NOTICE.

have engaged the services of Mr. A. Saylor to take charge of our local editorial departments. He needs no introduction to the people of Yamhill.

OUR AGENTS.

Those wishing to subscribe for the phone may do so through the following persons: Kelly, Lafayette; V. Sappington, North Yamhill; Castle, Sheridan; A. Graves, Amity; Simpson, Bellevue; Davis, Wheatland; Williamson, Wheatland. Agents at other points in the county be announced soon.

TELEPHONE WHISPERINGS.

How pleasant. 16 to 20 cents. He no sabe him name; him all same. Work progresses on Judge Cows' new te. Miss Clark has been quite ill, but is better. J. Collard's truck has received a coat of paint. Mr. S. F. Harding has been re-appointed notary public. The Central is not closed as was stated Tuesday's Oregonian. Wood is cheap. Good 4-foot fir can be bought for $2 per cord. Morgan Bros. & Henderson's new truck is out ready for the line. Mr. W. J. Sargent, of Bellevue, paid pleasant call, yesterday. No liberty car is mounted and being ready for its occupants. Mr. C. R. Cook has the contract for building the Happersett house. The Indian War Veterans meet at North Yamhill, to-day to elect officers. An irritated crowd made it lively for seven days on B street, Tue-day. The young cavaliers are preparing to give our people a treat to-morrow. Some of the main features of the parade, to-morrow, will be the fire department. Green peas and green apples is what makes the average young American up to a jack-knife. Several of the band boys will leave it away after the ball to-morrow evening for Nestucca. Mr. J. J. Collard was quite ill the part of the week, but is again able to attend to his duties. Jim Pattly says he really believes "the gun is ruined." We presume many Shobe hopes so. Mrs. H. C. Edwards has had a protracted spell of sickness; but we are glad to see her out again. Carl Young will sing the "Star Spangled Banner" during the exercises at fair grounds, to-morrow. Boys, to be patriotic you must lie awake all night to-night so as to hear the teen guns at sunrise. See? The committee on decoration invite who can, ladies and gentlemen, to come to-day and help them decorate. The Mother Goose Lancers will appear at the Fellows warehouse in the eastern part of town, to-morrow at 2:30 o'clock. Messrs. L. H. Cook and E. B. Fellows secured a cannon for the army and navy, for to-morrow. Don't get in front of it. The Firemen's Ball, Saturday evening will be the event of the season, simply because the laddies know how to make such. It is pleasant to be treated to a good apple from last year, the first of the year. Rev. J. Hoberg was the donor. As the Sheridan cavalry have consented to be here to-morrow, let them receive royal treatment at the hands of our citizens. Messrs. A. P. Fletcher and J. E. Hubbard, of Lafayette, with their families passed through this place Wednesday, on their way to Nestucca. J. E. Hubbard has resigned the position as Wells, Fargo & Co's agent at Lafayette, and W. W. Nelson has been appointed to fill the vacancy. Mr. L. Bettman has added comfortable quarters at the rear end of the Manning building, in which he has his store and himself and wife will reside there. There came near being a fire at the residence of Mrs. H. P. Stuart, Wednesday—the result of a gas burning out of danger, but a "right smart" scare. There are a couple of young ladies in the city who are now convinced that a strain pony won't carry double. Either of the ladies was injured by the fall. Mrs. J. L. Rogers returned from her visit at Albany, Monday. She was accompanied by Miss Ella Stites, of that city, who will remain here for a week or two. There will be about 48 in the Sheridan cavalry company at this place to-morrow. The band will not come, but several members will come with the company. In an ordinary bicycle there are 184 pieces, and all those pieces start off in different directions when a novice attempts to mount one of the eccentric machines. Mr. L. W. Harger, of West Chehalis, said us a visit Tuesday. He reports everything blooming in his section—especially the wheat crop, which, he says, never looked better. Postmaster Wiscarver went over to the blackberry patch on the Willamette, Tuesday, and from him we learn that berries are very plentiful and that the patch is full of people.

