

WEST SIDE TELEPHONE.

McMINNVILLE, TUESDAY, JUNE 29, 1886.

McMinnville needs a public park and needs it badly.

A lively interest is manifested with regard to a county fair. Let it continue.

We have hopes that the state election returns will all be in time for the meeting of the next legislature.

Rioting and bloodshed still continue in the east. Chicago was the latest scene. Railroad men on a strike.

Yamhill will have a live delegation in the next legislature; consequently her interests will be closely looked after.

Miss Cleveland, sister of the president, has accepted a position on the editorial staff of the Literary Life, of Chicago.

The eyes of the world are turned upon Gladstone. It is not at all unlikely that home rule will soon prevail in Ireland.

Joe Simon, the Oregon Judas. Fire him! Let him "stand not on the order of his going, but go at once." The people of Oregon demand it.

Collections of internal revenue during the first eleven months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1886, amount to $107,104,485, being an increase of $3,402,836, over receipts for the corresponding period the previous year.

There never was a more silly claim than that the defeat of a part of the republican ticket was due to Mitchellism. Mitchell never had a more faithful supporter than McBride, yet the cyclone didn't thresh the ground with him.—Eugene Register.

Mr. W. L. Jones has purchased the interest of Albert Tozier in the Hillsboro Independent and will now run that paper by himself. Mr. Jones is a good journalist and issues a spicy, live, local paper. May your bark steer clear of breakers, Bro. Jones.

Salem will have a bridge across the Willamette. At the special election Friday for incurring an indebtedness, the vote stood 663 favoring it and 21 against it. The citizens of the capital city have acted wisely in this move and their action will meet the approval of the entire west side district, at least.

The Fitz John Porter bill that has been hanging fire so long in congress has at last been disposed of, having passed the senate by a vote of 30 to 17. Thus a man who proved himself worse than a known traitor at a time when the country was in peril is reinstated to the position from which he was removed by the martyred Lincoln and placed on a level with those who fought to maintain what he sought, through negligence and indifference, to destroy. In opposing the bill the old war-horse, Logan, summed the matter up these few words: "So, if men want to be paid liberally by the United States, they have only to be treacherous when they should be true. If you are true when you might be treacherous, you are vetoed." "That," said Logan, "is a strange thing to take place in this country."

California papers assert that the first campaign of Gen. Miles against the Apaches is a failure. The San Francisco Report says that every one of his command is now in camp awaiting orders, and the Indians are left masters of the situation, and in full strength, in the field on murder intent. It says, what the next move will be even Gen. Miles himself seems not to know. Apprehensions exist that Indian outbreaks will be numerous and murder and rapine will prevail in many portions of the territories. Fears are also entertained that the Indians on the reservations, who have heretofore been quiet, will become uncontrollable and join the Apaches in their raids. The moral effect of the failure of Gen. Miles to kill or capture any of the Indians must be very bad. The critics of Gen. Crook are beginning to realize that they did him injustice.—News.

A good neighbor takes us to task for our article regarding the Oregonian's claims that "Mitchellism" was the cause of the republican defeat in this state, as he says we were defending Mitchell. Such is not the case as our friend will see by reading carefully what we did say, which was this: "While we do not purpose entering the lists as a defender of Mr. Mitchell, we do think the Oregonian is mistaken, as we believe the 'Mitchell issue' did not enter into the canvass except with a few. Cornelius was beaten 3600 votes while Mars-ton was only 1400 short. Unless some other causes operated to produce their defeat both should have received the same vote. Again, Herrmann was elected by 1400 majority, and he was understood to be a friend of Mitchell, while McBride, McElroy and Baker, who the Oregonian says were understood to be anti-Mitchell men, were elected by 300, 500 and 800 majority respectively." We think that perhaps some votes may have been lost because of the dissatisfaction created by the election of Mitchell, but not enough, to have produced the result claimed by the Oregonian. No, we are not fighting in Mitchell's behalf; only to show the inconsistency of the Oregonian's claims.

RATHER CAUSTIC.

"The Daily Campaign, which was run at McMinnville by Yamhill republicans during the late canvass, crowded itself to over the result and died with a 'I told you so, and I did it,' sticking in its chancicler throat; but out of its ashes has risen a new semi-weekly, of the republican-to-the-cervical-and-lumbar-vertebrae-stripe. The new venture is called the SEMI-WEEKLY WEST SIDE TELEPHONE, which our readers will notice is stealing the livery of the West Side to serve the republican party in. During the canvass the Campaign upbraided us with being a 'strader' on political questions, but they do not hesitate to appropriate our name in their new paper, knowing that it will add to its popularity. Messrs. Talmage & Turner are editors and publishers. Alphabetical A. V. R. Snyder wields the repertorial quill, while it is generally thought that J. C. Cooper has a finger in the editorial pie dished out to the readers semi-weekly. The TELEPHONE is a good paper and we wish it a long life and great prosperity, and as it has seen fit to appropriate the name of the West Side, we hope that it will do nothing that will bring discredit upon so fair a name."—West Side.

