Colored Dance Band

Engaged by Koberg

A colored band of 13 pieces, though it continues to use its trade name, "Gene Coy's 11 Black Aces" were scheduled Saturday to make an appearance in Hood River Tuesday, June 7. The negro dance band was secured by John Koberg and will make its bow to Hood River at Koberg Beach.

The troupe played for one and a half years at the Ubanga Club in Seattle, and later filled an eight-month engagement at the Lions music hall in that city. The colored gentlemen are making a short tour of Oregon and Washington preparatory to returning for another engagement at the Lions Music Hall.

TRUTH

An elderly lady, afraid of passing her destination, poked the street-car conductor with her umbrella. "Is that the First National Bank?" she asked.

"No, mum," replied the conductor, "them's me ribs."