Mrs. C. P. Bishop has been on a visit to Brownsville. Don't forget the meeting of the county fair executive board this afternoon at 2 o'clock. As an evidence of the remarkable abundance of wild fruit, a lady whose veracity cannot be called into question, assures us that she picked ten gallons of wild blackberries in less than two minutes. Nimrods may now shoot deer if they get a chance, as the close season ended Wednesday. They must be careful, however, about shooting or destroying grouse, pheasants and quail before the 16th. Exchange: S. G. Dorris has gone to Prineville where he has a band of horses which he is going to bring into the valley for sale. After disposing of the stock he proposes to start a paper at Lafayette. The evening train on her up-bound trip Tuesday evening run over and killed two horses, near Gaston. It was no fault of the train men, as the horses jumped a fence onto the track just in front of the locomotive. Chief engineer, W. G. Henderson, requests us to state that he warns all people not to indulge in firing crackers or bombs on the 3d during the time of the procession, and all firemen are cautioned to be on the alert for fires. Messrs. Wm. Galloway, F. W. Redmond, and E. E. Goucher, are the managers of the county fair. They will please remember that the executive board request them to report plan of procedure at an early date. In another column will be found where church services will be held Sunday. All are represented except the M. E. church, and we are sorry to say that the Rev. pastor of that denomination refuses to give us his announcement. At a meeting of the 12th annual session of the Oregon Universalists held at Albany last week, Mr. J. C. Cooper, of this city, was elected secretary. McMinnville was chosen as the place for holding the next convention. J. H. Nelson, Amasa Sanders, Mrs. Reung and Miss Lora Hunsaker, and the balance of the party from Amity, returned from the coast Wednesday evening. They had a good time, though it was a little wet crossing the mountains. Supervisor J. T. Jolly has the lumber on the ground, and will this morning begin putting a new floor onto the second bridge west of town. That will make it perfectly safe for crossing to-morrow in going to and from the fair grounds. A. C. Saylor has just opened the new brick kiln burned by him at this place, and is now ready to fill all orders for first-class, hard burned brick, to the amount of 200,000, and he'll have more ready when these are gone, "and don't you forget it." We went up to the Mother Goose Lancers' rehearsal yesterday and found that Mrs. Apperson, Mr. and Mrs. Fellows and Mrs. Fuller have, by untiring energy, trained the little folks up to almost a point of perfection. Those who miss this to-morrow will miss a rare treat. And now a citizen asks "what is the use of cutting thistles along the streets while they are allowed to grow on adjacent lots?" We give it up; but think that the law should compel the cutting of the obnoxious weeds wherever found. And our friend will find by reading the Street commissioner's notice that this must be done within the city limits. Remember that the TELEPHONE job office is complete and that the printers therein "play second fiddle" to none for excellence in their line of business. The large number of orders being filled prevents the printing of flaming posters to be scattered broadcast, which makes it necessary to ask you to call and examine specimens if you want good work. Prices can be no more reasonable. Major Dixon Williams complains of our criticism of his words and manner in our last issue. We only quoted his own language that he "had been a brick and don't you forget it." We made no comment upon his language; it fixes its own impression. We will say however, in justice to the gentleman that he said Sunday in his sermon that he was ashamed of having led the life he had in former years. ALLEGED OBSTRUCTION OF THE MAILS.—In the U. S. circuit court yesterday Jas. F. Bewley, an old farmer of Yamhill county, was tried before the court without jury for obstructing the passage of the U. S. mail. J. W. Kuns, who drives stage between McMinnville and Sheridan, and two of the Bewley family, had a little squabble a while back because the Bewleys were driving some hogs across the stage road, and did not do so with sufficient alacrity to suit Kuns. On a second occasion James Bewley met Kuns on the same road while driving along in a buggy and they had another tilt, and according to the statement made by Bewley, Kuns, just after he passed turned and fired two shots at him. A little girl who lives about a quarter of a mile from where the trouble occurred says she heard four shots. It is claimed on one side that each fired two shots at the other, and Kuns, to prove his story, exhibited a coat with bullet holes in it. Bewley claims he hasn't carried a pistol or like weapon in forty years, and had two credible witnesses swear they heard but two shot. Those he claims Kuns fired. Bewley is an old and well-known citizen and bears a good reputation. The case was taken under advisement—Oregonian, Wednesday. On Wednesday the judge rendered his decision, imposing a fine of $10 each on Mr. Bewley and his son for the first case. As regards the shooting, Mr. Bewley was found not guilty. STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.—There will be a mass meeting of the Sunday school workers of Oregon held in the Gospel Tabernacle, Portland, commencing Sunday, July 11, and closing Tuesday, July 13. B. F. Jacobs of Chicago, Rev. J. E. Gilbert, of Indianapolis, Rev. J. A. Worden of Philadelphia, and Henry Plumb, Esq., of Minneapolis, all eminent Sunday school workers, will be present and take prominent parts in the work of the convention. Reduced rates have been secured over the O. & C. R. R. for those desiring to attend along the line of that road.

