Stamp Series Commemorates Baseball Centennial

The sale of a stamp series commemorating the founding of baseball got off to a flying start in Cooperstown, N. Y., recently when Postmaster General James A. Farley sold the first stamps to Judge Kene-saw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner. There Abner Doubleday founded baseball 100 years ago.

DURABLE SLACKS

These tile-red denim slacks are worn with a striped shirt of men's wear madras shirting. The straw hat is red also.

VETERAN SHOWS 'EM

Luren D. Dickinson, 80-year-old governor of Michigan, shows present-day upstarts how baseball was played in his day. He struck this catching pose when he participated in the Old Timers' baseball game in Detroit recently.

New China City Replaces Los Angeles Landmark

Buddhist rites, devil dancers and the traditional cavorting Chinese lion featured pageantry in Los Angeles' new China city recently when that picturesque quarter was cleaned of ghosts and demons. Replacing the old Chinatown, which was evacuated to make way for a new Union station, China city is the site of many historic incidents of early Los Angeles days. The ceremonies were intended to lay the ghosts of its past.

Winds Corroborate Dead Woman's Tale

Dead for three years, Mrs. Pattie Tillet once testified in a land suit that one boundary mark—a cemetery—existed in Dare county, North Carolina. There was no trace of the cemetery and case was dismissed. Now a storm has swept the banks, and shifting sands exposed the bones of Mrs. Tillet's ancestors. Attorneys have moved to reopen the case.

Travel Route of International Highway

Charles, "Sourdough Slim," Williams, right, 58-year-old resident of Fairbanks, Alaska, and John T. Logan, 25, of Pittsburgh, Pa., on their one cylinder motorcycles as they start out on the route of the proposed international highway from Fairbanks to Seattle, Wash. The adventurous pair will visit both World's fairs.

POTENTIAL HERO

Ready for all eventualities, whether it be a fair damsel stricken with hero-worship or in distress from waves, two-year-old Ted Ramsay stands on the Miami, Fla., beach.
