Chopping done at the Amity steam mills for $2 per ton. County Fair Executive Board meeting next Friday at 2 p. m.

No lemons in the market. Bids of 25 cents apiece made yesterday. Al Barnes has returned. He has been working on the railroad up near Dallas.

Walt Potter and George Raleigh of Sheridan, were down Saturday evening. Be more than careful with fire. Weather and everything else fearfully dry, you know.

Rev. Mr. Fair, the new Episcopal minister, preached a masterly sermon, Sunday. Rev. Soper will have a neat residence over near the college. It is well nigh enclosed.

We are under obligations to our furniture man and undertaker, E. B. Fellows, for favors. Mr. John Lake, brother-in-law of Mr. A. J. Baker, of Independence, has been here on a visit.

"Wid" Derby and wife, of Sandy, came up and spent Sunday at the old Yamhill home. Grouse have suffered since last Thursday, although we haven't heard of any heavy captures, as yet.

Mrs. Brooks Trevett and daughter, of Portland, are guests at the residence of Dr. Johnson, this city. Rev. A. J. Hunsaker, of this place, held religious services at Independence Saturday evening and Sunday.

Mr. Frank Harding and wife returned Friday, from an extended visit at Eugene, Salem and other points. Miss Frankie Powell and Zula Holman, of Portland, are visiting in this section—Miss Powell's old home.

Mrs. Hattie Jackson (nee Boncker) and daughter Maud, of Salem, have been visiting relatives at this place. Henderson Bros. have gone down 12 feet further with their well—making it 27 feet. Chandler did the "augur ing."

Died—Near the South Yamhill Baptist church, July 17, 1886, Guy Arnel, son of William Gibson, aged 10 months. Brain fever was the cause. Ladies Guild of St. James (Episcopal) church will meet at the residence of Mrs. E. A. Turner to-morrow (Wednesday) afternoon at 2 o'clock.

We were glad to see our young friend Jesse Clark on the streets, Sunday evening, after his severe illness. Jesse has had a hard battle with rheumatism. T. S. Patty has turned physician and is working wonders among our sick with some simon-pure apple brandy, that he brought from the "states" with him.

A number of our young people now enjoy an hour or two evenings in a large rope swing put up on the old dry house premises in the eastern part of town. Vede Olds and Almond Fletcher, near Lafayette, have 400 acres of wheat to cut, and will try and save it with one machine. Their binder runs night and day.

May Milan Hendrick live long and die happy is the wish of the TELEPHONE crew. The peaches he gave them came from his father's at Wheatland and were excellent. J. E. Magers, Esq., spent a week on the Trask, playing with the little fishes, before going to court at Tillamook. Look out for some big "fish stories" when he gets home.

The contract for building the brick church at Dayton, has been let to Messrs. J. T. Watson and Jacob Seiters, of that city. Mr. Seiters does the brick work and Watson the wood work. That young lady with Auburn locks should bridle her tongue while on the street, or else stay at home. We will say nothing further at this time, but if such a remark is heard again, look out.

Mr. Hoberg authorizes us to state that his blackberries are ripening, and that he will soon be ready to furnish all who wish berries of the finest and best variety at 20 cents per gallon—gallons that are gallons. Mr. L. H. Cook has associated himself with Hon. Wm. Galloway in the warehouse business. They have the Hartman-Apperson warehouses, you know and will get lots of grain when it begins to come in.

McMinnville should have a night-watcherman. Councilman Manning is ailing, since yesterday morning. Dave Caldwell and mother have returned from Sodaville. Assessor T. B. Henderson is "doing" McMinnville this week.

We noticed Hon. Geo. H. Burnett, of Salem on our streets, Sunday. Eddie Fuller has gone to Corvallis to work at the carpenter business. "Doodles" of thistles down by the old dry house; and that is inside the incorporation, is it not?

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fletcher have gone to the Willout springs for Mrs. F.'s health, which is very poor. Mrs. G. J. Burchett has been making an extended visit at Portland. She will probably return in a day or two.

Mr. J. W. Barker, surveyor for the Dakota Publishing Company, is in the city making plat for a new insurance map. The Messrs. Rowland and their families have returned from the mountains. Of course they brought some deer meat with them.

The meeting at the Hibbs camp ground, Saturday and Sunday was not very largely attended. It was too warm and dusty. Rev. J. Hoberg filled the pulpit at North Yamhill last Sunday. He will hold service at the school house near C. Obye's next Sunday.

Mrs. C. F. Talmage and daughter, Miss Ella Woods, are visiting at Ed. Duval's, in Gopler valley. Mrs. A. L. Talmage, went over Friday but returned Sunday. Mr. T. J. Price, examiner of National Banks was in the city Saturday and "went through" our bank. It is needless to say that he found everything right side up.

