LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Dr. Davis, resident dentist.
Interesting matter crowded out.

"Hey there," go to Westerfield's for your furniture.

J. H. Derby returned Saturday evening from Eugene City.

Mr. Perkins, of North Yamhill, called for a little chat Monday.

Mr. Hy. Rummells, of McMinnville, paid us a visit Wednesday.

H. L. Heath, of the Telephone, called during our absence last Friday.

Quite a number of our friends and patrons have called on us this week.

Isaac Lambright, of Sheridan, visited our sanctum on Monday.

There will be about 150,000 bushels of grain stored at Sheridan this year.

Born—Sept. 12, 1887, in Wasco, Wasco Co., to the wife of Charles Belcher, a daughter.

Curtain poles, easels, panel pictures and wall brackets, at Westerfield's furniture store.

We want a live local correspondent at Sheridan, Willamina, North Yamhill and McMinnville.

Hon. C. H. Burch, and Drs. Goucher and Smith made this office a pleasant call last Saturday.

Col. E. C. Bradshaw, of The Dalles came down on Tuesday. He reports business as good in his town.

Services will be held in the Presbyterian church Sunday, at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m., by the Rev. J. A. Gardiner.

Rev. M. Burlingame will preach here Sunday, October 9th, in the M. E. church. Services will begin at the usual hour.

Mr. Lewis, who recently arrived from England, has been confined to his room at the residence of his brother-in-law, J. Matthey.

W. I. Westerfield will soon add to his furniture store a stock of wall paper. Hold your orders, new designs and prices way down.

Quarterly meetings of the M. E. church will be held at West Chehalis, October 1st and 2d. Wm. Roberts, of Dayton, will be presiding elder.

Call and see W. I. Westerfield's stock of furniture—he will be glad to have you come and examine his prices, whether you purchase goods or not.

Recently Walt Graves, of Sheridan, was helping his brother build a house, when the axe he was handling glanced, nearly severing two of his toes on the right foot.

On Monday the tools and material for G. H. Westerfield's blacksmith shop arrived, and he is now prepared to do road, track and farm shoeing. His reputation throughout the state as a first-class shoer, will bring him a good business in that line.

The world renowned temperance lecturer, Mrs. Lathrop, of Michigan, is to speak in McMinnville October 17th. She will only be able to deliver one lecture in this county, we are informed, and for that reason she should have a large audience.

Seventeen members of the Salvation army were arrested and locked up in Portland Monday night. It is strange that these unoffensive members of a community cannot be accorded the privilege of parading the streets as well as military troops, etc.

Your attention is called to the acts of the Yamhill Lumbering Co. and F. O'Connor in this paper.

Mrs. Ruth Broyles, of Linn county, visited friends here last week. She will visit the east soon.

Miss Dell Leabo, of McMinnville, who has been visiting at Mrs. W. W. Nelson's, returned home last Saturday.

Westerfield, the furniture man, has just received a lot of "Pampas grass." Just the thing for a tasty ornament in the parlor.

Mrs. N. J. Ungerman is receiving her fall stock of millinery goods. Her store is next to J. Matthey's. Look out for ad next week.

We notice that W. I. Westerfield is sending out considerable furniture of late. Low prices and good goods will bring the customers every time.

The Lafayette open temperance society will have their first meeting of the season next Wednesday evening—Good program—and everybody invited.

Last Sunday evening about 6.30 o'clock as Rev. Pettigrew, accompanied by a lady and little girl, were ascending the Millikan hill just west of town, their horse became frightened at a bicyclist, and backed off the grade. The occupants of the buggy were thrown out, and Mr. Pettigrew received a fractured jaw; the others escaped with slight bruises.

Last Thursday was a good day for the Lafayette flouring mill. Thirty teams bringing an average of twenty-four bushels of clean wheat came to the mill with flour. These 720 bushels were made into flour for home consumption, and does not include a large amount of grain stored at the mill for future use. The proprietors are courteous to their customers, and above all they do first-class work. The Lafayette mill has an enviable reputation.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON FOR YAMHILL COUNTY.

