CATARRH.

A New Home Treatment for the Cure of Catarrh, Catarrhal cafness and H.y Fover.

The microscope has proved that these diseases are contagious, and that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the upper air passages and eustachian tubes. The eminent scientists, Tyndall, Huxley and Beale endorse this, dall, Huxley and Beale endorse this, and these authorities cannot be disputed. The regular method of treating these diseases has been to apply an irritant remedy, weekly and even daily, thus keeping the delicate membrane in a constant state of irritation, allowing it no chance to heal, and as a natural consequence of such treat ment not one permanent cure has ever been recorded. It is an absolute fact that these diseases can not be cured by any application made oftener than once in two weeks, for the mem-brane must get a chance to heal before an application is repeated. It is now seven years since Mr. Dixon discovered the parasite in catarrh and formulated his new treatment, and since then his remedy has become a household word in every country where the English language is spoken. Cures effected by him seven years ago are cures still, there having been no return of the disease. So highly are these remedies valued that ignorant imitators have started up everywhere pretending to destroy a parasite of which they know nothing, by remedies, the result of the applica-tion of which they are equally ignorant. Mr. Dixon's remedy is applied only once in two weeks, and from one to three applications effect a permanent cure in the most aggravated

Mr. Dixon sends a pamphlet describing his new treatment on the receipt of stamp to pay postage. The address is A. H. Dixon & Son, 303 King street west, Toronto, Canada.-Scientific American.

Essuer, pleasanter and safer this than to swash the victualing department with pseudo-tonics, alcoholic os the reverse, beef extracts, nerve foods, nercotics, sedatives and poisons in disguiss. Tired Nature's sweet restorer, balmy sleep, is the providential recuperant for weak nerves, and this glorious franchise being usually the consequences of sound digestion and increased vigor, the great stomachic which insures both is productive also of repose at the required time. Not unserfeshed awakens the individual who uses it, but vigorous, elear headed and tranquil. Use the Bitters also in fever and ague, rheumatism, kidney troubles, constipation and biliousness.

Somebody's child is dying—dying with the flush of hope on his young face, and somebody's mother thinking of the time when that dear face will be aldden where no ray of hope can brighten it—because there was no cure for consumption. Tell her that consumption is curable; that men are living to-day whom the physicians pronounced incurable, because ne lung had been almost destroyed by the disease. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured hundreds; surpasses cod liver oil, hypophosphites and other medicines in curing this disease. Sold by druggists.