Sunday morning the north-east winds began to drive the smoke into the valley and now it begins to look as if we were going to have a repetition of three years ago. We hope so, it may be a little disagreeable, but then it will save the wheat. The McMinnville Gopher is at his old tricks again. This means that Chandler has gone to well digging. Anyone wanting a well can not do better than to engage him, as he does the best work in the shortest time, and guarantees satisfaction.

Our home produce market remains about the same as at the date of our last issue. Eggs have fallen 2 cents, which places them at 18 cents; butter is still the same, 35 to 40 cents per roll; wool has risen a trifle and buyers are offering 17 to 21 cents. George Owens' team attempted to take "snap judgment" on their owner the other day, while in town. Finding George was out of the wagon, they started off on a smart gallop; but he was quicker than they, got hold of the lines and brought them up standing.

The weather the past four days has been very warm and the air oppressive. Friday the thermometer stood 88 deg.; Saturday, 92 deg.; Sunday, 96 deg.; Monday, 91 deg. If it remains smoky it is not likely to give us any more "scorchers" as smoke checks the sun's hot rays. Bert Hatch, the Salem bicyclist, stopped over night at this city last Thursday night, while on his way to Portland. He was accompanied by Charles Cox. They left here about the middle of the forenoon Friday and arrived at Portland at 5:30. This is better than many teams can do.

Did you notice those streaks of light produced from a falling meteor or about 9:30 o'clock Saturday evening? They were very bright, resembling the reflection from a bright fire, and roused us from solemn meditation to almost a point of shouting "fire!" There was also another very bright one Sunday evening.

Mr. Blackburn, of Blackburn & Peckham, North Yamhill, was in Hillsboro one day this week. Last spring this firm bought several bushels of oats in the vicinity of Hillsboro for shipment to California, to be used in the manufacture of oat meal. They were pronounced the finest lot of oats ever shipped from Oregon.—Independent.

It was a disappointment to many to learn that the expected return game between the North Yamhill and the Columbians to take place to day at the Oaks, has been declared off for the present. The following from the Yamhill boys to the Columbians explains the reason: "We regret to state that we find it impossible for our nine to come together again until after harvest.—Mercury.

Ex-Gov. George L. Woods the "sneezer," delivered the Fourth of July oration at Ashland. George was raised and got his start in old Yamhill county, where once upon a time during his boyhood, after delivering a speech, his father remarked "Joe's dead, if George L. ain't a sneezer," since then he is popularly known as a sneezer. He is a good talker too.—Rogue River Courier.

"The Yamhill county fair will come off right after the state fair."—Register. You're a little mistaken, neighbor; the fair will be held just before the state fair, and it is the intention of several owners of fast horses in Portland and blooded cattle from points below to be in attendance at the Yamhill county fair and go from here to Salem to be present at the state fair.

It is quite probable that Mr. L. H. Cook will again take charge of the Central hotel at this place. One of the managers of the railroad company came up last evening to negotiate the change, but as we go to press early this morning we have not learned the result. Mr. Cook is one of the best landlords in the state and we should be pleased to see him back to his old post again.

We were favored with a pleasant call on Saturday last from Mr. H. H. Downing, county clerk elect of Tillamook county, who arrived over the mountains the day before. He has not been in good health for some time past, and came out to rec-uit up. Mr. D. informed us that on the first of July he was sick and not able to qualify and when he appeared two days later he presented his bond and the court refused to accept it. But as the present clerk, Mr. Goodspeed, does not care to hold the office another term, Mr. Downing will probably be installed into the office soon.

BASKET MEETING.—On Sunday next July 24th, at the South Yamhill Baptist church will be held a basket meeting. The exercises will be varied and interesting, as follows: Sermon at 11 a. m.; Sunday School following; basket dinner. After dinner will be a children's missionary band concert, followed by a short sermon on missions. All are cordially invited to attend this meeting, and none should neglect to take their basket filled with provisions.

Dr. G. F. Tucker, of this place, C. B. Wiley, of Sheridan, J. L. Watt, of Amity, and J. M. Kelly, of Lafayette, attended the Grand Lodge of United Workmen as delegates from the lodges of their respective towns, last week. Many of our Nimrods don't see the use of farmers posting their lands against trespassers. Here is the reason, in the main, expressed to us by a farmer, the other day: "It is not because we envy the hunters the birds they get; but many of them thoughtlessly shoot cats that are in quest of field mice, hogs, etc., and knock our fences down." It does not take long to see the justness of their action.

Mr. Bowers, representing the Gutta Percha hose company, will donate $100 to the state tournament fund, to be competed for by hose teams, as a special prize in the three-hundred-yard wet test contest. We regret that our hose team does not belong to the association, as a run they took the other evening demonstrates the fact that they can "fly" when they want to and would stand an excellent chance of bringing this $100 home with them.

