OCTOBER.

The pumpkin pie is yellow,
The buckwheat cake is brown,
The farmer's grey neck whiskers
Are full of thistle down. The leaves are crisp and russet, The sumac's blazing red, The butternut descending Is cracked upon your head.

The rabbit is cavorting
Along the gloomy slope,
The shotgun of the sportsur
Eliminates his lope.

The butterfly's departed,
Likewise the belted bee,
The small boy in the orchard
Is up the apple tree.

The county fair is blooming,
The circus is no more,
And on the polished brass dogs
We make the hickory roar.

The trees wear lovely colors, In beautiful excess; All nature seems to rustle Just like a new silk dress.

The pop-corn soon will pop, And Christmas things enliven The window of the shop.

Sing hi! for merry autumn, Sing ho! for autumn gay, Whose pretty potpie squirrel Among the branches play. For now no merry bluebird Upon the rose tree toots, And autumn, golden autum Serenely up and scoots.
