Lookout Men Assume Posts After Training

All short term men in the Mt. Hood National Forest were trained for their summer's work at Bear Springs during the last three days of June, although the Parkdale district men missed most of the training, being called home for fire fighting. About 125 men attended.

All men in both the Columbia Gorge and the Parkdale districts are now on duty, and located as follows: Parkdale district—Howard Davis, Wasco; Elkin Truman, Twin Pine; Hank Nesbitt, Twin Pine Lookout; George Album, Mill Creek Ridge; Howard Embree, Lookout Mountain; Robert Rush, Breitenbush; Mark Hyne, Mill Creek; Wilbur Cooper, Lost Lake; George Rothig, Lost Lake Lookout.

Gorge District—Walt Mohr, Mud Lake warehouse packer and patrolman; Lloyd Ough, Pepper Mountain Lookout; Wm. Soderstrom, Pepper Mountain Patrolman; Wilbert Harrison, Larch Mountain Lookout; Kenneth Bramhall, Camp A patrolman; Orval Klock, Tanner Butte Lookout; Bud Gilbert, Nesmith Point Lookout; Bib Harrison, Indian Point Lookout; August Brandt, Chinidere Mountain Lookout; Warren Chesbrough, Green Point Lookout; Geo. Butterfield, Ditch cabin patrolman; Wesley Thurner, Mt. Defiance Lookout;

Chas. Sigl; Highway patrolman, Columbia Gorge; Robert Ellis, Fire truck driver, Columbia Gorge; Chester Wheeler, Camp Ground guard, Eagle Creek Camp; N. H. Anderson, protective assistant, Columbia Gorge; Ranger Albert Weisendanger, Eagle Creek; District Ranger Roy Weeman, Columbia Gorge.

Camp fire permits are required beginning July 1, and can be obtained at any of the above stations.

All campers and smokers are asked to be careful with their fires. These districts have had several fires to date, all due to the carelessness of campers and smokers.

The road to Wahtum will be open about the tenth of July, rangers reported.

ANNOUNCE JULY SALE

"A Mighty Sale of Timely Clothes" is the motto of Parkins, Inc., Hood River dealers in men's furnishings, who announces on Page 7 of this issue of the Chronicle, a July clearance sale, which is now in progress. The Leonora Specialty Shop, dealers in women's clothing and accessories, also of Hood River, announces a similar sale in today's paper. Details can be found on page three.
