

3-Star Comedy Is Coming To the Rialto

Movie fans have seen Leslie Howard and Bette Davis together in a tragedy ("Of Human Bondage") a melodrama ("The Petrified Forest") and now they are about to present themselves on the screen of the Rialto Theatre in a comedy, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 24 and 25.

This picture, a Warner Bros. production called "It's Love I'm After," will have its first local showing next Friday. And it is said to offer conclusive proof that Leslie and Bette are ideal team-mates, no matter what angle their movie may take. It has had splendid reviews from those privileged to witness the pre-showing at Hollywood and elsewhere.

Howard is offered to the fans—in this movie story—as a stage actor of the type that used to be called "matinee idol," and to look at whom all the sentimental young women of Broadway used to cluster about stage doors. Miss Davis is shown as his leading woman. They really love each other, but that doesn't prevent them from stealing every possible scene they can, wrangling with each other in undertones while they're hypnotizing their audience with their art.

The beautiful, and youthful Olivia DeHaviland has the part of a smart and wealthy heiress, who has fallen in love with Howard.

River Excursion Planned

Plans are being made for a gala excursion on the Columbia River when the big gates at Bonneville swing open to admit a flotilla of vessels to skim over the surface of the new lake above the dam. Early days of steamboat races might be recalled when the group of river steamers puff up the river, inaugurating a new era in river transportation for the Mid-Columbia region.

Preparations had been made to hold the excursion December 27, but technical adjustments at the dam have delayed plans and it is now hoped to hold the event about the middle of January.

Council To Regulate Sale Of Wines

The Hood River City Council in regular meeting Monday night voted to accept the recommendation of the police committee with respect to the granting in the future of any licenses for any class, in the sale of beer and wine.

The recommendation is as follows: "That any place of business where wine shall be sold or kept for sale shall close and remain closed all day of any holiday and on Sundays and shall close on all other days at 9:30 P. M. and shall remain closed until 9:00 A. M. of the following day, and shall close each Saturday at 11:00 P. M. and shall remain closed the remainder of that day."

The Council rejected the application of L. M. Martin and E. E. Anderson for the sale of beer. All other applications submitted were approved.

Census figures show over a million divorced people in the U. S. It is probably the nation's greatest example of long division.