Fret not thy gizzard, Bro. Parry; there is as much difference between the two papers as there is between a white horse and a black one, hence there is no danger of getting them confounded. We are obliged to you for your complimentary mention; but we want you to understand that "west side" extends further than Polk county. If you felt aggrieved at anything which appeared in the Campaign you should have "showed up" while its editor, Mr. Cooper, was showing the quill. Now then, neighbor, now don't talk so cross any more. We are but a tender plant, you know, and you might give us a shock from which we could never recover. Now, Billy.

HON. DAVID DAVIS.

In the death of Judge Davis, of Illinois, who breathed his last on Saturday morning, at his home in Bloomington, Illinois, another of the old school politicians of the country has passed away. His death was not unexpected. Several weeks ago he was reported to be seriously ill with a carbuncle, and when first attacked he expressed apprehensions as to the result. He was a native of Maryland, and a little over seventy-one years old. He was one of the early settlers in Illinois, says the News, locating in Bloomington in 1836. He was a Whig in politics in his earlier years, but his political life was mainly confined to holding judicial positions. He was made a judge of the supreme court by President Lincoln, the appointment being purely a personal one on the part of the president, who had the greatest confidence in Judge Davis' integrity and political conservatism. Judge Davis was elected to the United States senate in 1877 by a political combination which, it was asserted, was a republican trick in order not to have him chosen as a member of the electoral commission, as it was generally conceded he would be if he remained on the supreme bench. The Judge never became a very active senator, though at one time he filled the position of president of the senate and ex-officio vice-president. He generally voted with the democrats, though occasionally he acted with the republicans. He always seems to have regarded himself as a kind of conservative influence necessary to preserve the equisope between the partisans of both organizations, and usually did his best to hold things level. He was immensely wealthy, made so by fortunate investments in early life in Chicago and other Illinois real estate. He was one of the largest landholders in the state. He leaves a wife comparatively young in years, whom he married a short time before he retired from the senate.

President Cleveland has been fishing again. If the old fellow is determined to fish we object to his using worms for bait. We Oregonians believe in going it with a fly.

KICK THEM OUT.

When a man, speaking in public, advocates murder, arson and robbery, he ought to be dealt with exactly as if he had committed those crimes. The anarchists and socialists who publicly advocate murder or robbery are more guilty than the ignorant and vicious fellows who, following their advice, proceed to kill, burn and rob.

The socialistic leaders are too cowardly to do what they advocate and advise. They take care of their own loathsome carcasses. When danger threatens they hide like rats, and their poor, ignorant dupes are left to suffer the consequences of their crimes.

condiary vermin should be locked up in the penitentiaries or driven out of the land.

They denounce our government, these foreign scum. They deride our flag, these pestilent outcasts of Europe. They threaten the lives, property, peace and happiness of our people, these loathsome and vicious fiends. We have laughed at their vapors for years, but recent events have shown that they are dangerous, and it is time that they should be dealt with promptly, firmly and without mercy. They must be taught that this country is not a refuge for thieves and assassins. The American people, however much or widely they may differ upon these questions, will be united as one man in demanding that the scoundrels who openly preach murder, arson and robbery shall be dealt with as enemies of the republic and as dangerous disturbers of public peace and order.—Atchison Champion.

Our Neighbors.

Amity.

June 28, 1886. The prayers of the righteous prevail. Welcome rain! We have had a fine shower, lasting all the forenoon. A little late to benefit the spring crops of grain, but so salubrious on garden truck.

J. W. Biedwell has been hauling lumber with several teams during the last week, to build additional room to his extensive warehouse.

Amity has proved a complete success in producing a number one sewing machine agent, born and raised at this place. Any one wanting a first class original machine, will do well to apply to Grant Smith, of this burg.

Mrs. Getchell has just built a neat addition to her boarding house, which is for convenience as well as appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sanders, Mrs. Theo. Jeffries and several other members of the Baptist church have just returned from attending the association held at East Portland. All report a very interesting time.

Ponoma grange for Yamhill county met at this place Saturday and adjourned to meet at North Yamhill on the 2d Saturday of July, at 10 o'clock.

The Masonic picnic held here on the 24th, was a success both as regards number and as to the arrangements. The game of base ball played between the North Yamhill club and a picked nine, was won by the former by a score of 15 to 9—a very creditable game.

Mr. E. R. Harrison and wife have just returned from the Grove. They went to attend the funeral of Mrs. Nellie Griffin, who was buried on the 23d. Mrs. G. was a sister to Mrs. H.

Phil. Armstrong and wife, former residents of this place, but now residing at Salem, visited their many friends at this place on the 24th. It was Phil's first visit for years.

Uncle Stanley Umphlet's smiling countenance was again seen on the streets last week after a protracted siege of the rheumatism. We always miss the old veteran at such times.