To the Hon. R. P. Boise, Judge of said Court:—We, the grand jury, for said county, drawn for the regular September, 1887, term of said court, having completed our labors, beg leave to submit our final report. We have carefully examined into all complaints for the commission of crime made to us and have disposed of them to the best of our judgment.

Under the instruction of the court we have visited and examined into the condition and management of the county buildings and various county offices. We find the court house and jail in good condition and repair and have no recommendations to make. We find the records and files of the several county offices neatly and orderly kept and the county officials prompt and efficient in the discharge of the duties pertaining to their respective offices.

Dated at Lafayette this 28th day of September 1887.

DEDICATION.—The dedication of the new Presbyterian church last Sunday was a pleasant and enjoyable service. Rev. Clyde, of Chehalis, W. T., preached the sermon. The house was filled to its utmost capacity, several from a distance being present. It was announced that the church was free from debt. Seventy dollars were raised in a few minutes to finish playing for a fine organ for the church. The society is making a favorable start in a good cause, and it has the best wishes of all.

RESENTENCED.—On Tuesday morning Judge Boise resented R. E. Marple to be hanged for the murder of D. I. Coker. The time of the execution will be fixed by the warrant to the sheriff. Marple appeared very cool, and when asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced, he said he had not a fair trial, and that his conviction was had by false means.

BARN BURN.—A large barn on the farm of Jas. Johnson, near Carlton, was burnt to the ground last Friday night, as reported by our Carlton correspondent. The report gained currency on Saturday that a man had perished in the flames, but that is now denied. Loss $2,000; no insurance.

COUNTY W. C. T. U.
FIRST DAY.

The County W. C. T. U. met at North Yamhill Sept. 28th. Owing to sickness the president, Mrs. Calbreath, was not present, and as the vice-president had moved away, it fell to the lot of the secretary to call the convention to order, which was done at 2.30 o'clock. After Scripture reading and prayer it was moved that Mrs. Edwards, of Newberg, preside at the convention, which she kindly did. The convention then proceeded to business. A committee on credentials, also one on resolutions, was appointed and after some further business the meeting closed to meet at 8 o'clock in the evening.

The evening meeting was called to order by Mrs. Edwards who read the seventy-ninth psalm; prayer by Brother Morgan; music by the choir. The address of welcome was read by Mrs. Edwell and was feelingly responded to by Mrs. Dr. McDaniel. Owing to Mrs. Skelton not being present as expected, Mrs. Edwards addressed the audience for a short time. A song was then given by the children and a song by the choir. The meeting was then dismissed by Brother Morgan.

SECOND DAY.

Sept. 29th at 9.0 o'clock the convention was called to order. Devotional exercises consisted of prayer by Brother Bowerman and Sister Edwards. Committees on time and place and on plan of work were appointed. Report in regard to press work discussed. Report from superintendent of temperance literature read. Report from the McMinnville W. C. T. U., stating they had thirty-two members and eighteen honorary members. Report from North Yamhill Union showed a membership of eighteen. Their ladies kept a refreshment stand on the fourth of July, which netted them $38.82. They have distributed $5 worth of temperance literature since last June. This union was only organized six months ago.

After devotional services led by Sister McDaniel the afternoon session proceeded to business.

Committee on time and place reported the next convention to be held the first Wednesday and Thursday in April at Newberg.

Report of committee on plan of work recommended that each union furnish a free lunch to the gentlemen on election day.

Committee on resolutions offered a vote of thanks to the ladies and citizens of North Yamhill, also to Mrs. Edwards for her kindness in presiding at the convention.

The work of the different departments was taken up and a profitable hour spent in talking of the working of the W. C. T. U. There were thirteen delegates present. The ladies of the North Yamhill Union were kind indeed, and made the sisters of the different unions very welcome. On the whole we had a pleasant and profitable meeting.

A POEM BY SIDNEY FELLOW.