The Narrow Gauge.

A few days ago, in company with Mr. H. Hawgood, chief engineer, and Mr. W. M. Watson, superintendent of construction, an Oregonian man went over the line of the Portland & Willamette railroad company from Dundee, Yamhill county, to that city. The distance is twenty-eight and one-half miles, and the work is now so far advanced that the expectation of the projectors of the enterprise, viz: that the road will be completed to a point within the suburbs of Portland before fall—seems based on a certainty. The history of the Oregonian Railway company's half finished enterprises in the Willamette valley, the ill-advised lease to the O. R. & N. Co., the abandonment of construction from Dundee to Portland, and the litigation which is still in progress between lessor and lessee are well known. What the Oregonian Railway Co. left undone, the Portland & Willamette Valley company are going to do, namely, give unbroken connection between Portland and Coburg, Lane county, a distance of 122 miles, and between Portland and Airlie, Polk county, a distance of eighty-one miles. A considerable amount of the grading between Dundee and Portland was done by the old company five years ago, and the work proper begins at the Chehalis river, two miles north of Dundee. The crossing is a trestle 700 feet long, 55 feet high at the lowest point in the depression, and will have a truss 76 feet long. All the piles are driven, and a large force is at work getting out the timbers and placing them in position. There is an easy grade for the next three miles to Blair creek, which is spanned by a trestle 1000 feet long, now receiving the finishing touches. At Blair creek the ascent over the Chehalis mountain begins. It is 2 1/2 miles from the creek to the top of the gap, and the grade is 76 feet to the mile. The summit is a trifle over 400 feet above low water mark in the Willamette river. The descent to the valley of the Tualatin is through Cedar creek canyon, bordered with some of the finest timber in the state, and the bottom is reached at Middleton. A short distance north of Middleton is the Rock creek trestle—a tangent 1800 feet long and thirty-five feet high. This work is completed except of course, the rails. Up to this point the line of the old company has been followed closely and nearly all of the old grade has been utilized. North of Rock creek, however, the location is entirely new, and much better in every respect than the old one. Of the entire line between Portland and Dundee, 73 per cent. is on a tangent and 13 per cent. is level. The Tualatin river will be crossed at Bridgeport, by a combination wood and iron Pratt truss, 180 foot span. Work on this structure is well under way. Except Elk rock, just above the White house, the most difficult work is the rugged country between the Tualatin and Oswego. There are several deep rock cuts of considerable length and much side-hill grading in very heavy timber. Most of the heavy work is in the mile and a quarter of Bays and Jeffrey's contract, and barring accident will be finished in four or five weeks. The company hope to have cars running to the levee by the end of October.

Wool Shipments.

So far this season there has been purchased and shipped from this place about 30,000 pounds of wool, by the following gentlemen: G. E. Detmering..... 8424 A. J. Apperson..... 4500 Bishop & Kay..... 9000 L. Bettman..... 8000 Total..... 29924 The price paid for this wool has been from 16 to 20 cents. Placing the price at 18 cents, the sum of $5,386.32 has been realized. Besides this there has been considerable goat wool handled—from 1500 to 2000 pounds. It has been asserted that the wool crop of the valley counties amounts to nothing; but when we consider that the above amount has been shipped from one point only, it shows that it does amount to considerable, and that considerable money is put in circulation, and that, too, at a time when it is most needed.

