

Move to The Dalles

Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich, with daughter, Dixie, moved to The Dalles Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Goodrich is now employed there.

Portland and Oregon City

The Misses Suzanna, Helene, and Virginia Harding of Portland spent Monday night with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Laxton, so as to see the President Tuesday morning. Also visiting them was Mrs. Laxton's brother, Mayo, Harding of Oregon City.

Corbett School

Tuesday morning, several busses were sent from Corbett to enable the students to see the President. After his speech, the students returned to school for afternoon classes.

School News

CASCADE LOCKS HIGH SCHOOL. The high school got some new work books Wednesday.

Friday, the 24th, the high school appointed the president of the student body, who is Norva Jenkins. At the first meeting, the student body decided to sell season tickets to everyone for $2.50. This entitles them to all games that are played in football, basketball and baseball. They also appointed the editor of the school paper, who is Marguerite MacKinnon. The paper will come out twice a month. The football squad is coming along fine.

The high school was out of school when President Roosevelt went through Cascade Locks.

CASCADE LOCKS GRADE SCHOOL. The fifth and sixth grades have three fish. Their names are Rusty, Shiver and Pinky Joe. The room has also new curtains and one new pupil, Opal Champlin.

The third and fourth grade received four new library books for their room. They have also received another loan of books and magazines from the Hood River Library.

A border of all kinds of free hand drawn airplanes decorates one side of the blackboard. The room is using and making good progress in the new Rice system penmanship books. The fourth grade is using ink for the first time.

The third grade pupils are enjoying their own little books in Language, called "English Activities."

The first and second grade also got some new library books from Hood River, and have new work books.

All of the grade school heard President Roosevelt over the radio from Mt. Hood Lodge.

Officers have been elected in the upper grade rooms. Those named in the eighth grade are: President, Virginia McMullen; vice-president, Wanda Hawkins; secretary, Jimmy Dow; student council, Helen DuVall; firemen, Billy Fargher and Virgil Anderson.

Those elected in the seventh grade are: President, Roy Lusch; vice-president, Lois Linton; secretary, Anita Bellarts; student council, Jesse Mosso; firemen, Wallace Laxton and Edward Locke.

Those elected in the fifth and sixth grades are: President, Jimmy Haskett; vice-president, James Faubion; secretary, Kathleen Waring; student council, Elizabeth Miller; firemen, Billingsley Beattie and Richard Teerink.

The first and second grade room received the P.-T. A. banner at the last meeting because the largest percentage of mothers went from that room.

The sixth grade pupils are proud
