

Curtaining Windows To Increase Width

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS
A READER living on a rural route in South Dakota writes me: "My parlor is 16 by 14 feet and has an 8 foot ceiling. Right in the center of the 16 foot wall are two windows, each 6 feet high and 3 feet wide. They are only 1 foot apart and 1 foot from the ceiling. How should I curtain these windows? Should the drapes cover the 1 foot space between them? How long should they be? Would you extend the drapes nearer the ceiling? I have been advised to do this.—S. A."

These questions are nice and definite and all dimensions are given. A scale drawing was made a little larger than the one shown here; 4 inch to a foot. This showed immediately that the windows needed to look wider rather than higher. By framing them with a valance and side drapes to the floor they are made into a unit of pleasing proportions.

Star Dust

- ★ Sleuthing for Talent
- ★ A Glutton for Doing
- ★ Typical Actor at Four

By Virginia Vale

IF A stranger bobs up in your town and begins asking people to take screen tests, don't be surprised; just blame it on Jesse Lasky, who began making pictures way back in the early days. Probably you've listened to his "Gateway to Hollywood" on the air, and perhaps you heard the final result of that search for movie talent—the selection of Rowena Cook and Ralph Bowman as the two fortunate young people whose names will be changed to "Alice Eden" and "John Archer," with the leading roles in the picture "Career," as their first screen appearances under these names.

Six other contestants were given contracts, and the search for new faces for the screen will probably be taken up again by some of the big producing companies. About every so often this search seems like a good idea to the movie-makers; usually it is practiced for a while, with plenty of ballyhoo and publicity, and very little in the way of real talent is brought into the studios.

Carrying it on with the aid of radio, as Mr. Lasky has done, may be the solution. Certainly there are plenty of potential movie stars in our midst, and all they need is a chance to make good.

Jean Parker seems to be the public's favorite actress for the roles of the heroines of Gene Stratton Porter's novels. She appeared recently in "Romance of the Limberlost," and was signed recently by Monogram to do "Her Father's Daughter," by the same author.

"Never a dull moment" seems to be Leslie Howard's slogan these days. Playing a leading role in "Gone With the Wind" isn't enough to keep him really busy, it seems so he has signed with Selznick International to act as associate producer on "Intermezzo" and play the leading role as well.

There's an amusing story going around about Sally Eilers' four-year-old son, one that would indicate that he's losing no time in acquiring the typical actor's point of view. He made his screen debut in "They Made Her a Spy," his mother's latest picture. And when he was shown some of the rushes he demanded, like any actor greedy for close-ups, "Where's more shoot-off of me?"

ODDS AND ENDS—That new "Author! Author!" program that is broadcast on Friday evenings promises to be almost as popular as "Information Please".... And "Information Please" has made it practically impossible to get a dinner party together on Tuesday evenings if there's not a radio in the dining room.

Becoming Dresses You'll Enjoy Sewing

BRAND used to give the effect of a bolero is a chief charm of this pretty dress, for street and daytime. It accents the soft fullness of the bodice, above a tiny waist and slim-hipped, circular skirt. Make it of flat crepe, checked or printed silk for now. Later on, have it in gingham, linen or batiste.

This adorable basque frock is smart for both school and parties. It puffs out so charmingly at the shoulders, flares at the skirt hem and hugs in to a small, pointed waist. Sash bows, tied in the back, draw it in snugly, and look gay and pretty besides. For school, choose gingham, calico or percale. For parties, taffeta or silk crepe.

Plaid Jacket Used For Paquin Model

A sample of the suit fashions from Paris is a Paquin sports model with a pastel-colored plaid jacket, in greens, rose, and beige, and a plaid skirt of beige cashmere wool. The husky revers are an item of importance to the cut of this suit.

A suit from Schiaparelli, the master suit maker, has a brown, smooth wool skirt with stitched plaits at the front and back. The fitted, hip-length jacket is beige wool, and buttons down the front on three tortoise-shell buttons. Twisted bands of the material are applied on the front of the jacket. A blouse of Parma violet brocade goes with this model, and a scarf of the same.

Detachable Skirt Does Double Duty

Buy your new print frock or make it yourself as you will, but if you want it to do double duty see to it that you add a detachable skirt of dark silk crepe that has a wide crush corselet girdle that buttons about the waist, the skirt open up front to show off the print to better advantage.

Gingham Parades In Highest Style

Stunning Patternings and Colorings Are Shown.

When you say gingham this season it does not mean a kitchen dress or everyday utilitarian frock, for gingham is now acclaimed as high-style for suits as well as dresses to wear when you go shopping or stop at the club for lunch. Be among the advance guard in the spring style parade, choose the handsomest gingham you can find, (they sure are showing stunning patternings and colorings this season) tailor it in jacket-and-skirt fashion, or redingote and skirt, or in costume manner (one piece dress with redingote) and we promise you that you will be getting more wear out of this stylish outfit than any you possess. The new dainty white lingerie blouse sets off a gingham suit to perfection. Try it and see!

Veils, everywhere veils, nothing less than a riot of veils! They provide a basis for coloring in that the color veil you choose should be smartly matched with your gloves and your boutonniere.

A cunning way and just about as bewitching as fancy might picture is to bring the veil down tight over the top of your hat and tie it in a monstrous bow under the chin. Tiny straw sailors have veiling tied about crown and bowed in high sprightly loops at the back.

Cloque Organdy

From now on through the spring and summer season the world of fashion is destined to see myriads of ruffles and flounces. The latest trend is toward the new tiered silhouette. You will see this treatment not only in summery sheers but likewise in light woolsens and silk surahs and crepes, for afternoon wear. The model pictured interprets this new tier silhouette to a nicety in a party frock made of lovely colorfully printed cloque organdy. If you have not already done so be sure to acquaint yourself with this exquisite summer fabric. It makes the most adorable dresses one can imagine.

Shirtwaist Frock Latest for Evening

The shirtwaist-and-skirt theme for evening has quite a following. Some gay spirits have concocted informal dinner gowns by adding a bishop-sleeved shirtwaist blouse of white silk or dotted chiffon to the long dark skirts of their evening tailors. Sometime they link the two with a gay cummerbund.

Others dress for informal home dinners in a long dark skirt and a sheer short-sleeved white organdy blouse.
