Columbia Students Do Their Fishin' in Class

Turf Champion Gets Rub-Down

Seabiscuit, American turf champion, is Charles S. Howard's chief hope for the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap in March. The Biscuit was handicap favorite in 1937, but finished behind Rosemont. A favorite again last year, he finished behind Stagehand. His greatest triumph was a three-length victory over War Admiral at Pimlico.

Policemen Pals Pay License Fee

Robert Eyerkuss, 14, of Belleville, N. J., didn't have $2.00 to buy a license for his mongrel dog, Chubber. He tried to get work after school, but was unsuccessful. He wrote to Police Chief George Spatz, who in turn showed it to his force. Members of the department each contributed a quarter, and the pooch was saved.

Family Toothbrush Now Power Driven

It's the modern version of the old family toothbrush. Every member of the family uses the electric device, but the toothbrush itself is easy removed and another one may be clamped in its place. When the motor is started the brush is given the same motion as was given to it by hand operation.

Suffrage and Peace Leader for 50 Years

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, for 50 years a suffrage and peace leader, was honored by 400 women representing the National Committee on the Cause and Cure of War recently in celebration of her eightieth birthday. Mrs. Chapman Catt was born in Ripon, Wis., and educated in the State College of Iowa. She took a special course in law. She is a member of the woman's committee of the Council for National Defense.

The Curfew Rings in Cambridge, Mass.

Police Lieut. Robert J. Douglas reading the Cambridge curfew order which prohibits children under 16 years of age from being on the streets after 9:30 p. m. The law was passed in 1898 and was revised on the recommendation of the Cambridge youth commission as part of a program to reduce juvenile delinquency.

Bomb Shelters Perfected for Family Use

When—and if—the next war breaks out, London residents will be prepared. A specimen steel-lined shelter, built for use as a first-aid and dressing station in case of an air raid, can now be bought by private individuals or communities. The bomb shelter is a part of the national defense plans.