Our Churches.

Services will be held in this city next Sunday as follows: Rev. John A. Sidner will officiate at the Christian church at the usual hours, morning and evening. Instead of services being held at St. James' (Catholic) church, Rev. J. S. White goes to St. Patrick's church—on the Muddy. Services at the Episcopal church at the usual hour in the morning. Services at the Baptist church; preaching at 11 o'clock—subject: "Safe Anchorage." In the evening will be given a Fourth of July concert. Seats free; all are cordially invited. G. J. BURCHETT, Pastor. Cumberland Presbyterian church services next Sunday at the usual hours in Garrison's Opera house. Major Williams will preach at both services. All are cordially invited to attend.

Base Ball Notes.

In a game between North Yamhill and Amity, at North Yamhill, Tuesday last, the score was 8 to 9 in favor of Amity. A good game. North Yamhill and the Columbias will cross willows at North Yamhill, to-morrow. Now boys, we want you to show those city chaps what Yamhill can do. To-morrow, the 3d, a good game is promised at this place between the Amity and McMinnville clubs. The Amity boys have a very good nine and the boys here think they can get as good a one; hence there will be some sport in that line. It is quite certain that a game will be played between Portland and North Yamhill, Sunday.

Our Neighbors.

Dayton. June 30, 1886. The present cloudy days with their occasional showers are cheering indeed to farmer, and gardener. Spring sown grain and gardens were sadly in need of a bath. Born—In Dayton June 22, to the wife of Norman Baker, an eight pound daughter. The picnic at Webfoot campground last Saturday was quite an enjoyable gathering. A very pleasant programme arranged by Mr. Lewis and consisting of songs, recitations, readings and music by the Dayton cornet band was the first thing in order, then the basket lunch and amusements of different kinds were indulged in, and everybody seemed happy. A few swings and a croquet set however, would have enhanced the pleasures of the occasion. Wild blackberries in great abundance are ripe now on the Willamette bottom. Teams with their loads of vigorous humanity are daily passing through the streets heading in the direction of the region of briars, logs and marshes. Mr. Normal Baker, of Weiser City, arrived here last Friday; Mrs. B. has been here during winter stopping with her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Baxter. Mrs. Dr. McDaniel has gone to Little Nestucca for a few weeks rusticiating. Mrs. B. F. Morse returned home today from a visit to relatives in Michigan. The M. E. church building is receiving a new coat of paint. Miss Edith Harris, of Salem, has been visiting with kinfolks in this vicinity recently. The Misses Whitlow and Higgingbotham of Salem passed the Sabbath with friends here. CORNER.

Programme.

Following is the programme of the celebration at North Yamhill, July 3, 1886: Procession will form at 10 o'clock a. m., and march to the grounds headed by North Yamhill band, where the following programme will be carried out: Music by the band. Prayer by Rev. H. C. Morgan. Music. Oration by Rev. J. H. Hoberg, of Lafayette. Music by the band. Dinner. Music, short speeches, etc. Base ball, between the Columbias, of Portland, and North Yamhill club at 2 o'clock. Grand ball in the evening under management of the base ball club. Clearance Sale. I am going to leave this place on or about the 10th of July, and am going to close out. Call early and get a bargain. Mrs. H. P. STUART. Opposite the Grange store. Attention, Firemen. You will meet at the hall Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, sharp, for the purpose of taking part in the parade. W. G. HENDERSON, Chief Engineer. GUN BURST.—Wednesday evening, Johnny Shobe met with an accident that came near causing to him the loss of his left hand. In attempting to fire a load out of an old rifle the thing burst at the breach tearing the stock into fragments, and also tearing and lacerating the fleshy part of the palm of Johnny's hand. When first seen it was thought he would lose his thumb and index finger, but examination showed that no bones were injured. Dr. Goucher dressed the wound, and the unfortunate went his way rejoicing. He will probably be a little shy of old guns in the future.