Councilman S. A. Manning returned from Tillamook Friday evening, looking as hearty and ruffled as a bear, though he was very busy all the time while over there. He reported the balance of the Yamhill boys over there all "O. K." At the last election Tillamook county went solidly republican, and Mr. Manning says he never met a more gentlemanly and straightforward set of men than her officers—especially Mr. Cooper, the county judge. Mr. I. T. Maulsby, the gentlemanly and proficient attorney, is still there attending to the wants of all those in need of a legal light, in a safe and reliable manner.

Messrs. P. P. Gates, J. E. Hubbard, A. P. Fletcher and Dr. Calbreath, of Lafayette, with their families returned from Nestucca, yesterday, after a good long stay. While there Messrs. Gates and Fletcher captured two fine elk; they had all the fish they wanted, found nice camping places in sight of the dashing billows of the old Pacific, and returned looking a little brown but rugged, and feeling splendid. They brought home with them a little fawn, that was admired by all who saw her; and the antlers from the elk they captured were large and in their coats of velvet looked really beautiful. Messdames Hubbard and Fletcher remembered the TELEPHONE, and the boys enjoyed the jerked venison hugely.

ELDER G. O. BURNETT.—Many old Oregonians will be pained to learn of the death of Elder Glen O. Burnett, which occurred recently at Santa Rosa, Cal. He was a self-denying and faithful minister of the Christian church and universally beloved. Many a hundred miles has he walked in counties adjacent to this, preaching in churches and school-houses, mainly "without money and without price." He left a substantial memorial, years ago, in the shape of a good endowment of land for the academy at Bethel, Polk county. He died full of years, aged 76, in the blissful hope of immortality. He had long been ready for his release. Peace to his ashes.—Statesman. Mr. Burnett has numerous relatives in this section, and all of our old settlers were acquainted with him.

A. O. U. W. OFFICERS ELECTED.—The following officers of the grand lodge A. O. U. W., were last week elected for the ensuing year: Grand Master Workman, J. T. Brown, Washington lodge No. 9, Olympia, W. T.; Grand Foreman, G. T. Russell, of Home lodge, No. 24, of Oakland, Or.; Grand Overseer, J. T. McIlmoy, Vancouver lodge, No. 77, Vancouver, B. C.; Grand Recorder, D. T. Wheeler, Alki lodge, No. 33, Seattle, W. T.; Grand Receiver, R. L. Durham, Hope lodge, No. 1, Portland, Or.; Grand Trustee, of the unexpired term of H. H. Brodeck, of Walla Walla, deceased, W. J. Plymale, Banner lodge, No. 23, Jacksonville, Or.; Trustee for term of three years, Geo. H. Durham, Pacific lodge, No. 17, Portland, Or.

DROWNED.—As some men from Cham-pog were on their way to the coast last Saturday, they camped on the west side of the Smith bridge near Carlton. A young man named Eberhart, aged about 17 years told the balance of the party that he would take a bath while they got dinner. When dinner was ready they called him, and receiving no answer they sought him; found his clothes near the water and his body on the bed of the Yamhill river, dead—he having drowned. His grandfather was with him, and the party returned home at once with the remains. We understand that the drowning occurred at the same place that young Fouts was drowned, about a year ago.

CINCH 'EM.—The mail carrier between Grand Ronde and Sheridan failed to "show up" the last few days. The contract is held by the Northwestern Stage company, who sub-let it to a private individual. This is the company that has been gobbling up all the mail contracts at ruinously low prices, and then fishes around for a "sneaker" to whom they manage to sub-let them. They have contracts governing over 400 miles in Oregon. They deserve to be cinched, and that they'll be, too.—Itemizer.

ADDING A DAY.—There is now talk of adding another day to the fair, making four days in all. This fourth day will be given to base ball, Fremen's contests, &c. &c. As we understand it, it will not belong to the fair, proper, but will be gotten up by outsiders, who will furnish the funds for premiums and other necessary expense, charging a small entrance fee to those who wish to attend. The idea seems to us to be a good one. The time of the first three days will be taken up mostly in awarding prizes to the meritorious stock, and articles on exhibition, to the exclusion of sports such as those mentioned above, which many would like to see.

