PUTTING AWAY OLOTHES fow to Take Care of Summer Clothing Through the Winter Season.

Although the putting away of the uch labor or time as the winter, yet the careful housewife knows that any actual moon we wanted—the pale, care expended on this work now is silver crescent, or the golden harvest amply repaid when the clothes are above us in the clear sky from our Some women who are extremely care ausery window. So far above us! All when putting away winter cloth's. Yes; that is, after all, the grand secret are very careless in regard to summer clothing. If there are woolen goods well as in later years. What we desire among them, such as soft, light-weight tannel, so popular nowadays that a person's wardrobe is not thought to be complete lacking a suit of this kind for longer the moon itself we want as a summer wear, they are treated in the plaything; we are content by that time same careful manner as those of the winter, but the rest of the summer garments are but indifferently cared lent housekeepers, who when putting away wash dresses, such as lawns, but he passes them carelessly by, mashed, starched and done up, so that and fixes his eyes and longings on an when taken out in the spring they only need an airing to make them ready under foot the red roses of life which for use. This is not a good plan, for clothes put away in this way are sure in his eager search for a blue ross H2 to cut Clothes of this kind should is a man of one idea, and that a foolish not be starched, but if they are, as in one, and the will-o'-the-wisp that he the case of being ready to wear, and follows leads him over marshy ground the change of the season forbidding it, and into many dangers; sometimes, it the starch ought to be washed out, and may be, to his own destruction. Why the garment put away rough dry. It is it, I wonder, that this longing for the dresses are hung in a closet or the unattainable is so strongly introom, they should always be covered planted in our nature? And is there with a cambric curtain. Long cambric not, perhaps, greater pleasure really bags are used by some housewives for in the pursuit than there would be even putting away dresses, and where there in the possession of the desired object is room enough, they are excellent, itself? Might it not happen that the is room enough, they are excellent, but where there is a large family, blue roses would wither at a touch, more particularly where there are children, this plan could not be followed successfully. Where a woman load Sea? How seldom one comes has a roomy house, she has very little across a person who is perfectly controuble in deciding where the clothes tented with his lot in life, who has abwhat shall be done with them. Some women, who was boarding, and was confronted with this same problem, had a the room. A soap box, covered in the same manner, answered the purpose

All garments needing repairs should be mended, if possible, before putting away. It seems a little thing, and it is to place them away just as they are, trusting to mend them early enough in the spring. Usually there is so much to do at the latter season that the repairing of summer clothing is wholly forgotten, and only remembered when wanted for use. There are few things as discourging to a housewife as a pile of summer clothes waiting repairs when her time is required for other work, consequently, if the summer mending is done ere putting away, it will not have to be done after the spring cleaning, when the housewife is exhausted in body and mind.

It must be a sad thought at the end of a wasted life to look back on all the long years misspent in a vain craving for something unattainable, and to think of the many tangible blessings we have left unheeded as things of small account.

It is of no use then to recall the loss and the might have been, and in that clearer light which will come to us all then, we shall see but plainly the insignificance and folly of our dreams. It will seem so foolish then to have spent our lives in pursuit of a shadow which always eluded our grasp, and those wasted years will never, never return to us. From the summit of the steep hill we have climbed to the summit of the steep hill we have climbed to the summit of the steep hill we have climbed to the summit of the steep hill we have climbed to the summit of the steep hill we have climbed to the summit of the steep hill we have climbed to the content and the climber of the summit of the steep hill we have climbed to the summit of the steep hill we have climbed to can see, ere we feel to the same as a pedestrian at Elegan to the same a

A Gotham Fairy Tale.

"You see," said a Broadway car conductor, as he registered two fares on the indicator in response to three just received, "it isn't as easy for us conductors to cheat the company as the public seem to think. We are required," he continued, "as he collected five fares and rang up three in a buoyant manner, "to obtain five cents from every passenger, and then to register each fare on the indicator. Of course," in open boxes for the traveler to help.

A VALUABLE MEDICAL TREATISE.

The edition for 1889 of the sterling Medical Annual, known as Hostetter's Almanac, is now ready, and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the United States, Mexico, and indeed in every civilized portion of the Western Hemisphere. The Almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for over one-fourth of a century. It combines, with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calendar with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of liostetter's Almanac for 1889 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighbornood.