We have had two very successful terms of writing school, taught here lately by Misses Newell and Young. These has been marked improvement made among the scholars.

MORE ANON. Lafayette.

June 26, 1886. Our town is quiet and consequently local items are scarce.

The body of little Roy Brown was found Thursday evening near where it sank, by Mr. J. E. Hembree, instead of by a diver from Portland, as stated in the TELEPHONE. His remains were buried yesterday from the residence of Dr. Calbreath, the funeral being largely attended. His heart-broken mother came down from Buena Vista and was present at the funeral. She and all other afflicted ones have the heart-felt sympathies of the entire community.

Messrs. Hobson and Vickery, of Newberg have purchased the stock of merchandise of Peter Hagey, Mr. V. is moving to this place and will run the business while Mr. H. will remain at Newberg.

County Clerk Briedwell will soon move into the house one block north of the court house built by Mr. Snyder. The place is receiving some needed repairs.

Let us note some of the new improvements: L. Kimberlin is building a house and barn on his five-acre lot; Ed Perkins has built a very neat barber shop; R. P. Ungerman, a neat dwelling; Mr. Vickery, a barn; Suiter & Daniels, a new cleaner building; L. G. Suiter, a new barn; while a number of additions are being made to residences. Dr. Poppleton is talking of erecting a $6,000 residence. You see we are waking up.

The TELEPHONE is highly spoken of by all who see it. May success attend your efforts.

Bellevue.

June 26, 1886. Fall sown grain in this section is looking well, but a good shower would not be out of place.

The Thursday evening prayer meetings are usually well attended.

Mr. Milan, the gentleman who accidentally shot himself some time ago, is improving rapidly.

Rev. C. C. Bell, of the U. B. church, preached his farewell sermon last Sunday.

Miss Ora Warren, of your city, spent several days visiting relatives and friends at this place, last week.

The school closed Thursday, the 24th inst. Miss Smith the efficient teacher has given good satisfaction and leaves many friends at Bellevue.

Miss Hobart, of W. T., is visiting her friend Miss Etta Powell, of this place. The young ladies will spend the present week on the beach at Nestucca.

Sheridan.

June 25, 1886. The carpenters and painters are putting on the finishing touch to "Dad Potter's" addition to his house.

H. T. Graves lost a fine horse last week worth $150, only sick a short time; also M. M. Mendelhall lost one; cause was inflammation of the bowels.

The apron to the bridge has been laid with new plank and strengthened by putting in additional stringers.

Mr. A. L. Talmage and wife made Sheridan a pleasant call one day last week, in the interest of the TELEPHONE.

We regret to hear that Capt. Lafolett was very bad last night. He goes to Portland again to-day for medical treatment. We fear that the captain's disease is more serious than many think.

Miss Ida Potter came home from school, at Salem, Friday last.

Our school directors are in a quandary about where to put the new school house. Hurry up gents and put it down in some good place.

Everybody going to the coast next week. The town will be deserted except a few old coons.

Doc. Fields has striped his office red, because he could not get his candidate elected.

OLD BLUFF.

The County Fair.

A portion of the county fair executive board met at Firemen's Hall, last Friday, June 25, at 2 p. m., and was called to order by S. A. Manning, temporary chairman.

After some interesting remarks regarding the subject, a permanent organization was effected and the following were elected officers: Dr. J. F. Calbreath, president; S. A. Manning, vice-president; A. V. R. Snyder, secretary; Hon. J. C. Braly, treasurer.

Messrs. Wm. Galloway, F. W. Redmond and Dr. E. E. Goucher were elected managers of the fair.

Messrs. Wm. Campbell, Elsie Wright and C. Grissen appointed soliciting committee.

On motion Mr. P. M. Scroggins, of Sheridan, was added to the executive board.

Moved and carried that a committee of two be appointed to make arrangements with Mr. J. R. Derby for the grounds. Messrs. Braly and Redmond were appointed as such committee.

The managers were instructed to report to the executive board, at their earliest convenience their plan of procedure.

Moved and carried that when we adjourn it be to meet on Friday July 2, at 2 o'clock p. m., and that secretary notify members of the board at that effect.

After adopting a form for heading subscription list and liberal sums had been subscribed by several, the meeting adjourned.

THE NARROW GAUGE LINE.—Wm. Reed, president of the Portland & Willamette Valley railroad, yesterday returned from a trip over the line between Dundee Junction and Elk rock. He says that a greater part of the trestle work on the road is finished. The bridge over Rock creek, 1800 feet long, is just completed, and is the costliest piece of work on the line. Two bridges are yet uncompleted; those which span the Chehalis and Tualatin rivers. Eight bridges are fully completed and ready for the rails. Between Elk rock and Dundee the road is graded for 24 miles of the distance, and rails are being distributed along the line. In all about 400 men are at work.—News.