Dr. G. F. Tucker, of this place, C. B. Wiley, of Sheridan, J. L. Watt, of Amity, and J. M. Kelly, of Lafayette, attended the Grand Lodge of United Workmen as delegates from the lodges of their respective towns, last week. Much has been said during the past ten days or two weeks regarding the government vs the Yamhill Lumbering company. Some said that the company had been sued for $40,000; others said it was $50,000, and so the report went. Wishing to get at the merits of the case we interviewed Mr. J. J. Shipley, the company's secretary, who gave us the following information: Several years ago one Jim Green homesteaded a piece of land, in the vicinity of Petch's mill, upon which was some very good timber. This timber he sold to Messrs. Ball & Daniel and they in turn sold it to the Yamhill Lumbering company. Green lived on the land the length of time required by law and went down to prove up on it. But about this time some excitement was caused by the alleged finding of silver on his claim and the law would not allow him to make his proof for the reason of the mining clause. Not long after Mr. Greene left the country and everything remained quiet and serene until one Andy Lane makes a move to homestead the land, which he was unable to do, as men are still "digging" on the claim. He then, for some reason enters complaint against the Yamhill Lumbering company for "taking timber off government land." An agent for the government came up and took evidence concerning the matter, but no further action has been taken; nor does the company feel any uneasiness in the premises. If this Green were here, and there had been anything crooked in the transaction he would be amenable to the law; but he is gone, nobody seems to know where. And if there is anything in the case as is alleged, Ball & Daniel will be the sufferers, as it was they who bought the timber of Green and not the Yamhill Lumbering company. Mr. Shipley says they have enquired carefully into the subject, and think there is nothing in it; that he thinks more spite work than anything else prompts the action and that it will all blow over without any further alarm, though he does not know this to a certainty.

A Conductor Taken In. "A good story is told on Shan Conser, the well known conductor on the East Side division of the Oregon and California Railroad. A short time since he purchased five lots at Jefferson for $10 apiece. A few days since a neighbor commenced to sink a well on a lot adjoining those owned by Conser, and had delved but a few feet when he struck gold. Among smaller pieces unearthed was a very fair sized nugget. The trend of the deposit was toward Conser's claim and the discoverers determined to secure Conser's lot. Conser was soon hunted up and after a great deal of haggling the lots were sold for $100 or an average of $20 apiece. Then the purchaser told Conser that he had just sold a valuable mine and he has been madder than a wet hen ever since."—News. Mr. Conser was for several years conductor on the West Side road.

Our Invalids. It has required but three or four warm days to unsettle the usually good health of this community. The following cases have been reported to us: Mrs. Carl Young was taken violently ill Saturday evening, but is now on the mend. A little child of Geo. Gilsons was seized with convulsion Saturday, but at last accounts was improving. The little daughter of Dr. Tucker suffered a severe attack Saturday evening, but has about recovered, again. Dr. Conser's little girl was very ill on Sunday, but proper treatment brought her out all right.

Attention, Co. Fair Com. There will be a meeting of the Yamhill County Fair Executive Board at City hall, McMinnville, on Friday, July 23, 1886, at 2 o'clock p. m. As there is important business to be transacted it is urgently requested that there be a full attendance. By order, A. V. R. SNYDER, S. A. MANNING, Secretary, Vice-President.

"CRAZY" WAGON.—We have often heard of "crazy quilts" and have seen several; but never until last Friday did we hear of or see a "crazy" wagon; and it is strange, too, because the pattern is of ancient origin. No two pieces in the vehicle came from the same work-shop, nor were they alike in any respect. One wheel came from the Soudan, another from France, a third from Brazil and the fourth from Hong Kong; the front axle is made from wood taken from the Mayflower, which brought over our forefathers; the hind one from a stick taken from a portion of the old capital building at Philadelphia; the reach is in three pieces; one of these was in the cabin of Daniel Boone while he was on the east-away island; another was from a root taken from the "Charter Oak," while the third was brought from the South Sea Islands; the bolsters and standards were shipped from different portions of Europe; the springs and irons were secured from a ship that sank in 300 fathoms of water in the Arctic ocean 204 years ago; the shafts are manufactured from a portion of a gun carriage captured from the enemy at the battle of Landy's lane. The wagon is very simple in construction, and is so arranged that you can remove almost any portion of it and still have a complete wagon. We were told by those who have applied for the patent in the construction—Messrs. L. H. Cook, A. J. Nelson and G. C. Robinson—that this is the only wagon of the kind in the United States, and that as soon as they can perfect arrangements they intend to enter largely into the manufacture of them. Bro. Ireland, thinks they would sell readily; Recorder Spencer is ready to vouch for their superiority; Dr. Concher thinks so much of the model that he has already bargained for one, and if the roll were called we would be persuaded to give the thing a boost. We have explained this wagon only as described to us by those who have applied for the patent, and if we have made any misstatements regarding it we beg pardon. For further information regarding the wagon apply to the head spokesman, L. H. Cook.

About How It Is.

Much has been said during the past ten days or two weeks regarding the government vs the Yamhill Lumbering company.
