IN MEMORIAM.

Oregon, of typhoid fever, on August 30, 1888, Emma F., the beloved wife of J. W. Hutchcroft, aged 23 years, 1 month and 16 days. Emma was known and loved fire on Tuesday morning. for her many virtues, having lived here for many years. She was united in marriage to J. W. Hutchcroft December 19, 1886, who is left with her mother, four sisters and two brothers to mourn her irreparable loss. Evidence of her popularity was shown by the large concourse of people that attended her funeral. The funeral sermon was preached by J. A. Campbell. A FRIEND.

Thou art gone, but not forgotten, Gone to have eternal rest, And to sing the songs of glory In the mansions of the blest.

Oh! we miss you darling wife,
And tis hard to give you up.
But so many more before us
Have had to drink the bitter cup.

Without thee this world is dark and dreary;

Why you were taken we cannot tell,
But life is short, may we not grow weary,
For the Lord foreseeth and doth all things well.

May thy husband strive to meet thee In that blessed world above, And all bereft strive to greet thee Where all is joy and peace and love.

Beyond this world true rest is given, The thought comes o'er and o'er, Around the throne of God in heaven He'll call us home to weep no more. -MR. J. W. HUTCHCROFT.

FINED TWICE.-Charles Hendrickson better known as "Russian Charley," filled up with bad whisky Saturday evening and went down to Mr. Smith's residence below the Essex hotel and tried to run things to suit himself. Marshal Dunn was notified and after considerable trouble landed him in the city jail. Monday morning the prisoner was brought before Recorder Carpenter and fined $25, which he paid. As soon as he was released from custody he was invited over to Justice Hurley's office by Sheriff Harris, and was fined $10 and costs for creating a disturbance at Mr. Smith's house, Charley came into town several months ago and raised a racket, but the marshal let him go, and since then he thought that he could come into town and do whatever he pleased, without fear of arrest. Marshal Dunn was ably assisted in making the arrest by several young

A large lumber mill, near Boulder creek, California, was burned Saturday night. Loss $50,000.

The American hotel at West Superior, Wisconsin, was burned Sunday morning. Six of its inmates were the victims of the fire fiend.

Early Sunday morning a fire destroyed $1,500,000 worth of property in Baltimore. Several firemen were caught by falling floors and walls and crushed and burned to death.

An oil tank, at Cygnet, Ohio, containing about 20,000 barrels of oil, burst Saturday. The oil was ignited by a forge, and three men were cremated by the blazing flood.

A fire broke out Monday in the regalia room of the Masonic temple at Los Angeles, California, and $20,000 worth of uniforms, paraphernelia, stores, etc., were consumed.

The Dalles was visited by a destructive fire on Sunday morning. Two business blocks were burned and the loss will amount to $25,000. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

Over 2,000 acres of buildings, hay, grain, etc., in the west end of the San Fernando valley, went up in smoke and flames Saturday. It is thought to be incendiary. The loss is estimated at $30,000.

McMinnville, up to Monday morning, had not suffered much from fire since the burning of Sax's mill, about three years ago. But on Monday morning, about 1 o'cleck, $5,000 worth of property was destroyed. Mr. P. F. Brown was the heaviest loser, having three buildings burned; his loss will amount to $2,500. The fire broke out in the rear of Mrs. H. P. Stewart's millinery store on B street and consumed the building and its contents and spread rapidly to adjoining buildings, Pierce's restaurant, Brown's shoe store and the old city jail on Fourth street. The origin of the fire is unknown. Mrs. Stewart slept in the rear of the store, and was awakened by the noise of the fire in the next room, which was her son's bedroom. He was not home at the time. She jumped up and got a bucket of water to quench the fiames, but spilled it, she then seized her dress and rushed out and gave the alarm. She was too much excited and frightened to re-enter the building, and lost everything, including about $150 in currency and $150 in coin. The fire company did not arrive in time to extinguish the flames, but did excellent work in preventing the flames from spreading any further, which would have destroyed many buildings, principally the McMinnville hotel, Christian church, Grange store and hall. Fortunately, no wind was blowing at the time, as the water supply for the engine gave out shortly after the fire was under control. Following are Pierce's -restaurant, etc., the losses: $400; city jail, $600; Mrs. H. P. Stewart, $1,500; P. F. Brown, three buildings,

The Oregonian in an article about whistling has this to say about a whistler from Yamhill: Such nuisances are plentiful right here in Portland and the greatest of them all is a whistler from Yamhill whose piping has driven a neighboring lodger so near the verge of insanity, that he has perpetrated the following, which may be taken as a warning by the whistler:

There is a young man of Yamhill Who whistles so loudly and shrill That his hard working-neighbors Get no rest from their labors, Grasp their guns and their sabres And are firmly determined to kill This prince jeek spine of Yambill This piping jack snipe of Yamhill Who whistles so loudly and shrill.

School begins Monday.

NEWBERG.

September 3, 1888 Threshing nearly all done.

Grain is turning out splendid.

J. A. Cook is down on a visit. Rev. Martin Cook was at Pleasant Hill yesterday.

Our merchants are doing a lively busiess nowadays.

James Holston has sold his place to Rev. Mr. Round.

Have you saved or prepared anything to bring to the fair?

Rev. Mr. Bray and family were at Middleton yesterday.

Nearly everybody that has hops com menced picking to-day.

Remember that school commences at the academy on the 11th inst.

New buildings are going up and the town is still steadily booming along.

Don't forget that the Newberg fair is on the 26th, 27th and 28th of September. Rev. Mr. Neulin and wife, of Virginia, are out here on a visit and looking at the country. C. E. Hoskins has his large dry house in running order and it is doing a fine business. Rev. Wm. Hobson has gone to Iowa to attend a yearly meeting of the society of Friends. Have you taken care of your straw yet?

if not, it is time you were, as it is going to rain bye and bye. Married.-August 13, 1888, Miss Cor-they couldn't find it. They never thought about looking in the printing office. [This item is evidently a circuitious pun.-ED.] Miss Delia Stout, one of Carlton's fair-daughters, leaves to-morrow for Salem to resume her studies in the Willargette university. May Delia be prosperous at school and graduate with all the honors she deserves, is our wish. HAWK-EYE.

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, New ark, Ark., says: "Was down with abscess of lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable consumptive. Began king Dr. King's New Discovery for C tion, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

Jesse Middlewart, Decatur, Ohio, says : 'Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discov ery for Consumption I would have died of lung troubles. Was given up by my doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at J. M. Kelty's drug store.