This shaft of night were falling fast,
As through a Yamhill village passed,
A youth who bore the torch of light and ice,
A banner with the strange device,
"McMinnville."

On sundry homes he saw "To Let!"
The owners gaze to Lafayette.
O that the moon about the dim light shone,
As he wandered, murmuring, with a groan,
"McMinnville."

Don't stay, the maiden said, to rest;
You are over-mildly, for a quest.
The tears were shining on his cheek,
As he murmured, muttering with a sigh,
"McMinnville."

Beware that dreadful third street hole,
If you fall in there, God save your soul.
This spake the landlord with a bow,
A faint voice answered "I'm in it now."
"McMinnville."

Some men, while working on the street,
Uncertain where to place their feet,
Heard in the earth, a word resound
Like echo passing under ground,
"McMinnville."

In China, fishing in a hole,
A man described a flag and pole;
And if the Mongol did not lie,
The flag had on it, plain as day,
"McMinnville."

FAIR NOTICE.

The Newberg Agricultural society will hold a meeting at Friends church Saturday, October 1st at 4 o'clock, for the purpose of considering the feasibility of converting the annual exhibit into a regular county fair. Everybody with their friends and relatives are earnestly requested to be present. Come Lafayette, come Dayton, come McMinnville, North Yamhill, Carlton and all ye corners of the valley, and give them a ringing voice, for if ever they start a fair it will be a success.

FELL FROM A TRAIN.—On Friday morning a drunken individual, by name Dav' Coop, aged 25 years, fell from the rear of a passenger train shortly after it left The Dalles. The passengers on the platform grabbed at Coop and caught his coat, but the garment separated and the man fell to the ground, fifty feet below. The train was stopped and one of the unfortunate man's friends sent after him, but he returned, and the train went on. Coop was no doubt instantly killed.

TEETH.—From date until Jan. 1, 1888, I will make teeth for $12.50 and upward per set, $10 when the teeth are already extracted $10 and upward.

W. A. WISS, Dentist, Amity, Or.

For cash in hand I will make ten per cent. discount from Sept. 30th, 1887, to January 1st, 1888 on all dental work. Respectfully, Dr. E. DAVIS, Lafayette, Or.

THE BEEKEEPERS.

Met at Newberg last Friday. The old officers were re-elected, and the next annual meeting appointed at Salem during the state fair. Several bee points were discussed, including the business-end of hybrids. The attendance was not large, nor were the reports very flattering. Mr. Kaufman, of Newby, Clackamas county, made the best report, having harvested 3,265 pounds of honey—two-thirds comb and one-third extracted—from fifty-five colonies, spring count, and increased to sixtynine colonies. Mr. Faxon, of Dayton, came next with 2,000 pounds from eighty colonies and an increase of thirteen. Bee-keeping as practiced by members of the association is very little understood. It is hoped that the meeting next year at Salem will be largely attended, so that this industry will receive the encouragement it deserves at the hands of the state board of agriculture.

DIED.

In Wheatland, Sept. 25, 1887, Ina, the daughter of Wm. and L. Fowler; aged three years, three months and two days.

She has gone to her rest.
Over her bones her cold hands are pressed,
O'er her face her heart is noble and true,
Signs her name softly, she is to be beyond.

A FRIEND.

FARMERS SEE HERE!

ADVANCE CHILLED PLOWS.—The best chilled plows in Yamhill county, and in calling your attention to the success that has followed its introduction as an improved and perfect chilled plow, we wish to say that the flattering testimonials from all parts of the country and its increasing trade justifies us in claiming that we have a plow that is superior to any now offered to the trade. In the construction of this plow there has been added improvements that are known to be useful, and all contrivances that are known to detract from the strength and durability of a plow have been avoided. The Advance chilled plow is made of the best material, by skilled mechanics, and we feel justified in claiming that they are more perfect and have more points of real merit than any other plow made. Our warrant is that every plow is well made of selected material—of approved shape and the best possible construction, will run light as any plow made, scour and perform its work in the best of manner with proper usage and adjustment. For sale by A. B. Westerfield, Lafayette, Or.

