

300 Attend Odd Fellows Sunday Picnic

On Sunday, July 31, the Hood River Valley Odd Fellows and Rebekahs held their annual picnic at Lo Ann Camp. The attendance was approximately 300, being from various sections of Oregon with some from Washington and other states.

The Grand Lodge of Oregon was represented by Joseph T. Eckley, Grand Master, who made the address of the day. The Grand Encampment was represented by Ed Powman, of Hillsboro, Grand Senior Warden, and Wm. Linklater, of Portland, Grand Junior Warden. Frank M. Sexton, The Dalles, Past Grand Master; Earl H. Shank, of Hood River, Past Grand Patriarch; and Dora Sexton, of The Dalles, Past President of the Rebekah Assembly of Oregon were also introduced and welcomed. After lunch various athletic contests, consisting of softball, horse shoe pitching, and tug of war entertained the visitors. Everyone reported a good time and expressed the hope that they could be present next year.

Land Transactions

Following is a list of transfers of real property in Hood River County from July 20 to July 27, as published by the Hood River Abstract & Investment Co.:

Julius J. Carlson to Wells B. and Juanita Foote, warranty deed, conveys South 50 feet of Lot 2, Blk. 3, Cascade Locks Addn.

J. H. Sheldrake, Sheriff, to W. F. Norman, Russell E. Sewall and Joyce S. Hugill, executors of Elizabeth Avery Eggert, deed, conveys W 1/2 of the SE 1/4 of SE 1/4 Sec. 14, T 2., about 3 miles south of Hood River.

Ralph C. and Marie Heaton to Geo. Chamberlain, warranty deed, conveys all portions of NW 1/4 SE 1/4 Sec. 20, T 1, lying west of r/w of Mt. Hood R. R. containing 30 acres, free exc. mtg., about 3 miles northwest of Parkdale.

Household Hints

Cut string into a desired length (depending on size of jar tops.) Lay cord over top of jams or jellies before pouring on the paraffin. When you wish to remove the top the ends of the cord hanging over the edges of jar will facilitate in removing without breaking paraffin.

Warm jelly glasses before putting in the jelly, as it helps it to thicken, or set them in the sun.

AURORA BOREALIS SEEN

Many local residents were treated to an unusually brilliant display of the Aurora Borealis Friday night. A constant yellow glow was evident over the Washington hills, and long narrow streaks of light extended sky-ward similar to the display of search lights shown in Portland's recent Fleet Week.

Hood River To Buy Juice From Dam

Hood River will buy Bonneville power, according to a resolution passed by the city council Monday night, which called for an application to Bonneville Administrator J. D. Ross for 100 kilowatt-years of Bonneville current, to be used entirely for municipal purposes, primarily for street lighting.

The discussion at the council meeting brought out that buying power from the Bonneville plant at $17.50 per kilowatt-year would make it possible for the city to have nearly twice as much current for street lights. The city's municipal plant would close down and the present lighting budget would be maintained at a cost of only $40 more a year than at present. The plant now generates only 65 kilowatts.

For some time a committee of the council has been at work, looking into the feasibility of such a purchase.

Recent studies have shown that the present municipal plant has not proved altogether satisfactory. Supply of water in the city in summer months has been inadequate to operate this plant and to provide for domestic and sprinkling needs. The plant, due to its present location, has not been able to run to capacity and the wear on the pipe line feeding has been great, city officers report.

Under the proposed plans, the paying off of this plant would still continue, even though the power is to come from Bonneville and the small plant will be closed down. The same budget can be maintained, due to additional revenue from lighting and heating the city hall, which is planned when the new current is available. A saving also will result in discontinuing maintenance expense at the city plant.

See that your child suffers no physical handicap to impede his progress when he goes back to school. There is only one way to find out, and that is to have your doctor and dentist make a thorough physical examination. Slight defects in hearing and sight as well as other minor conditions have caused many bright pupils to be held back, and these conditions can only be discovered by qualified professional men. So don't take chances with your child's precious years of education. Have those examinations made now.