MARRIED.

Mr. E. N. Ford and Susie Booth, of McMinnville, were married last Sunday by A. M. Hurley, at this place.

In this city, at the residence of J. H. Olds, September 25, 1887, by A. M. Hurley, Mr. Milton A. Henry to Miss Ella Parker, all of Lafayette.

Now your frail bark of love is well launched on the tide
May life's ocean down life's stream in tranquility glide
But, ah! should fierce storms rise, such as mariners fear,
May your manhood protect and her confidence cheer
The dark cloud of sorrow shall pass harmlessly by
And leave not a streak on the clear sunny sky
When life's joyous path, or dangers are near,
If life's waves should run high, or breakers appear
May your steps be more steady, your course more true
Upheld by the love that shines out for you
This being and cheering, your days may be blessed
Till your earthly sojourn in the haven of rest.

The fair daily of the Eugene Register, is lively little paper. This is its third year as such, and it says: "Before many years we can extend it all the year round."

CARLTON.

Sept. 25, 1887.

Our town is gliding smoothly along, nothing to disturb the quietness of the place; as we have no dry goods store very few people even come to town any more.

Mrs. R. A. Steward lost her barn by fire on last Friday night, including two head of horses belonging to her, also four head belonging to Mr. Frank Bryan, with all of her hay, oats and wheat, a new back and wagon with many other things—in fact all she had stored for winter. It falls heavy on her, being a widow, some of these barn burners ought to be interviewed with a shotgun.

Some of our denizens took in the Newberg fair and report a fine time. Newberg seems to have the grit and git.

Our sick folk seem to be about the same.

Our warehouses seem to be almost through taking in wheat.

When Uncle Rufus gets through trying to edit the Lafayette Herald, and sends some hints we will be glad to him to dictate to us what to write, sulphur and lard was always good for our hands, try it. We have nothing for this prescription; we have had the itch ourselves.

It wasn't the kind of a jaw line that Sampson used, but a jawbone of a hog.

J. L. Steward is around with his ace in a wing, all owing to one of Job's pets.

Mr. McCune, of Tillamook, has moved into town to get advantage of our excellent school privileges.

Miss Omi Fouts will teach the Carse school this winter.

Miss Poppleton is teaching in the Hutchcraft district.

Mrs. Fenton and family leave to-day for McMinnville, so as to send her children to school for the next few years.

Mr. Jack Olsen will superintend the Fenton farm for the next year.

Where is Duk by? Is the question.

Indications are that the swill will be replaced. Hawke-Evans.

NEWBERG.

Sept. 26, 1887.

The fair is over and everybody seems to be happy.

Geo. Hunnicutt passed from this life Sept. 19th to that better land, where no traveler doth return; aged 79 years. His remains were laid in the Friends' cemetery.

Miss May Cotts is quite poorly.

Jonathan Maris and wife expect to start east this week.

Miss Roxie Heater and Miss Edna Wallace were down a visit last week.

Prof. Ellis, of Forest Grove, gave a good lecture last Friday evening, on the amendment.

MARRIED.—Sept. 18th, by Mary Edwards, at the home of the bride's parents, Richard Everest and Lizzie Stephens.

The fair was a grand success. It is supposed that there was between 1500 and 2000 people one day at the fair.

J. Q. Hoskins and family have moved to Marion county.

Vergo Morgan and family have moved east of the mountains.

Mary Edwards went to Sheridan Saturday, to hold divine services.

Martin Cook went to Middleton Sunday to hold divine services.

The following is clipped from the Joan Home Journal, published at Des Moines, Iowa: "Thirty thousand people at one time on the fair grounds last week and then ask if prohibition prohibits. A few years ago when sixty or seventy saucy stood with open doors in this city, such an occasion would have been an utter impossibility."

Miss Violet Holston commenced school to-day in the Brutscher schoolhouse.

Mrs. J. D. Tarrant has returned home from a visit at The Dalles.

There will be a meeting of the Agricultural society next Saturday at 4 p. m.
